A&M Needs Neglected Great Issues Course

THE "KNOW WHY" will be considered will have the opportunity to fulfill a purpose again with the "know how" this year at the University of Texas, but not so at A&M. Reason: Texas has a Great Issues course which will prove the envy of A&M and other comparable schools.

Their theme will be "The Citizen and Civic Responsibilities."

Various Great Issues topics, which attracted 1,500 students the first year offered to them, include "Democratic Ideals and Realities," "Liberal Versus Specialized Education," "Is Secular Society a Good Teacher of Citizenship?," "Political Parties- Vice Or Virtue?," "Moral Responsibility in Government," "The U. S. Or U. N.?" and others.

What does this mean? Texas students

Barter Possible With U of H?

THE UNIVERSITY of Houston's newspaper, The Cougar, recently praised the Aggie's yelling in an editorial. It said:

... The Aggies, possibly surpassed only by the United States Military Academy in their cheering (hmm?) ability, have a freshman section reserved and bolster the yells of the freshmen with those of the upperclassmen seated behind the 'Fish.' "

The Cougar suggested the development of a "male cheering section" for the Univer-

We feel the Military Academy may surpass our "cheering" but not our "yelling."

Perhaps when the Student Senate gets organized we could start an exchange with University of Houston, whereby we furnish them with a male cheering section and they in return loan us "a female yell section."

This may satisfy both sides.

Joyce Brings 'No Joy', Again

THERE'S ALWAYS a first time.

Slingin' Sammy Baugh, 38, coach and football star, completed 11 passes, two for touchdowns and threw a few left and rights at Don Joyce. Joyce is a 250-pound second year tackle from Tulane and recently of fame will be held from to 9 p. m. on from his Sept. 21 performance in front of Oct. 5, and from 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Oct. 6. The Associated Press reported the inci- will be $1.75 per person, and tick dent saying both men were ejected after "a ets for the dinner will be $2.25 per pile up in the fourth period."

Although no mention was made of a wo-"Tell me," said the Aggie, "why is it you man, one may have been present. The last fight which Joyce had in Houston with Aggies was (many persons say) because of the To Design School "respectability of a woman in question" who wanted to take off her shoes.

Proof that Aggies read reports of pro- dill, Rowlett, Scott and Associates fessional football games was evident by the as the designers and engineers of number of phone calls we received concerning Joyce's latest fracas.

Although it was Baugh's first time, we doubt that it will be Joyce's last.

LETTERS TO THE EDITORS

Sportsmanship

Editors, The Battalion: The Student Council of Longview High School would like to start a sportsmanship award in our football district. Since you present the plaque in the Southwest Conference, we thought you could give us some information about it. We would like to know who judges the sportsmanship, the point system by which it is judged,
