

UN Team Rejects 'Schemes'

Munsan, Korea, March 12—(AP)—Allied truce negotiators today rejected a new Red scheme to let Russia examine American secret weapons.

U.N. negotiators said the Communist plan "amounted to a forced gathering of military intelligence" by neutral inspection teams supervising a Korean armistice. Under the Red proposal these teams would include Russia.

Allied negotiators also rejected a prisoner exchange plan they said the Communists seemed "very anxious" to put over. Rear Adm. R. E. Libby said "it could be a trap." In any event, it did not include voluntary repatriation on which the Allies insist.

BULLETIN

Seoul, Korea, March 12—(AP)—American Sabre jet pilots shot down four more Red jets today, for a total of 15 destroyed in three days.

Eleven other Russian type MIG-15 jets were damaged in the three days, the U.S. Fifth Air Force reported. American losses, if any, are announced weekly.

Four MIGs were destroyed and two damaged in a seven-minute battle Wednesday morning over northwest Korea between 20 F-86 Sabres and 17 Reds.

Despite the dual rejection, U.N. spokesmen noted an improved tone in truce talks after recent days of bitter exchanges.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official U.N. command spokesman, said the Reds showed "they recognize the fact that this is an armistice in Korea" and apparently abandoned an attempt to ban Allied blockades of the China coast.

Col. Andrew J. Kinney, U. N. staff officer, said Communist indicated a desire to talk "a little further" (See TALKS, Page 2)

Chemical Corps Exhibit

Activities of the Chemical Corps will be on display in the MSC March 17-22. The traveling exhibit features continuous movies of radiological, germ, and gas warfare. A detachment of two officers and six enlisted men will accompany the exhibit.

Bloodmobile's Visit Brings Big Student Participation

By JERRY BENNETT
Battalion Staff Writer

Blood donated by students and local residents may help save a soldier's life within a week.

All blood given yesterday and today will be shipped immediately to the Armor Company in Fort Worth where it will be made into plasma then sent for use in Korea in a week's time, said Dr. Joe Cox of Bryan.

Dr. Cox is one of the many local doctors who are donating their time to aid the Red Cross bloodmobile which is operating out of Beaumont. Because the unit was unable to supply an attending physician, Bryan and College Station doctors are working in shifts, checking donors who have colds or sore throats to see if the illness is serious enough to prevent their giving blood.

The bloodmobile is set up to take care of nine persons every fifteen minutes. Although this quota is sometimes delayed by donors who for some reason fail to meet the requirements for donating blood, the work so far has been going smoothly, said Mrs. Clifton C. Doak, wife of the head of the biology department, who is also helping.

Several persons have been turned away because they ate lunch while others who were scheduled for the early part of the afternoon were refused for having used cream butter for breakfast, she added.

Although the bloodmobile, located in the YMCA is a scene of calm professional efficiency, the atmosphere is neither cold or impersonal.

While donors move from table to table giving their identification, having their temperature, blood pressure and hemoglobin count taken, until the pint of blood is actually drawn from their bodies, they are treated with a respect and friendliness that relieves all fear and doubts they might have.

"Everybody is so nice, your ego becomes inflated and you feel good all the time you're there," explained Lew Jobe, senior business major. "I had almost forgotten how nice people can be," he added.

Easy to Donate

Gerald Marshall of Victoria, was surprised to discover how easy donating your blood actually is: "I had heard they strapped you down on the table and when it was all over you weren't able to make it back to the dorm." "It's not like that at all," he admitted. (See BLOOD, Page 4)

Promote Good Will

During their visit to the United States the Danish officials hope to promote international good will between Denmark and this country. Ranks of the delegates include those of ministerial, general, field and company grade.

Heading the list of guests will be His Excellency Erick Lindgren, Danish under-secretary of defense; Maj. Gen. S. E. Johnstad Moller, chief and inspector general of the Home Guard; and Lt. Gen. Jacobson, director of personnel and organization of the Danish Defense Ministry and Major R. S. Anderson, chief of staff of the inspector general of infantry.

An Aggie-ex, Lt. Col. Charles H. Jones, Jr., will be on hand as representative of the Office of Reserve and ROTC Affairs Department, Washington, D. C. Colonel Jones is on the staff of Maj. Gen. Hugh M. Milton II.

Following the parade, the visitors will leave for San Antonio.

Hillel Club to Hear BAFB Cantor in 'Y'

A meeting celebrating Purim, the feast of Lot, will be held by the Hillel Club tonight in the YMCA chapel.

Featured on the program, which will begin at 7:15 p. m., will be Private Morris Chotin of Bryan AFB, a cantor who will sing several liturgical songs in connection with the feast. Chatin was a member of the St. Louis opera before entering the service.

An historical presentation of literature in keeping with the spirit of the festival will be made by Bob Braslau, Harvey Lewis, and Marvin Zatz; according to Mrs. J. J. Taubenhause, sponsor of the Jewish students group. Bennet Kalmans, president of Hillel, will also participate in the program.

Mothers of the Houston members of the club will provide refreshments for the meeting, which will be open to the public, Mrs. Taubenhause said.

'Aggielands Ready' First of Next Week

The Aggieland '51 will be distributed the first part of next week, announced Bibb Underwood, Aggieland editor. The exact time of distribution will be announced later.

All students who were in school last year will present their ID cards at the desk in the Student Activities office on the second floor of Goodwin Hall to receive their annual.

Among the 490 pages in the Aggieland '51 is a special section commemorating the 75th Anniversary of A&M. This section, entitled "75 Years of Progress," has 18 pages. It was written and designed by George Charlton.

Major Sections

Other major sections in the annual are Sports, 85 pages; Classes, 100 pages; Activities, 85 pages; and Military, 106 pages.

The Sports section contains articles on all Aggie athletics of last year, with pictures. In the Class section are pictures of the members of each academic class, including group pictures of class officers and individual pictures of the presidents.

Various military activities of the school year, organization pictures, and photographs of the top-ranking cadet officers are in the Military section.

Ike Wins All 14 Votes, Kefauver 12, In N. H.

Manchester, N.H., March 12—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower hammered out a complete and overwhelming victory over Sen. Robert A. Taft in the New Hampshire primary today, and Sen. Estes Kefauver smashed the Democratic state party organization, defeating President Truman.

It was the nation's first primary election. The results, in both the Democratic and Republican contests, came as a stunning surprise, both to the victors and the defeated. Eisenhower swept the popular vote, and won all 14 GOP delegate races. Kefauver overwhelmed Truman by a comfortable margin, and also won all the 12 delegates, who have eight convention votes.

With 273 of the state's 297 precincts reported, the tolls were:

Eisenhower 39,533; Taft 30,115.

With 274 precincts reporting, Kefauver had 18,347 and Truman 15,122.

Eisenhower's margin nearly doubled the most optimistic prediction of any of his followers. That was 5,000; most estimates less than 2,500.

As to delegates, the consensus before the election was that he would take 12. Sen. Taft had said he would be satisfied to win four.

In terms of pre-election forecasts, Kefauver's victory over the President was even more stunning. The Tennesseean made modest claims—but not for a victory—in popular vote, and said he believed he would win "some delegates."

In Frankfurt, Germany, Eisenhower said, when told the returns "any American who is honored by so many other Americans considering him fit for the Presidency should be proud, or, by golly, he is no American."

Kefauver—Elated

Kefauver said, "I am entirely elated over the results. I don't think this is a protest vote against President Truman, because in general I agree with Mr. Truman." The Senator added that he intends to enter as many primaries as possible.

Neither the President, vacationing in Florida, nor Sen. Taft, campaigning in Texas, made a statement.

Taft's campaign leaders conceded defeat shortly after 3 a. m. (EST). F. E. Johnston, secretary of the state's Bob Taft Club, declared "New Hampshire Republican voters have expressed their de-

800 Students Here Friday for HS Day

An expected 800 high school seniors from all over Texas will begin arriving on the campus Friday afternoon as guests of the college for Saturday's High School Day and Sports Day activities.

Those visitors arriving Friday may register at Guion Hall anytime before 5 p. m., according to Pete Hardesty, business manager of Student Activities. Registration will continue Saturday morning at 9 a. m.

Transportation to the college will be provided by former students living in areas from which students have been invited. Members of campus home town clubs selected those students receiving invitations, and will provide housing for the students during their visit.

"In view of the large number of students expected, registration and an orientation meeting, formerly scheduled to be held in the Memorial Student Center, have been moved to Guion Hall," said Spike White, director of Student Activities.

In the orientation meeting at 9:30 a. m. Saturday, President of the College M. T. Harrington will extend a welcome to the visitors. The meeting will also include short talks by student leaders in academic, athletics, and activity fields.

From 10:30 until 12 noon the visitors may attend the guided tours of the academic departments or may visit with home town friends. Guides have been appointed by all the various departments for those students interested in looking over specific departments.

Those students who are undecided as to what they would like to study may attend the tour set up at the Basic Division, which will give the student an overall picture of the school's academic offerings.

Mentalist Polgar Appears In Guion Show Tomorrow

America's greatest mentalist, Dr. Franz J. Polgar will present his inspiring show "Miracles of the Mind" when he performs at Guion Hall Thursday night.

The performance will be divided into three sections. Mental gymnastics and telepathy will comprise the first two portions of the show while the third and longest part will be devoted to hypnotism. The audience will be allowed to participate in this part of the show in which Dr. Polgar will use them both as assistants and subjects.

Dr. Polgar assures his subjects that a person will not do anything while under hypnosis that he would not do otherwise.

Polgar, a native Hungarian, attracted the notice of Perenzi, a psychoanalyst friend of the great Dr. Freud. Dr. Freud, hearing of the young man's possibilities, invited Polgar to come to Vienna and participate in some of his classes.

It was a Professor Nemeti in Budapest who was perhaps the greatest influence on the hypnotist's life because he taught him the basic techniques of hypnosis and mental development.

While in Europe, Polgar had the opportunity to meet and observe the trickery and charlatanism of Hanussen. This trickster later became infamous as the astrologer who bolstered Hitler's sagging ego. Polgar is one of the few men who knows the inside story of the tricks used by this wizard.

When he came to America young

Polgar had to start at the bottom. He first worked as a waiter in speakeasies, but soon advanced to giving demonstrations of his abilities as a mentalist and hypnotist.

It was then that he realized his potentialities as a great entertainer.

Today he is one of the most popular one man shows in America.

Entertainment Purpose

Entertainment is the prime purpose of the show although Polgar will attempt to explain some of the techniques he uses. As well as being an entertainer, the hypnotist is also a student of psychiatry and the scientific uses of hypnosis.

Tickets for Thursday night's performance are being sold through the Student Activities Office and will be available at the door. Admission will be 50 cents.

Public Relation Head to Speak AT AVMA Ball

Louie E. Throgmorton will be guest speaker at the annual Veterinary Ball and Banquet, Saturday, at 7:30 p. m. in the MSC Ballroom, Ralph Rowe, AVMA reporter, said today.

Dance music will be supplied by the Prairie View Orchestra. Tickets for the event are available at $1.50 per person.

Throgmorton, a graduate of the University of Arkansas, is vice president and director of public relations of the Republic National Life Insurance company of Dallas.

He was at one time president of the Shreveport Grand Opera Association. Since becoming a Texan he has served on many civic projects which included chairmanships of the Cancer Control Day, the Umpires' Appreciation Day, and the Baylor Hospital Building Fund Drive.

Throgmorton delivers over 100 addresses each year to various civic and professional groups throughout the South and Midwest.

Members of the veterinary faculty and AVMA members are invited to attend, Rowe said.

Corps Review Set For Danish Guests

A full dress review by the Corps of Cadets will highlight Friday's activities honoring 15 top Danish representatives who will be on the campus to inspect the military training life at A&M, Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant, has announced. The review is set to start at 3 p. m.

The Danish officials will arrive here Friday at 10 a. m. They will tour the campus, examining the military facilities here in an effort to gain ideas which will be useful in establishing ROTC units in their country.

One of Many Stops

A&M is only one of many stops which the foreign delegation will make on its trip across the United States. During their travels, the Danish officials have inspected Army, Air Force and Navy ROTC units and facilities at leading colleges and universities in this country.

Following their arrival, the foreign visitors will be taken on a complete tour of the campus visiting class rooms, and dormitories. A portion of the officials will be guests of President M. T. Harrington for luncheon Friday while the
