'Army, Navy and Air Force Work Together in Southwest'

FORT WORTH, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Secretary of Defense is beginning "to ride herd on the military services," Lt. Col. Rush Gibbs of the Air Force said yesterday.

Gibbs is chairman of the Southwest Armed Forces Regional Council of the Munitions Board. He addressed a joint meeting of the council with the Southwest Regional Defense Mobilization Committee.

He said the Air Force, Army and Navy have learned to work together in the Southwest. He also reminded the groups that the last session of congress "put teeth into the 1947 unification act."

Members of the two groups heard reports from representatives of government agencies of defense procurement activities.

'STOOD IDLY BY'

Baylor Newspaper Denies Student Riot Participation

WACO, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Baylor student newspaper denied yesterday that a crowd of youths, including Baylor students, fought officers and damaged property while a city bridge burned.

The Lariat said 100 to 200 "gay and light-hearted students" just watched firemen stand "idly by" at the blaze.

Police and firemen have said 300 to 500 youths, many of them Baylor students, threw rocks, brickbats and clods at firemen and policemen as the bridge burned Friday night.

They also accused the youths of slashing a firehose with knives and attempting to overturn official cars. One free-swinging lad, they charged, knocked an officer's hat off. The Lariat denied all this.

In chapel yesterday, Baylor President W. R. White said only 12 to 15 youths were involved in the burning of the wooden bridge. White said there was no intention of attacking officers.

Repairs were underway on the bridge and traffic was blocked off.

Crippled Kids Fund Started

Christmas cards are being sold by the College Station Lions Club to raise funds for the Texas Lions' Crippled Children's Camp.

Members of the selling committee are Dr. John Milliff, chairman, Don Young, and Don Hood.

Sets of cards will be sold primarily to members of the Lions Club, but others may buy cards if they wish, according to Milliff.

Lions Clubs all over the state are working on the project. They expect to raise twenty thousand dollars for the camp.

Located near Kerrville, the half-completed camp will open in June of 1953. It will be open to crippled children only, between the ages of seven and 17. No charge will be made for the two week camping period.

Appointed CO

Col. Parsons was a senior engineer instructor at A&M before being recalled to active duty in April of last year.

Lincoln High Gets Vocation Training

Vocational training for Lincoln High School has recently been approved by the Texas Educational Agency.

Negro high school students will be taught carpentry, millwork, painting, masonry, and concrete finishing as a part of their public education.

"There is a considerable demand in this area for skilled workers of this type," said E. E. Escoe, teacher of the new class.

Escoe, who received his Master of Science degree from Prairie View A&M College this summer, went on to say that a major portion of each school year will be spent by the students in actually constructing a residence for some negro family in College Station.

Escoe was formerly industrial arts teacher at Lincoln.
