Civilian Mess Hall Serves First Meal

Fried eggs, toast, and jelly headed the breakfast menu this morning at the opening of the civilian dining hall in Sbsia Cafeteria. Seventy-eight civilian students had purchased meal ticket books at 4:45 p. m. yesterday, said W. C. Dahlkemper, steward of dining halls. The fiscal office estimated 125 meal ticket books would be sold by 5 p. m. yesterday, Dahlkemper said.

Board Fees

Although an earlier report stated 200 students must pay board fees before the dining hall opened, the time limit has been lengthened, Dahlkemper said. Due to the short notice concerning the dining hall's opening, some students were unable to pay board fees on time, Dahlkemper said. We felt it was unfair not to open the dining with less than 200 students," he said.

Students who eat in the dining hall without meal books will be deducted tickets after buying the books, Dahlkemper said. Students not wishing to purchase a book of meal tickets may pay by the meal.

Today's noon menu consists of smoke sausage, baked beans, potatoes, salad, punch, cherry pie, rolls and butter, Dahlkemper said. Fried chicken, mash potatoes, green peas, white cake, milk, lettuce with dressing, rolls and butter will be served tonight, he said. Menus for civilian students and cadets in Sbsia Hall are the same, Dahlkemper said.

By JOE HIPP
Battalion News Staff

It's Rue Pinalle weekend again and the MSC dance committee has planned another night of entertainment in the French mood.

Miss Carmen Hines will dance and sing "Birth of the Blues," to head the list of top-notch entertainers this Friday.

A dancing instructor in Fort Worth, Miss Hines has appeared on television programs in that area. She has been on the Arthur Godfrey talent show and entertained here last year.

Other numbers she will sing are "I Wish I Had A Daddy in the White House" and "Be Anything, But Darling Be Mine."

B. Q. (Buck) Evans, the man with the cigarettes, will emcee the floor show this weekend and may be remembered for his performance at the last Rue Pinalle show.

The MSC Combo will play for the dance. Visitors the weekend of the TCU game will remember their smooth music.

The candlelit tables and gaudy French backdrops of the cafe have attracted large crowds on nearly every occasion.

Students and local residents planning to attend Rue Pinalle are urged by Boyce Holmes, chairman of the dance committee, to make their reservations early. A large number of students from Rice are expected to attend the cafe.

Reservations and ticket sales are being handled in the MSC Bowling Alley. Tickets will be

Community Chest Funds Still Short

Only $3414 of the $11,019 goal set by the College Station Community Chest has been collected, according to reports received Wednesday by Bennie Zinn, chairman of the Chest committee.

Approximately one-third of the total reports have been turned in, Zinn said. If these are any indication how the drive is progressing it will be necessary to extend the drive another week, he said.

The Chest committee will meet Thursday, Nov. 20, to check the complete reports and determine if enough money has been donated.

Cut Appropriations

"If we don't get enough money we will have to cut the appropriations of the groups which benefit from the Chest," Zinn said.

The campaign was extended three weeks last year. The goal of $10,000 was reached after money left over from the previous year was added, Zinn said.

Zinn expects the complete reports to be read by Thursday. "So far we have not received any report from the south and north side residential districts or the east gate business district," Zinn said.

Post-Dated Checks

The Chest will accept post-dated checks from anyone who is not able to pay now, he said, Chest committee members will explain functions of the Chest and how it uses the contributions, Zinn said.

"We do not want to force anyone to contribute who doesn't want to," Zinn said.

The Brazos County Tuberculosis Association is one of the organizations receiving money from the Chest, Zinn said. The Association uses it funds to pay for hospitalization or examination of persons with tuberculosis if they are unable to pay for the services.

"We are quite concerned about the way the drive is going, since many departments in the college (See CHEST, Page 3)

First of Four Visits

Blood Unit Returns Dec. 17

The Southeast Texas Bloodmobile Unit will visit the campus for the first time this year Dec. 17, said L. J. Phillips, Jr., blood donor drive chairman. The visit will be the first of four which the unit will make at various times during the year.

Phillips demonstrated the great need for blood by citing the following statistics: In World War I of those wounded 12 per cent died, 83 per cent were saved by blood plasma; in World War II 4.5 per cent died, 95.5 per cent were saved; and now, in Korea, 2.5 per cent are dying and 97.5 per cent are being saved.

Donor Not Hurt By Donation

"A normally healthy adult," said Phillips, "has an average of thirteen pints of blood in his body. Giving one of these pints does not harm the donor and nature replaces the fluid content within 48 hours and the cell content within two weeks."

"A large portion of the people who give blood have a feeling of fear," Phillips said. "This is natural. These fears are groundless. A healthy individual can give blood without harm or pain. Just remember this—the boys in Korea are more afraid than we are."

Procedure Takes One Hour

The entire procedure of giving blood requires about one hour of the donor's time. There usually are no ill effects and he may resume his normal activities immediately afterwards. Each successful donor will receive a donor certificate showing his blood type and Rh factor.

Any person between the ages of 21 through 59 may donate his blood, and anyone over 18 may donate with written consent of his parents, said Phillips. However, no donor is permitted to give blood if the medical history or medical examination discloses any reason to the contrary, Phillips said.

Some Donors May Be Rejected

"With certain exceptions," Phillips added, "as determined by the attending physician, donors will not be accepted if they have had a major surgical operation within

Cadets Asked to Wear Uniform on Corps Trip

Officials of A&M and Texas University agreed yesterday it would be to the advantage of all Aggies to be in uniform when they go to Austin for the Texas University game corps trip.

The corps trip will precede the annual Texas University - A&M game in Austin Nov. 27.

Meeting yesterday to make plans for the Aggie visit to Austin were A&M representatives and officials of the Austin Chamber of Commerce and Texas University.

The planners felt the possibility of averting trouble on Wednesday night would be better if Aggies are all in uniform, rather than just a few.

Dean of Student Life Arno "Shorty" Nowotny of Texas University said he felt there would be little trouble from Texas students if the Aggies did not provoke it by painting sprees and other actions. He said much of the uniform equipment Aggies lost was taken by high school students and youthful vandals looking for trouble.

He assured the A&M representatives that freshman athletes usually accused of much of the "hat snatching" and other trouble, would show proper respect for the Aggie visitors.

He asked, however, that Aggies don't mill around the Texas University campus before Wednesday afternoon. "The feeling is so high among our students about that Thanksgiving game," said Nowotny, "they seem to become stirred by seeing Aggies on the campus two or three days before the game."

A&M officials assured the Texas dean that Aggies involved in any painting sprees or other types of vandalism would be dealt with severely.

"Pay for Everything"

Nowotny said he wasn't planning on any Texas University students giving Aggies trouble, "but we'll pay for every hat or anything else taken by our students," he said.

Representatives from the Austin Police Department made arrangements for streets to be blocked off and for A&M military units to form. The parade will originate in the Railroad area along Second Street.

The Corps will move out on Congress Avenue and up to the Capitol Building where it will break up behind the Capitol.

A reviewing stand will be set up in front of the Stephen F. Austin Hotel. Dignitaries of A&M, Texas University, City of Austin, as well as officials of the State of Texas will review the parade. Members of the reviewing party will also be on the outdoor second floor level of the Austin Hotel.

The parade will begin at 10 a. m., with assembly of troops scheduled on Second Street at 9 a. m.

Luncheon Planners

Attending the planning luncheon at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel yesterday were Weldon Kruger, corps commander; Don Greaney, consolidated band commander; E. D. Francis, corps operations officer, and Joel Austin, corps public information officer.

Also from A&M were W. L. Penberthy, dean of men; Col. Joe Davis, commandant; Col. Shelly P. Myers, PMS&T; Col. John A. Way, PAS&T; Lt. Col. Taylor Wilkins, assistant commandant; Maj. J. C. Lowell, Air Force operations officer and Capt. Paul Bennett, Army operations officer.

Leipper Shows Oceanography's Use of Meters

Metermen attending a short course here were "all at sea" Wednesday night as they listened to Dr. Dale F. Leipper, head of the department of oceanography.

"I have a big subject," Dr. Leipper told the group, "but I will try to keep from getting in too deep."

Along with other information about the ocean and its activities, Dr. Leipper listed many uses of electrical meters in oceanographic research.

Almost 200 representatives from every utilities company in the state attended the banquet, which was an integral part of the five-day Public Utility Short Course for electrical metermen, sponsored by the electrical engineering department of the college.

Meter specialists from the nation's four leading manufacturers of electrical meters, along with members of the college staff, conducted week-long classes in various phases of meter work.

Norman Rode of the electrical engineering department at the college was in charge of local arrangements.

MSC Married Couples Hold Informal Dance

The MSC Married Couples Committee will hold an informal dance in the Assembly Room of the MSC at 8 p. m. Nov. 22. Refreshments will be served.

Seniors, Dates Invited To 2nd Regiment Ball

Seniors will be admitted to the Second Regiment Ball, regardless of branch, if they have dates, and pay one dollar, according to Glenn Black, chairman of the dance and regimental commander.

The Second Regiment is composed of the army and service forces. The First Battalion is made up of A Engineers, A Ordnance, A Chemical Corps, and A Athletics.

The Second Battalion of the second Regiment is the remainder of the service forces, signal corps, army security agency, quartermaster corps, and transportation corps. B Seniors and B Composite are also attached to the Second Battalion.

First Fall Formal

Dancing at the ball, the first formal one of the fall semester, will last from 9-12 p. m. Friday night to the music of the Aggie-Land Orchestra, said Black. All members of the regiment will be admitted to the ball free.

Decorations for the ball will feature drawings of the branch insignia of the outfits represented in the Second Regiment.

No sweetheart will be chosen by the regiment this year, said Black, because of the Rice weekend and the cost involved.

Committees have been working on the dance for the last few weeks and are completing their work in anticipation of the ball Friday night, Black added.

Pre-Meds Planning December Party

Discussion of the coming fall semester party was the main topic discussed by the Pre-medical and Pre-dental Society Tuesday night in the Biology Building.

The group decided that the party will be held Dec. 5. Further details concerning the event will be announced at the next meeting.

Any student majoring in preparatory medicine who possesses some particular talent, and who would be willing to display it at the party is requested to contact Billy Singleton, entertainment chairman of the society, at room E-11, Hart Hall, he said.

Seniors, Dates Invited To 2nd Regiment Ball

The dance committee is under the leadership of Warren Smith, TC senior.

Lee Phillips of the signal corps is head of the program committee. Refreshments will be handled by co-chairmen Arno Becker of ordnance and Dick Rains of B Seniors.

Kim McCreary and Mercer Rogers of the chemical corps are in charge of the outfit decorations which will be placed around the bandstand.

The music and orchestra committee chairman is Charlie Bruchmiller of the quartermaster corps.

Tickets and invitations are being decided upon by a committee under Marvin Seth of the army security agency and Earl Beavers of the engineers.

Dr. Jonassen To Speak At Chem. Society

Dr. Hans B. Jonassen, associate professor of chemistry at Tulane University, will speak to the local section of the American Chemical Society. His topic will be "Complex Ions in Nature and Industry." He will present his talk on Monday, Nov. 17 at 8:15 p. m. in the chemistry building lecture room.

Dr. Jonassen received his BS and MS degrees from Tulane University, and his PhD degree from the University of Illinois.

Dr. Jonassen was born in Hanover, Germany, and attended public schools in Germany and Norway. He was employed in the merchant marine and shipping business before entering Tulane University.

Joining the faculty of Tulane University in 1946 as an assistant professor in the department of chemistry, he now is an associate professor.

His main interest lies in complex ions as related to fundamental problems in inorganic, physical, electro-chemical and other fields of chemistry.

An informal dinner will be given for Dr. Jonassen, section members and their wives at 6:15 p. m. in the MSC. The social hour following the meeting will be at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Middleton, 414 Brookside, North Oakwood.

Residents Urged To Attend Meeting

College Station residents may discuss the proposed building program for A&M Consolidated School at a meeting of the Mothers and Dads Club 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Consolidated gymnasium.

All citizens of College Station are urged to be present, said Michael V. Krenitsky, president of the club.

Discussion of site selection for the proposed buildings will also be on the program.

Consolidated Superintendent Les Richardson, architect Bill Wilson, and members of the school board will be at the meeting to explain the plan and to hear suggestions from citizens.

Schoolboard members are particularly anxious to get the views of citizens concerning location of the new buildings, Krenitsky said.
