Ags Heavy Underdog To Wildcats Saturday

Total Reaches 221 As Filings Close

Filing for the fall elections closed yesterday with 221 candidates signing up for posts on the Student Life Committee, Student Senate and Election Commission.

Juniors led the filings with 50 candidates for their 10 posts to the Student Senate and 18 for the five positions on the Election Commission.

Next were the sophomores with 48 hopefuls signed up for the six posts on the senate and 13 trying for the Election Commission. Three sophomores also filed for positions on the Student Life Committee.

Civilian students registering for the senate on the final day were Thurman Walker and Thomas K. Burk Jr. both of Mitchell Hall; Jack Jones of Puryear; R. A. Hoffman of Law; and John David of P. G. Hall.

The three candidates for the Student Life Committee are Neil Price, Richard K. Chambers, and James Monroe Myers.

The voting box will be in the booth near the Post Office in the MSC Building. They will open at 8 a. m. Monday. The elections will run through Oct. 9.

Twenty-seven students filed for offices yesterday in a last minute rush.

New senior candidates for the Student Senate are Don Newman and F. E. Blackstock. Sophomores filing yesterday were Richard Chambers, Frederick Konig, and Neil Price. There were no new junior candidates for the senate.

Strong Defensive Line--'Cat's Threat

By ED HOLDER

The University of Kentucky will try to chop off the three game winning streak of the Maroon and White tomorrow night on Kyle Field.

Coach Ray George's Aggies are heavy underdogs in their first home game of the 1952 season, as they play a team rated last year as one of the nation's best.

Babe Parelli, two year All-American quarterback of the Wildcats, is missing from the visitors line up, and this will hurt them considerably.

A running, passing quick-thinking quarterback, Parelli was lost through graduation, and has left Coach Paul Bryant searching for a man big enough to fill the vacant spot.

Only six seniors are on the Kentucky squad. The remainder of the team is composed of 15 juniors, 29 sophomores, and 9 freshmen.

From the Aggies comes, we will have to play a hard ball game if we want to win.

Coach Dalton Faircloth, assistant backfield coach, answered this when asked "Who's going to win?"

"They have a very aggressive ball club. In fact it's one of the hardest hustling teams I've ever seen," Faircloth said.

"When I scouted them, I noticed that their strongest point seemed to be a very good defensive line," he added.

Graves At Quarterback

Connie Magourik and Don Kachlik will share the fullback chores. Both these men are hard runners, and are good at bucking the center of the line.

At ends for the Maroon and White will be big Darrow Hooper and Eric Miller, Hooper is the conversionist deluxe who has a perfect record so far this year.

He is also the man who broke the ice against the University of Houston by snagging a pass in the end zone from Ellis.

Miller a Threat
Miller is constantly a threat to the defensive backfield of any team. His aggressive pass catching has opened up many breaks for A&M.

Durwood Scott and Bobby Dixon will start at tackles. Both have improved greatly over last year, and have given the offensive line some weight and power so badly needed.

The "Twin Terrors" Sidney Theriot and Marvin Tate will get the nod for the guard slots. These two sophomores have turned in good performances against the U of H and Oklahoma A&M. They were outweighed in both the games by at least 15 pounds per man.

A&M Delegates Attend SWC Meet Monday

A five-man committee will represent A&M at the Southwest Conference Sportsmanship meeting at TCU Monday.

Representing A&M will be John (Dukey) Childs, senior yell leader; Frank Manitzas and Joel Austin, Battalion co-editors; Gene Steed representing the Student Senate; and Harri Baker, journalism major from Memphis, Tenn.

The A&M delegation will ask for the appointment of Baker as executive secretary. The person holding this office is responsible for keeping all records of the committee, sending notices of meetings to members and carrying on business for the president and the organization between meetings.

The Argie delegates will also present four other recommendations to be considered: 1) More publicity about sportsmanship and the rewards it brings to the student body and school. 2) The possibility of establishing sub-committees for sportsmanship on each campus to aid the regular committee members in their overall work. 3) Limiting the length of prayers before football games, and 4) Encouraging more stress on sportsmanship for inter-sectional games.

At its meeting Monday the committee will discuss sportsmanship problems concerning the various

Tank Painters Remain Unknown

Col. Davis, Commandant, stated that he had nothing further to report at the present time concerning the prankish daubing of three medium tanks with blue and gold paint sometime Monday night.

Damage to the tanks, still on a railroad siding and still the responsibility of the railroad company, will amount to an estimated $1,500, when cleaning and repainting costs are considered.

Weather Today

Four Reunions Scheduled In MSC Today

Four class reunions are scheduled to be held in the MSC starting today. Those represented are the class of '22, '42, '37, and '07.

Celebrating their 30th anniversary is the Class of '22 of which President Harrington is a member. The former students will register today at a formal reception. Lunch will be served to them in Sbis Hall tomorrow.

An informal get-together is scheduled at the president's home from 3 to 5 p. m. on the same day. A class dinner will take place afterwards at 6 p. m. in the MSC.

The Class of '37 will open its 15th anniversary Saturday morning with a stag breakfast in the Center.

Reunion activities also are planned to celebrate the 45th anniversary of the Class of '07.

Having their first reunion since graduation will be the Class of '42. Their activities will start Friday and last until Sunday morning.

The first floor lounge of the MSC will serve as reunion headquarters for the expected 500 guests and their wives. All the classes will sit together in a special section at the football game.

Traditions Committee Passes New Resolutions

In their first meeting of the year, the traditions committee of the senior class adopted for the approval of the class a procedure by the Silver Taps ceremony.

Don Greaney, chairman of the committee, read the recommendations made by last year's committee and after amendments were added it was accepted by the group.

The procedure will be that the group adjutant will appoint one man to each building in the vicinity of the Academic Building to see all lights are turned out in that building.

MSC Concessions Set for Weekend

Food and novelty concessions will be provided by the MSC before the A&M-Kentucky game, Saturday night, announced J. W. Stark, director of the MSC.

Students placed at various spots around the MSC will provide a "fill-in" food service at various spots for guests attending the game. In order to serve those guests unable to eat before the game, box suppers will be sold at these concessions.

Five Exes Continue Job Training In Florida
Four June, 1951 graduates of A&M recently arrived at Pinecastle Air Force Base, Orlando, Florida to begin the second phase of their jet pilot training.

JC Conference Starts Monday

Between 80 and 100 administrators from more than 40 junior colleges in three states will begin arriving at A&M Sunday to attend the ninth annual Junior College Conference.

Dean J. P. Abbott of the School of Arts and Sciences, which sponsors the annual conference, said, "this year's program is one of the best programs we have developed for the conference so far."

Outstanding educators and administrators from the colleges and universities all over the country will appear on the two-day program.

Consultant to the conference is Dr. Ralph R. Fields, director, division of instruction, Teachers College, Columbia University. A native of Prescott, Ariz., Dr. Fields has served outstandingly in a score of educational positions, and in April, May June of this year he visited technical colleges, county colleges and folk schools in England and Denmark.

Opening Address
Dr. Fields will give the opening address during the first general session of the conference, with Dean Abbott presiding. Dean of A&M College David H. Morgan, will give the welcome address.

Dr. Robert B. Morton, chief of the Clinical Psychology for the Veterans Administration Hospital at Houston will speak on "Personal Counseling and the Junior College Student."

Dinner speaker Monday evening will be Clarence Faust, president of the Fund for the Advancement Ford Foundation.

Dean Emeritus T. D. Brooks, of the A&M Graduate School, will preside during the third general session.

Visiting administrators will be divided into three study groups primarily concerned with academic, vocational and personal counseling, programs in agriculture, and engineering and semi-professional programs.

'Hospital Without Ambulance' -- Marsh

Wednesday night the truck now being used as a utility vehicle and ambulance by the hospital failed to start because of damp sparkplugs when called on an emergency, he said.

"A&M doesn't have an ambulance. It would cost us about $8,000 a year to have an ambulance," the college physician said. "All we have is an old Army truck which was used here during the war. Now it is worthless and in poor working condition."

Trade Requested
Dr. Marsh explained he had asked last year that a panel truck be obtained for the College Hospital. The truck could be used for hospital utility work and to carry patients on stretchers, if needed, he asserted.

"I told W. H. Holzmann (comptroller)," Dr. Marsh said, "we needed a better truck and to see if we could trade in the old Army vehicle and get one which would prove dependable."

Ike Over Adlai By Big Margin At Consolidated

Another group has been heard from in The Battalion's running poll for election year.

Eisenhower was favored 126 to 22 over Stevenson by the high school students of A&M Consolidated in a poll taken by Les Richardson, superintendent.

The students indicated that their parents favored Ike 214 to 58 over Adlai. Only nine students had no idea whom their parents were going to vote for.

According to the student poll, only five of the parents have not paid their poll tax. However, 88 students did not know whether their parents had paid poll tax.

ID Needed At KU Game

All students must bring their student identification cards to the A&M-Kentucky game Saturday night in order to gain admission, according to the Office of The Dean of Men.

ID cards may be picked up at the Registrar's office prior to noon Saturday for the benefit of students who did not obtain their cards at registration time, said Bennie A. Zinn, assistant dean of men for student affairs.

The ticket office reported that a total of 9,580 tickets have been sold for the game another 3,000 are expected to be sold today.

An estimated 25,000 people will be on hand for the Saturday night battle.

Midnight Yell Practice Slated

Midnight yell practice will be held in The Grove Friday night from 11:30 until 12 midnight, Tom Collins, head yell leader has announced.

The midnight yell practices will be regular events each Friday night before a home football game, Collins said.

A Ordnance Wins Grid Sign Contest

A Ordnance took first place honors in the weekly sign contest sponsored by Eugene Rush, College Station insurance man.

Squadron 5 placed second. Prizes of $5 for first place and $2.50 for second will be given.

Heading the contest committee was Corps Chaplain O. C. (Putter) Jarvis. Representatives of each division were also in the committee.

Nation's No. 1 Band Ray Anthony Kicks-Off Town Hall Series Monday

By JERRY BENNETT
Battalion News Editor

Town Hall will hold its first program Monday night with Ray Anthony and his orchestra as the starring performers.

Anthony, his trumpet, and orchestra will present a concert of pops and dance tunes which have placed the group in their top position in the music world. Vocalists Tommy Mercer, Marcie Miller, The Skyliners and the Anthony Choir will be along to add lyrics to the Anthony instrumentals.

Voted "The Nations Number One Band" by the National Disk Jockeys Poll, Anthony's orchestra and singers are famous for their recordings in addition to their many personal appearances in night clubs and hotels throughout the country.

Two changes Anthony and other band leaders made in styles of dance music are responsible for his rise to fame. Until recently or-chestrations were taking a back seat to vocals resulting in the decline of good straight dance music. Anthony along with Billy May and others have taken steps to put orchestrations back in their top position and use vocalists only for variety.

Bop Rhythm
In addition to an abundance of vocalists, good dance music was also disappearing in favor of "bop" rhythm. Anthony's style of music is completely "bop-less," the principal theme of the songs being emphasized.

Town Hall patrons will probably hear Anthony lead his 17 piece organization in such numbers as "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue," "Your Driving Me Crazy," "Young Man With a Horn," "Tenderly," and "Stardust." His own compositions which include Anthony's Boogie, "Mr. Anthony's Blues" and "All Anthony and No Cleopatra" will also probably be heard on the program.
