

THE FARMER'S TRACTOR—Hoping to make the Aggie machine move against the Owls Saturday on Kyle Field will be Raymond Haas, halfback, Ray Graves, quarterback, Connie Magouirk, fullback, and Don Ellis, halfback. At the present time it is questionable if Graves will see action in the tilt. Magouirk has been running at defensive halfback, and Ellis saw some action last week against the Mustangs from the man-under slot.

Rice Seeks Eighth Straight Win Over A&M Saturday Afternoon

By JERRY ESTES
Battalion Sports Writer

Juggling of backfields, and dual purpose backs have been the order of the day this week as the Rice Owls prepare for their invasion of Kyle Field Saturday afternoon.

Rice had lost five straight games before their win over Arkansas last Saturday by a 35-33 margin.

A consistent winner in big time college ball through the years, the Owls aren't at all happy with current developments, and head coach Jess Neely has been trying every trick he knows to get the Owls back into the win column.

But it will be only an unhappy not a discouraged group that the Aggies face this weekend. With the taste of victory still sweet, Rice will be gunning for more at the expense of the Cadets.

If versatility is an asset, Rice will have a potent backfield to show the Aggies Saturday afternoon. They have three men who can run at two or more positions, and do a good job of it.

Big Bob Garbecht will be back and ready for action. The 200 pounder is the strongest runner on the squad, and a little more power in their attack could be an important factor.

Youthful Dicky Moegle, a good "spot" player on both offense and defense in the backfield should be recovered from his severe ankle sprain and ready to go.

Bill Frazier can play three backfield positions, left half, right half, and full back. A groin injury has prevented him from being in top physical condition since the SMU game when he went 79 yards for a touchdown.

He appeared for one play against Arkansas Saturday and gained 17 yards. His return to form aids Rice's hopes greatly.

Morris Stone is equipped to go at right half and full. He played fullback for the first time against Texas and was Rice's best ball carrier. Stone should return to his old position at right half for the game Saturday.

Dave Johnson, the other versatile back is at home at left half and fullback. He gained 85 yards in 11 carries against the Porkers, one more than Stone who carried the ball 14 times.

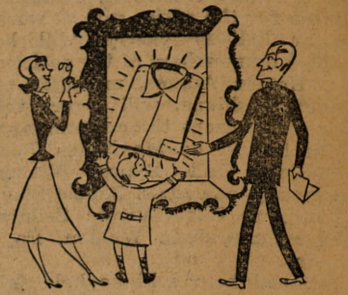

If Garbecht's ankle is healed sufficiently, the backfield should shape up with Garbecht at full, Johnson at left half and Stone at right.

Chapman Bolsters Line

Dick Chapman of Waxahachie, defensive tackle will be ready to bolster the defensive line. Coach Neely calls him as good a lineman as Bill Athey, the Baylor University stone wall.

Neely has held a spell over the Cadets since coming to Rice, defeating them eight times in 12 meetings. The Aggies haven't won over the Owls since 1944, and they will be seeking their eighth straight win Saturday.

Last year, Rice came into the game a 12 point underdog, and pulled one of the biggest upsets in the series in recent years by winning 28-13, as Teddy Riggs enjoyed a big day.

Regardless of Injuries

Tigers Ready For Lexington Battle

Coach O. V. Chafin takes his Consolidated High Tigers to Lexington Friday night to clash with Lexington High School in their next to last district game.

"We shouldn't have any trouble," Chafin said yesterday, "since Lexington is not too strong. Their district record is one win, one tie, and three losses."

He revealed that Rod Cook, David Bonnen, Doug Norcross, and William Arnold are still on the injured list and probably will not play.

Back to battle will be Pinky Cooner, John Manthei, and Jimmy Bond, three starters who have been sidelined with injuries.

Class A Looks Rough
"Although the plan is still in a tentative status," Chafin reported, "that Class A status next year looks rough if it goes through. However, I look for some teams (See TIGERS, Page 5)
