

Ags Drop to Ohio

 ilton, who advanced to third on an error.

A hit, pass ball and a deep fly, netted the Ohioans the winning run in the top half of the ninth.

The Aggies made a good stab at tying up the ball game in their part of the ninth, but terrific play by Ohio's first baseman Sachs, killed the Cadets attempted squeeze-play. With one down, the Cadets tried to squeeze the trying run in, but Sachs came in from first and made a diving catch of Ogletree's attempted bunt, and of course Candelari was already across home, and was doubled off at third.

This game was a slug-fest affair, for the hits of both teams numbered 12 and the errors stood the same also, four.

The final game in the series was a two hit shut-out victory for the Buckeyes pitcher, Harry Schutt. The Ohio nine pounded out eight hits for five runs.

Bob Tankersley pitched eight hit

Prospects For '53

 "That leaves us with three let-temen guards and three tackles, and half of these boys won their letter playing defense too."

The Aggie mentor expressed satisfaction with the "sliding T" formation newly installed at Aggie-land this spring. He said however, he would use the tight T some next fall to make use of fullback Connie Magourik's great power through the middle.

The Aggies will probably use the spread formation again for its punting.

Platoon System

"We intend to platoon as much as possible," George said, "but it looks right now like Jack Little, Marshall Rush, Bobby Dixon and Alvin Langford will have to double up again on offense and defense.

We are short of manpower at center so we will have to work Jack Little at the pivot spot on offense and then shift him back to tackle on defense.

When questioned about his backfield which is made up mostly of sophomores and squaddens, George singled out Don Ellis for praise.

"Ellis has looked very good at both quarterback and left half," George said. "He has lived up to our expectations in spring practice, and certainly will be playing somewhere for us this fall."

George named Henry Clark, Bennie Sinclair and Paul Kennon as some of the better sophomore prospects at end; Lawrence Kinkler, John Hensley and Lonnie Martin at tackle; Ray Barrett, Marvin Tate, and Sid Theriot at guard and Leo Marquette at center.

Other sophomore backs besides Ellis who have done well include halfbacks Juan Coronado and Warren Anderson, and fullback Don Kachtik.

Defense Backs

Sophomores Joe Schero, Bob Stout, Joe Boring and Elwood Ketter have been tagged as defensive backs this fall.

The Aggie coach avoided comment on the 1952 SWC race but he did say: "On the basis of our rebuilding job, we're well on the bottom in the conference. Consider such intersectional teams as Michigan State, Kentucky, Oklahoma A&M and Houston and our chances look slim."

Answering a compliment about "how well the Aggies looked in spring training," George concluded, "We looked mighty good against ourselves, but that's not quite the same as playing such teams as Rice and Texas."

Graduation to Hit Mermen

 the 220-yard freestyle and 200-yard individual medley events. He also shared in the other number one placement as a member of A&M's conference winning 400-yard freestyle relay squad.

Bill Sargent is another valuable specialist who the Farmers will miss next season. Holding three varsity letters, Sargent's talent in the backstroke events has helped in many meets to lead the Aggies into first place position.

For the grueling grind of the breaststroke Coach Adamson has always called upon Tommy Comstock, another three-time letter winner. The durable Houston lad placed third in the finals of his favorite event Saturday night.

Ralph Ellis, captain of the Cadet swimmers, has become well known for his speed in the 100-yard and 50-yard freestyle races. Serving also as lead off man on the 400-yard freestyle relay, Ellis has been an outstanding asset during his three-year career as a varsity letterman.

John Parnell and Carroll Jones are two other seniors who have turned in valuable service during the past three seasons. Parnell was a member of the 400-yard freestyle relay quartet. Jones, who first came out for the team last season and won his first letter this year, did very well in the sprints despite his short tenure with the squad.

Coach Adamson says that he is proud of the other service these boys have rendered during their time with the team.

He goes on to say that next season may be unimpressive due to the lack of experienced swimmers, but that he has boys in the underclassmen ranks that have every potential of becoming fine swimmers.

Among those underclassmen referred to by Coach Adamson are Richard Black, John Cameron, Don Crawford, Carl Maynard, Bobby Johnson, and Craig Patton.

All of these boys saw action this season and should, under Coach Adamson's direction, prove to be the makings of a conference winning team before their graduation.

Cadets Take Meet

 dentally, was Ragsdale's 20th birthday which he celebrated aSturday.

Darrow Hooper, the Cadet's All-America shot putter, showed the form he displayed in winning the NCAA shot last year by whipping the ball 54' 5" for his best of the year. Hooper also accounted for his usual discus first by tossing the disc 159' 1", also his best of the year.

Cadet Glenn Spradlin continued to show fine pole vault form as he soared to 13' 6" for the second time in as many weeks. He was closely followed by Malcolm Marks with 13' and Don Graves for an A&M sweep. Buddy Davis barely missed 6' 6 1/2" in the high jump but still won easily with 6' 4 1/2". Graves was second behind Davis for more A&M points.

Another 10 points for the Aggies came in the mile run where Jim Blaine returned to the winning spot with a decisive win over Dale DeRouen and John Garmany in 4:23.8.

J. A. Terry of A&M raced down the home stretch in the 880 to beat teammate Ed Wilmsen but then Otis Budd of the Longhorns leaned forward to nip Wilmsen for second. Terry's time was a good 1:56.7.

Running the best time of the year in the 2-mile Cadet Charles Hudgins left the field behind on the last lap to win in 9:45. In what was the closest race of the day Aggie Charlie Gabriel apparently had overtaken Owl Henry Winston on the home stretch of the last lap for second but Winston put on a final spurt in the last 10 yards to beat Gabriel by inches.

One of the best races of the afternoon saw John Dewitt stave off a determined bid by James Baker in the 440 dash to win in 48.6 and add eight more Maroon and White points. The AG mile relay team ran their best time of the year winning in 3:20.8 with Bob Mays, Jerry Stull, Carol Libby (a substitute), and Baker.
