Aggies Clash With Cowboys In Second Gridiron Contest

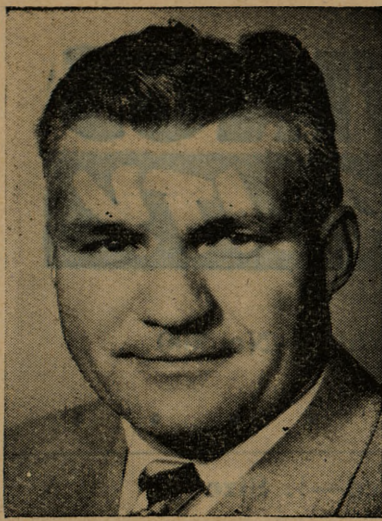

By GUS BECKER

Battalion Sports Editor
After their tough opener with the University of Houston Cougars, the Aggies step into faster competition and take on the Oklahoma A&M Cowboys, a team which is rated above the Cougars in the Missouri Valley Conference.
The game which will be played in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas will mark the seventh meeting of these two teams. Of the six previous clashes, A&M has won five while the Cowboys have been victor in only one.
A field goal by Carl Weaver of the Oklahoma Aggies was the winning margin in the Cowpokes lone win, when they won the first game of the series—three to nothing in 1913.

Both in SWC
In 1914 the Southwest Conference was formed and both the Aggies and the Cowboys were members. The 1914 game saw the Aggies bounce back and even the series, winning by a score of 24 to nothing.

Between 1914 and 1921, when the Cowboys dropped out of the SWC, these two teams met three more times. In 1919 when the Cadets had their second untied, undefeated and unscored upon team they took the Cowpokes measure to the tune of 28 to nothing.
The 1920 game saw the Aggies win by a score of 35 to nothing, the largest score in the series. In 1921 the Cadets won the SWC championship and beat the Oklahoma team 23 to 7.
When the Farmers, led by Jarrin Jawn Kimbrough, defeated the Cowboys 32-0 in 1939, it was the start of a string of victories that was to lead to the national championship.
The Oklahoma team has never scored more than seven points against the Aggies and will be trying to break this poor record when they meet in September.
Number Two in MVC
Although lacking in depth, the Cowboys are picked as the number two team in the Missouri Valley Conference and figure to be hard to stop.

Lew Ziegler, a tackle and Elmer Stout, a fullback, two former West Point cadets have won starting berths on the Cowboy squad and have plugged some of the gaps in the team.
Stout was mainly a defensive man for Army, but Cowboy coach J. B. Whitworth, has called upon him for double duty. In the ball carrying department, Stout leaves little to be desired.
Another transfer, John Weigle, from Georgia Tech, has almost cinched a starting end assignment.
The Cowpokes operate from the regular "T" formation directed by their passing ace Don Babers. Babers was number one in the Missouri Valley aerial department last year as he completed 121 of 247 passes for 1,352 yards.
Outstanding Players Back
Outstanding players from the 1951 team, which are returning are F. A. Dry at center, John Payne at guard, Skip Warren at tackle and Gene Seeman at left half.
Aggie pass defense will have to be good to keep the Cowboys from scoring when these two teams get together. The Aggies will have to up when they meet the Oklahoma team which is bidding for the MVC crown and gunning for the Cadets also.

Ray George

Aggie head football coach, Ray George, is attending the coaching clinic in Fort Worth, along with several members of his coaching staff. The clinic will be climaxed Friday night when the annual state high school All-Star game will be played. Playing in the game will be several players which George expects to have at A&M this Fall.

Catcher Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees was a Ranger during World War II. He rose from a private to the rank of major.
