Window Shot

Unexpected Interruption In Shower

Bill Kalil, junior geology major, was interrupted from his shower last night when an object believed to have been fired from an air rifle shattered the shower window on the third floor of Dormitory 4.

Kalil said he was bathing when he heard a pop immediately followed by the sound of crashing glass. When he looked at the window, he saw the glass was shattered.

At the time both the inside and outside windows were raised. Upon examination a small hole was found in the outside pane while the top corner of the inside pane was shattered.

Ted Yaggi, junior from Daingerfield, said the glass looked as if it might have been pierced by a pellet or B-B fired from an air rifle.

Weather Today

The War Department notified yesterday Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Atmar, 736 Meadowlane, that their son, 1st Lt. Gerald L. (Jerry) Atmar had been wounded while serving with the Army in Korea.

The previous day, the Atmars here had received a letter from their son telling them of his condition. He was wounded in the left knee and hip, right leg, and eyes. He went to Korea in March. He was graduated from A&M in June, 1951.

A forward observer, Lt. Atmar had been directing fire when he was wounded by a grenade. His condition is not serious.

He praised the South Koreans, Atmar said. "In his letter home, he called the South Koreans wonderful little men. They took care of him for 18 hours after being wounded and had dressed his wound."

Lt. Atmar is now in a hospital in Hwaschon.

CLEAR
WEATHER TODAY: Clear. The high yesterday was 75 and the low 59.

She will represent the two schools on various occasions throughout the year.

Miss Clifton, secretarial service major from Memphis, Tenn., is secretary of the College Government Association and a member of the Aglaian Club. She has been active in Class Stunts and belongs to the Campus League of Women Voters. Last year she was vice-president of the Tennessee Club.

Psychology major from Arlington, Tenn., Miss Herring is president of the Philomathia Club and vice-president of the Psychology Club and was on the Dean's list last year and her freshman year. DIRECTS LAWMAKERS—J. Glenn Turner of Dallas, president of the Texas Bar Association, is directing the meeting of the organization being held here today and Saturday.

Defects of Texas Election Law Draws State Bar Here

By JOE HIPP
Battalion News Staff

The directors of the State Bar Association held their first business meeting in the MSC Assembly Room this morning.

Presiding over the session was State Bar President J. Glenn Turner of Dallas. Another meeting will be held this afternoon from 1:30 to 5 and Saturday from 9:30

Ags Leave To Choose Sweetheart

The Aggie Sweetheart Selection Committee leaves for TSCW tomorrow to select a winner from a group of 12 nominees named by TSCW girls.

A&M's sweetheart will be presented at halftime at the SMU-A&M game in the Cotton Bowl Nov. 8.

Representing A&M will be Joe Mattei, president of the senior class and chairman of the committee; Charles Scott, vice president of the senior class; Charles Blank, senior class social secretary; Weldon Krueger, colonel of the corps; Gene Earl Steed, second division commander; and Bruce Gibson, third division commander.

Regimental commanders included on the committee are Shelton Black, Bill Highsmith, Charles Hornstein, and Don Garey.

Representing The Battalion will be Frank Manitzas, co-editor.

Also on the selection committee are Bill Henderson, non-corps yell leader and Lamar McNew, MSC Council president.

Nominees for sweetheart are from the three upperclasses at TSCW. The girls were selected as nominees at individual class meetings where balloting was held for these positions.

The committee from A&M will ballot on the new sweetheart Sunday after the social functions planned for the two groups.

The A&M delegation will be accompanied to Denton by W. D. (Pete) Hardesty, business manager for Student Activities.

The Aggie Sweetheart will be announced Tuesday.

Lt. Atmar Wounded At Korean Front

The War Department notified yesterday Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Atmar, 736 Meadowlane, that their son, 1st Lt. Gerald L. (Jerry) Atmar had been wounded while serving with the Army in Korea.

The previous day, the Atmars here had received a letter from their son telling them of his condition. He was wounded in the left knee and hip, right leg, and eyes. He went to Korea in March. He was graduated from A&M in June, 1951.

A forward observer, Lt. Atmar had been directing fire when he was wounded by a grenade. His condition is not serious.

He praised the South Koreans, Atmar said. "In his letter home, he called the South Koreans wonderful little men. They took care of him for 18 hours after being wounded and had dressed his wound."

Lt. Atmar is now in a hospital in Hwaschon.

a. m. until noon in the Assembly Room.

Turner was asked by Gov. Shivers to select a board of scholars and experts who will devote their time and energies toward removing the defects from the Texas election law.

"The election code needs to be re-evaluated and reconsidered by scientists in the field of jurisprudence," Turner said. "The State Bar is anxious to assist in the administration of justice and will consider carefully the provisions Gov. Shivers has outlined as in need of clarification, amplification or correction," he added.

Shivers' Suggestions
In a letter to Turner, Shivers said these problems should be studied:

- Whether it provides for cross-filing of candidates is one of the questionable features of the code.
- Lack of clearness on whether the deadline for candidates to file for a place on the ballot is also the deadline for payment of the filing fee.
- The formula for determining filing fees can not be applied to the office of lieutenant governor, and therefore, there is doubt as to what the correct filing fee for this office should be.

Other Points

- Absentee voting for the second primary starts before the returns of the first primary are certified by the executive committee.
- The date on which reports of campaign expenditures must be in the secretary of state's office needs clarifying.
- It is not clear whether a vacancy on the ballot must be filed if the nominee of a convention or primary withdraws.
- It is not clear how many loyalty affidavits are required of the candidates. Is one required for the primary and also the general election?

Fourth Army Inspects Here

An inspection team has arrived from Fort Hood to look over various Army equipment here on the campus, Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant said today.

This team, appointed by the Fourth Army, also will inspect all other ROTC units throughout this area, Davis added.

The inspection, he went on to explain, is not part of the annual Federal Inspection, but will be one of the several periodic surveys made by ordnance, signal, and other teams during the school year.

Picture Schedule For Non-Regs Set

Now having their pictures taken for the '53 Aggieland are the non-military students.

All non-military students will have their pictures taken at the Aggie Studio in College Station by the following schedule: all students whose surnames begin with D-F, Oct. 8-10; G-K, Oct. 11-13; L-M, Oct. 15-17; N-Q, Oct. 18-20; R-U, Oct. 22-24; V-Z, Oct. 25-27. Students whose surnames begin with A-C should have had their pictures taken Oct. 3-6.

Students are asked to wear coats, white shirts, and ties.

8. Moving the primaries to an earlier date has been suggested.

Turner said he will suggest to the directors that prominent members of the various law schools over the state be asked to undertake this task of revamping the Texas election code.

Other business to be heard today is the report of the building committee. The association has purchased land two blocks north of the state capitol in Austin on which they plan to build a $150,000 structure to house the State Bar Association. It is being financed through donations from State Bar members.

There 21 directors representing the 21 congressional districts of the state here. The directors are elected by the lawyers in their district.

Some 1,200 lawyers are members of the Texas State Bar Association. Members of the group that arrived on the campus early Thursday evening were pleased with the facilities of the MSC.

For most of them it was their first sight of the A&M campus. "The campus and the spirit of the cadets is amazing," Turner said. "Are you always like this?"

Civilian Election Draws 422 Votes

Nine Student Senators and three members of the Student Life Committee were elected by non-military students in a general election held in the MSC yesterday.

Four hundred forty-two cast their ballots compared to the 443 cast by the seniors in Wednesday's election. The seniors still hold the record of having cast the most votes. Only 384 juniors voted while 395 sophomores made it to the polls.

Elected to the senate were Raymond Rushing, Bizzell Hall; H. H. Jones, Puryear Hall; John D. Rice, Post-Graduate Hall; Lamar McNew, Francis Fishback, Day Students; Doyle Lowrey, Law Hall; Jack (Spud) Mergle, Mitchell Hall; Darrow Hooper, College View; Bill Maddox, Vet Village.

Army ROTC Issued Rifles

Rifles have been or will be issued to all Army ROTC students, Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant said today.

These rifles were used in drill Thursday and will be used on other drill days, he added.

Students will keep the rifles either in their room or in the dormitory's gunroom, Monday through Friday. In that way, the colonel continued, cadets can learn the nomenclature, proper care, and cleaning of the weapons. On the weekends all rifles will be turned in and kept in the gunroom.

COs Meeting Monday; 'No Show' Thursday

A commanders' meeting in the YMCA Chapel last night was dismissed and rescheduled for 5 p. m. Monday, Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant, said.

Lack of commanders was the reason for not holding the meeting, Davis added.

Cadet Gridsters Head For Michigan State

State Coach Fears What TV May Do

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 10—(AP)—Biggie Munn is worrying and wondering if his unpredictable Michigan State football team is going to try to do it the hard way again against A&M Saturday.

Michigan State has won 17 in a row. But in eight of the last 11 games the team had to break a tie or come from behind to win.

Munn admit it's exasperating.

"But it must be awfully exasperating to our opponents, too," he added.

"They do it the hard way, but they do it," Munn said. "They seem to have hearts big enough to get out of any hole once the chips are down."

Munn is hoping that Michigan State will turn out to be a "television team" Saturday.

This is the first Michigan State game to be televised to a national audience since the Spartans met Notre Dame toward the end of the 1951 season.

Were Great Then
With the television cameras watching, Michigan State operated like a murderous precision machine, played what was termed "a dream game" by the sports writers and won 35-0.

Some of the players are just as unpredictable as the team. Fullback Dick Panin, a starter last year who bolted the length of the field for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage against Notre Dame, has been dropped to third man at the position.

Billy Wells, a second string "pony" back last season has been the leading ground-gainer and edged out Vince Pisano, a senior, for the starting position at right half.

Captain Don McAuliffe, consistently good at battering out yardage, has retained starting honors at left half.

Michigan State has been preparing its defense for a wide-open Texan passing attack with Quarterback Ray Graves expected to do the tossing.

Aggies Rated 14-Point Losers

Without a word, Coach Ray George's A&M football team left yell practice last night for Houston, the first stop of a 1,500 mile trip to East Lansing, Mich. and its game with the Michigan State Spartans.

Rated a 14-point underdog by The Associated Press, the Aggies have been described as "youthful but not capable of matching Michigan State in experience, manpower or savvy."

The Corps of Cadets held a special yell practice last night before the team left by bus for Houston. The team will fly tomorrow morning to East Lansing.

Game time is 12:50 (CST).

A&M-State Game

Radio, TV Starts 12:50

The A&M and Michigan State football game, which will be telecast over a nation wide network, will be carried by Houston television station KPRC-TV beginning at 12:50 p. m. Saturday.

The game also will be telecast by a Fort Worth TV station.

Radio station WTAW will carry the game also.

Christian Youth Leader Speaks Here Sunday

Kirby Page, nationally known Christian youth leader and author, will appear at both the A&M Christian and A&M Presbyterian Churches under the joint sponsorship of these two and the A&M Methodist student groups Sunday.

Dr. Page and local religious leaders will meet Sunday at 4 p. m. to discuss techniques in developing personal religious disciplines.

At 6:30 p. m. the Presbyterian Student League will be host to the community in a brief song and devotion service after which Dr. Page will speak on "Living Creatively in Days of Crisis."

Dr. Page is the author of 24 books and 12 pamphlets. Included in these are "Living Abundantly;" "Living Prayerfully;" "Living Creatively;" and "In Creative Revolution of Jesus: Then and Now." His books have been translated into 12 languages.

An ordained minister in the Disciple of Christ, Dr. Page is a native Texan and has spoken in more than 400 colleges and universities.

His tour is being sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee.

Local Demos Meet Monday In Courtroom

Local Democrats held the second of a series of weekly meetings for Stevenson and Sparkman in the Brazos County Courtroom Tuesday night.

The group decided to meet regularly at 7:30 p. m. each Monday night in the courtroom to give everyone interested an opportunity to obtain facts about the campaign and receive literature and buttons, Judge W. S. Barron, chairman, said.

Heading the Stevenson-Sparkman $5-campaign here, Barron explained contributions from corporations, labor unions, or firms having government contracts could not be accepted.

Individuals of such organizations, however, may contribute if they desire, he added.

Campaign officers for this area are Barron, B. H. Dewey Jr., vice president; Mrs. Emmitt Wallace, secretary; Mrs. Clifton C. Carter, treasurer.

800 Fullbright Awards Offered

About 800 Americans will have opportunities to undertake graduate study or research work abroad under the terms of the Fullbright Act during the 1953-54 academic year.

The awards will enable students in all fields of graduate work and those with specialized research projects to study in many foreign universities and institutions.

The scholarships will be made for one academic year and will include round-trip transportation, tuition, a living allowance and a small amount for necessary books and equipment. The grants will be made in the currencies of the respective foreign countries.

Any students who are interested in applying for a scholarship under the Act should see Dr. G. W. Scesselman in Room 112 of the Chemistry Building, the Fullbright adviser at A&M. They will be able to obtain information about the grants and application blanks there. The closing date for receipt of applications is October 31.

Ag Injured In Rodeo Released From Hospital

James Ragland, freshman from Mission, was released from the College Hospital yesterday. He had injured his back when he was thrown from a horse at the All-Aggie Rodeo Saturday, said Dr. J. E. Marsh, college hospital supervisor.
