Ag. Eng. Seniors Plan ASA Officers Now Take New Posts

Thirty six senior agriculture engineering students will leave Sunday, Oct. 12 for the Annual Fall Inspection Trip to Dallas and vicinity.

On Monday, Oct. 13, the group will go through the Ford Automobile Assembly Plant and will then spend the remainder of the day inspecting farm machinery, tractor, and automotive exhibits at the State Fair.

On Tuesday the group will spend most of the day in the vicinity of McKinney inspecting the flood control work being carried on by the Soil Conservation Service in that area.

Build Dams

This organization is building a number of earthen dams on small rivers and streams in the area for the purpose of controlling runoff during heavy rains.

The students will be given an opportunity to see the construction of the dams in all stages, as well as the completed structures.

The final event for the trip will be a tour through the branch offices and warehouse of the John Deere Plow Company Tuesday afternoon.

Make Trip

The following students will make the trip: G. L. Black, W. S. Blair, J. J. Bohuslav, C. P. Briggs, C. G. Chandler, F. X. Coronado, L. F. Ernsted, F. E. Platt, J. L. Fulbright, R. B. Gibbs, W. R. Hale, G. S. Hare.

H. J. Holley, D. M. Jennison, R. J. Lavender, E. W. LeFevre, O. L. Lewellen, J. W. Mann, G. D. Martin, I. W. McCarty, K. W. Monroe, W. C. Nelson, F. O. Placke, B. W. Powell, K. F. Schwarz, A. L. Shumbers.

N. O. Smith, H. G. Williford, I. L. Winsett, C. D. Young, R. K. Ford, Aloe Ylisis, Kerim Beecer, Pedro Perez.

The American Society of Agronomy officers took over their posts recently for this year.

The officers elected are: President Glenn Black; Vice President Harold Scaif; Secretary Bobby Henderson; Treasurer Leonard Thornton; reporter Pat Hitt; Parliamentarian Tom Payne; Faculty Advisor Clarence Watson; and Representative to Agriculture Council Tom Payne.

At the last meeting, Curt Goode and Pat Hitt were elected to represent the Society at the National Convention at Cincinnati in November.

Dale Fischgarbe, who is national treasurer, also will attend the meeting.

Any student interested in agronomy is urged to attend the meetings, President Black said.

Dr. H. E. Hampton of the agronomy faculty staff showed the cotton tour slides at the meeting. This tour is made each year by three seniors and a Faculty member to various parts of the American hemisphere. They qualify by competitive examinations, the highest three having the honor of going on the tour.

Texas Land Prices Reach New Peak In '51

Land prices in Texas reached a new peak in 1951.

The state average jumped from $49.95 in 1950 to $62.15 in 1951, the report of the agriculture experiment station of A&M showed.

The report noted that Texas voters had approved a constitutional amendment to furnish a revolving fund of 100 million dollars to enable veterans to buy farms at low, long-term interest rates.

The program started in 1950 with 25 million dollars.

The report said: "If these additional funds should be loaned at a rate equivalent to that of the first 25 millions, the veterans program would become the dominant factor in the land market in many areas, if not in the state as a whole. The consequences could only be inflationary in a market which is already booming."

Increased land prices in 1951 were attributed to the high price of cotton, together with the pre-season removal of acreage allotments, and greatly expanded activity in oil and gas leasing and development.

Prices went up in all but two of the State's 17 major type-of-farming areas. In the Grand Prairie the average price dropped 13 per cent and in the high plains and trans-Pecos grazing area a decrease of 22 per cent occurred.

The report said drought conditions probably influenced prices in both areas.

Prices went up the most in the north-central grazing area, with an increase of 65 per cent. The coast prairie registered a 61 per cent increase; the Edwards Plateau and central basin, 46 per cent, and the Rio Grande plain, 31 per cent.

New Club Started; Krueger President

The Building Products Marketing Club was organized in a meeting held recently, Jack Steel, the club's sponsor said. The club elected Doyle Krueger as its president. Other officers elected were James Gregory, vice president; Walker D. Guthrie, secretary-reporter; Fred E. Burns, program chairman.

The next meeting of the club will be held Nov. 6 when the members will be addressed by W. A. Mathers, of the Celco-Tex Corp. Meetings will be held on the first and third Thursdays of each month and will have speakers at each meeting.

The club is sponsored by the Lumberman's Association of Texas, who give four scholarships each year to boys interested in building products marketing.

The building products marketing courses are designed to prepare the students for positions as managers of lumber yards and as salesmen of building products, said Steel, who is also curriculum advisor for the course. This curriculum is only three years old and is a combination of business, architecture and engineering, he said.

There is a more modern way of doing this!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

In fact as man continues his quest for the best gadgets, there is a more modern way of doing almost everything.

But beware lest you lose sight of the old discoveries that will never become obsolete.

For instance, there is no more modern way to peace and happiness than the Christianity our ancestors treasured before us.

And when you need a text-book for living, there is no book-of-the-month to equal the Bible our Mother gave you.

And when it comes to gaining spiritual insight and moral strength, there will never be any streamlined substitute for the Church down the street.

You see, in spiritual discovery, man didn't have to await modern science. Long ago God gave us Truth and Power. That is why the age-old faith the Church teaches is THE LATEST MODEL FOR LIVING.
