The forces are combined in the 2nd Regiment with A Engineers, A Ordnance, A Chemical Corps, and A Athletics in the 1st Battalion.

B Seniors, A Transportation Corps, A Quartermaster, A Signal Corps, A Army Security Agency, and B Composite are grouped in the 2nd Battalion.

Auditions For Aggie Talent Show Started

First auditions for the Aggie Talent Show, Friday, Dec. 5, are being held Thursday night, Miss Betty Bolander, MSC program consultant, announced.

The two winners of the show, whether single acts or groups, will represent A&M at the intercollegiate talent show, held each spring in the MSC.

Any student interested in participating in the show should contact Miss Bolander in the Directorate Office of the Center as soon as possible about an audition.

The auditions will be held Thursday night, Tuesday, Nov. 18, and Thursday, Nov. 20, in the MSC.

Applicants for the Aggie talent show may bring their own accompanists, or the MSC, music committee, sponsor of the event, will furnish them.

Music committee members will judge the auditions and will choose the 20 contestants. All and any talent, from dixieland combos to tap dancers and anyone in between, who wants to perform, is invited to audition, Miss Bolander stressed. If an act can't audition at a scheduled time, a special appointment may be made.

Col. Myers Speaks To Kiwanis Club

"The ROTC program satisfies the armed services' need for trained leaders," said Col. Shelley P. Myers, PMS&T, at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

Speaking on "ROTC and National Defense," Col. Myers referred to the ROTC program as "big business" and emphasized the value to the army of the college graduate trained as a leader of men.

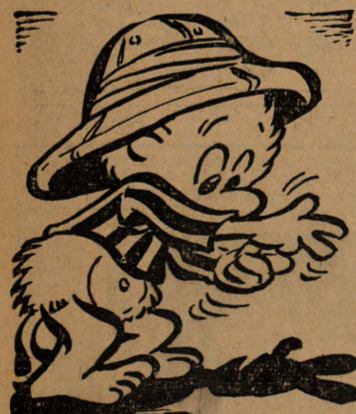

Next week the club will hear E. E. McQuillen, director of the development fund, speak on "Opportunity Award Scholarships."

Page Size Changed On 'Texas Aggie'

The size of the Texas Aggie, published by The Former Students' Association, has been changed. The former student paper will consist of eight pages of four columns width. Sheet size will be 11 x 16 inches.

The next eight months will be a trial period for the new publication, and if the readers approve it will be continued. The first publication, in this revised form, has been issued for November, and will be continued monthly.

Dentist On Call 24-Hours Any Day, Or Place, Or Time

WACO, Nov. 12—(AP)—Dr. Joe Fason, a retired Waco dentist, was walking in downtown Waco minding his own business when a man ran up behind him.

"Hey, Doc," yelled Herman Frazier, Waco, tenderly holding his jaw. "You gotta do something about this tooth."
"Oh, no, you don't," aFson replied. "I quit that long ago."

"But, doc, you gotta do something," Frazier insisted. About that time Paul McGuffey passed by.

"Got some pliers?" Fason asked.
"Sure," McGuffey said, and got them out of his car parked nearby. Frazier's aching tooth came out.

"He won't be stopping me again," Fason declared today.

Ag Students Favor Honor System Plan

By JON KINSLOW
Battalion News Staff

Over 78 per cent of students polled were in favor of establishing an honor system for the School of Agriculture. The survey, conducted by the School of Agriculture for Alpha Zeta, the honorary agriculture fraternity, polled all four classes to determine student opinion on an honor system.

Some 200 agriculture students were questioned in the survey. Although all of the findings are not conclusive, a definite trend is present.

When asked whether they would report offenders of the honor system, the students polled said, "No," almost five to one.

The questionnaire also asked if the students would be willing to sign an affidavit after they took an exam, stating that they had neither received nor given help, the answer to this was an equally emphatic "No."

From these questions, it would appear that agriculture students would like an honor system, but would not be willing to do their own monitoring.

"We were planning to start the system this year, but have decided to begin with next year's fish class, said Gene Steed, AZ president. Alpha Zeta will discuss the system later.

Students also were asked, "Would you swear under oath that the grades you have received on all examinations taken at A&M were due to your own knowledge and that your answers did not reflect in any way outside help of any kind." To this, students answered 37.6 per cent yes, and 62.4 per cent no.

Other questions asked and the percentages for and against are as follows:

"Do you think such a system would work?" 50 per cent yes, 50 per cent no.

"Do you think that a student's honor should demand that he do the best he possibly can on his own without outside help regardless of the type of examination or test?"—79.2 per cent yes, 20.8 per cent no.

"Do you believe in honor above self?"—88.7 per cent yes, 11.3 per cent no.

"Do you think the students selected to administer such a plan would be fair in their decisions?" 75.8 per cent yes, 24.2 per cent no.

Mumme Wins Swift Essay Contest

M. H. Mumme won first place in the 1952 Swift Essay Contest at A&M. The title of his winning essay was "Packers' Contributions To Producers and Consumers."

R. W. Miller was in second place with his essay entitled "Meats and Livestock Prices."

J. R. Croley and B. J. Hill won fourth and fifth respectively. The title of Croley's essay was "Meat Packing Industry," and Hill wrote on the subject of "More Lean—Less Fat."

Gross of Bonham, took first and second place in the junior. It is an annual award given by Heep, an A&M graduate of Bu-da. Billy Ray Trimmier of San Antonio, the other senior winner, is not in the picture.

Community Chest May Fall Far Short of Goal

The 1952-53 Community chest drive passed the $3,800 mark this morning and moved into its first extra week of the campaign, Benjie A. Zinn, chairman, said early today.

With an $11,000 goal, the chest's soliciting will be completed this afternoon, Zinn added. "Many collections have been slow because some groups are waiting for auxiliary payrolls," the chairman said. "We are ahead of last year," he added.

About one-fourth of the campus donations have been reported. The campaign was scheduled to close on Nov. 10, but it has been extended through Saturday of this week, Zinn said.

"Last year, the campaign was furthered an extra three weeks," Zinn continued.

He explained that the chest committee will meet Thursday, Nov. 20, to check the complete reports and determine if enough money has been solicited.

"If there isn't enough money, we will either have to ask for more or cut the appropriations to the different groups which will benefit from the chest," Zinn said.

"The business districts' collections have been reported and soliciting was better individually this year," Zinn explained.

"Last year, we barely made our goal of $10,000. It was completed only because we had some money left in the budget from the previous year's chest."

A completed report from College Hills yesterday of non-college employees brought the fund to about $90, Zinn said. "Other contributions have been received from some students and Bryan Air Force Base personnel, although we are not soliciting from either group. We don't think it is fair to ask either group to contribute," Zinn said.

"A special committee," Zinn continued, "solicited Bryan firms which College Station residents trade with frequently, and contributions were pretty good. We should know how we stand in about a week," Zinn added.

U. N. Spotlights Lie In Resigning

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 12—(AP)—Trygve Lie's dramatic decision to quit the chief executive job in the United Nations drew a new thrash against him from Russia last night, sarcasm from a U. S. senator, and a request from Britain and others that Lie stay on the job.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden led in the invitation for Lie to reconsider and stay here.

Lie's announced reason for quitting—to remove a stumbling block to Korean peace dealings—was rejected by U. S. Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.), chairman of the Senate subcommittee which is looking into alleged American Communists in the U.N. Secretariat.

McCarran's Reasoning

McCarran said in New York he believed Lie resigned because "of disclosures made and disclosures we will make in the future." McCarran said Lie's stated reasons reminded him of a Thanksgiving pumpkin: "It looked good but it was hollow."

An interview with Lie published in three Scandinavian newspapers—in his hometown of Oslo and in Copenhagen and Stockholm—said Lie emphatically denied the McCarran inquiry influenced his decision to resign.

The Scandinavian interview quoted the secretary-general as

Junior Architects Eligible for AIA

For the first time in A&M's history, junior architect majors will have an opportunity to hold junior memberships in a newly-formed chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

The AIA has provided Brazos County architects with a charter allowing them to form a local chapter of the institute.

An organizational meeting of the new chapter was held on Oct. 14 to draft a constitution and elect officers. Joe Price, fifth year architect from Port Arthur, was elected president of the group.

Infantry Graduate Wounded in Korea

1st Lt. Joseph B. Murphy, '51, was wounded by artillery fire Oct. 16, in Korea. He was in E Infantry, at A&M.

The 22-year-old officer was acting company commander in the 32nd Infantry Division when shrapnel hit his leg.

Russia Fully Recognizes

Moscow radio "recognized" Lie as U. N. secretary-general—for the first time since the Russians started ignoring him in 1950—in an abusive broadcast saying his resignation showed "his complete political bankruptcy."

Russians at the U. N. said they would wait and see who might be proposed by the Western powers before deciding what they would do as regards a successor. They have veto power there.

Student AIA Affiliation Set Thursday Nite

Two of the state's top architect administrators will formally affiliate the A & M Student Chapter of the American Institute of Architects with the Brazos County Chapter at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Biological Sciences lecture room.

Herbert M. Tatum, president of the Texas AIA, and Edward L. Wilson, director of the AIA in Texas, will conduct the ceremony. Ernest Langford, head of the architecture department, will assist.

The AIA Student chapter, formerly the Architecture Society, is headed this year by Joseph R. Drake of Dallas, president; Ken Norton of Willpoint, vice president; Paul Kennon of Shreveport, La., secretary-treasurer; Richard S. Atmar of Bryan, publicity chairman.

The organizational meeting will follow a "get acquainted" banquet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the MSC, Drake said.

Lions Club Plans Ladies Nite Nov. 24

The College Station Lions Club will observe Ladies Night Nov. 24. The affair is planned for the Maggie Parker Dining Room in Bryan and will feature dinner and dancing, announced Lt. Col. Alec Currie, ladies night chairman.

The club has also announced plans for a car-washing day to be held Dec. 6 to raise money for one of the worthwhile programs of the Lions Club. L. E. McCall has donated the facilities of his service station for washing the cars. All profits will go to the Lions Club.

At the club's meeting Monday in the MSC, Gene Brock, scoutmaster of Lion's sponsored Troop 450, reported on the troop activities.

He was very enthusiastic about the 19 man troop and complained only of not having a suitable meeting place.

Welcome Group Meets At Rice

The Welcoming Committee of the Student Senate will meet with the Rice Student Council in Houston tonight.

Plans for the Rice game will be discussed by Gene Steed, chairman of the committee, Bob Travis, president of the Student Senate, John Heft and Harold Hudspeth.

Tentative plans call for a Rice headquarters in the MSC Social Room, Steed said.

Many See Coach Ray George Play 'Goldy'

Playing to more than 200 people last night, Kiwanis Kapers treated the people of College Station to scintillating performances by Ray George as "Goldilocks" and Charlese Worwman as "Cinderella."

George played opposite the three bears: Papa Bear Isaac Peters, Mama Bear Otis Miller, and Baby Bear D. B. Cofer.

Appearing in the Kiwanis version of "Cinderella" with Workman were Joe Sorrels, Dan Davis, E. O. Siecke, Barden Nelson, R. L. Skrabanek, and Joe Campbell.

The third main act of the program was a production of "Snow

Proceeds from ticket sales will go to Dr. Dan Russell to use for the Kiwanis Crippled Childrens Clinic.

Blood Bank To Visit Here On Dec. 17

The Southeast Texas Bloodmobile will make its first visit of the school year Dec. 17.

Blood is vitally needed for the defense of our country and all of the blood collected by the Southeast Texas Defense Center is shipped for defense L. J. Phillips Jr., chairman of the blood donor drive, said.

Age limits are 21-59 years. Donors between the ages of 18-21 will be accepted with written consent from parents or guardian.

Prospective donors will be rejected if they have received a blood transfusion within six months, or have given blood within eight weeks. With certain exceptions, as determined by the attending physician, donors will not be accepted if they have had a major surgical operation within six months, or a tooth extraction within two weeks.

A regular licensed physician is present at all times. The blood is taken by registered nurses under the supervision of a doctor.

The entire procedure requires about one hour of your time, and there should be no ill effects, Phillips said. You are the only source for the blood so vitally needed, he added.

Students Asked To Use Hospital Before 5 p.m.

Except for emergencies, students are requested to use the hospital for minor treatment between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. only, said Miss Irene Claghorn, superintendent of the College Hospital.

Since only one nurse is on duty after 5 p. m., students should contact their company commanders for medical supplies, she said.

AH Professors Judge in Shows

J. K. Riggs, animal husbandry department, judged Hereford, Shorthorn, and Aberdeen Angus cattle at the Louisiana Stock Show held Nov. 6-9.

This show, for Louisiana breeders, is held annually in connection with the Dixie Horse Show in Baton Rouge.

Fred Hale, also of the animal husbandry department, judged for the third year in the Swanne Valley Hog Show at Live Oak, Florida.

The show, which was held Oct. 27-31, featured some of the nation's outstanding swine.

Seniors To Hear Grievance Answer

The Senior Class will hold a short meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Chemistry lecture room to discuss progress of the cadet officer grievance committee.

Joe Wallace, chairman of the committee will read the grievance committee's report to the commandant's office and present the answer received Friday to members of the class.

The chairman will also discuss further action to be taken by the committee.
