

Spartans Picked For Top Honors

By GUS BECKER
Battalion Sports Editor

Michigan State plays host to the Aggies in their last non-conference game of the season, as the Cadets travel to Lansing, Michigan to meet the Mid-West's top ranking team.

The powerful Spartans were undefeated and untied last year and figure to be a prime contender for national honors again this year despite graduation losses of outstanding performers.

The main reason for ranking the Michigan State squad as one of the best is talent-laden group backs who run three deep and give the Spartans speed, versatility, and depth.

The ball carriers who should make the Spartans roll are captain Don McAuliffe, Vince Pisano, Leroy Bolden, Billy Wells, Ellis Duckett, Evan Slonac, and Tom Yewic.

Yewic, a 180 pound junior, saw service at left halfback last season, but with Al Dorow gone he is likely to become the Spartans number one signal caller.

Leading the Michigan State bid for top ranking will be McAuliffe at left half with the speedy Bolden to back him up.

At the right half, Pisano and Wells will alternate as the situation requires.

Slonac, weighing 170 pounds, is light as far as fullbacks go, but seems to be the best man.

All the backfield talent available, made coach Munn of the Spartans shift Duckett to offensive left end to support letterman Doug Bobo, a 195-pound standout wingman.

At the other end position will be 205-pound Paul Dekker who was held out of competition last year.

Back after winning second place in the shot put at the Olympic games at Helsinki, Finland, Hooper plans to rest until football practice starts in September. Hooper will be one of the few lettermen back on the football team which lost 19 men by graduation.

Aggie Star, Hooper Back From Games

Aggie track star Darrow Hooper returned last night from the 15th World's Olympic games held in Helsinki, Finland, in July.

Hooper won second in the shot put, nosed out by Southern California's great weight man Parry O'Brien, by less than an inch. Both men broke the Olympic record as O'Brien put the shot 57 feet 1.43 inches and Hooper put it 57 feet .65 inches.

Hooper participated in four other track meets while in Europe. Winning first in the shot and second in the discus in Oslo, Norway; first in the shot in Glasgow, Scotland; and two seconds in the shot in two meets in London. Again O'Brien was Hooper's big trouble.

In Oslo he received as a prize a silver spoon set and in Glasgow a silver tea set.

Hooper described the Russian athletes as professionals in that they are trained by the government at its expense. He described one of the Russian athletes as friendly and very sociable. He was Otto Grigalha, the fifth place Olympic winner in the shot put.

The Russians lived in a separate camp, held many dances and invited all other olympic athletes.

Hooper described the country around Helsinki as Yellow Stone National Park made over. Being woodland and mountainous, the paper industry is the main means of support, the towns are old fashioned as typical to Europe. The climate being cold and rainy.

The Aggie star is happy to be back home with his wife Jeannine, and son after his months tour of Europe. He plans to just take it easy until football practice starts in September.

Ping Pong Ladder Set

Bowling games department of the MSC is sponsoring a ping pong ladder for the top 20 ping pong players.

The best player's name is at the top of the list and the other players are listed in the order as next best and so on down the list.

A player must use the following rules to get his name on the ladder:

- To get on the ladder you must beat one of the last four members.
- Matches must be at least two out of three games, but three out of five or more games can be used.
- A player can challenge any of the first three players above him. If he wins, he moves up to the other player's position, and the other players move down the list one place.

- The top player must defend his position at least twice a week or he will be dropped down three places.
- Anyone who plays the top player may play free.
