

Ray George, Three Aggies On All-Stars

Coach Ray George will take three of his Aggies and join forces with the south in the annual Blue-Gray all star contest in Montgomery, Alabama.

Ray Graves, star quarterback of the Cadets, All America Jack Little, and Marshall Rush, top defensive standouts in the SWC, are the three men who have accepted bids to play Dec. 27.

Graves, who has sparked the Aggie offense throughout the year till the Rice tilt last Saturday, has consented to play for the Southern all-stars. He is 17th in the nation in total offense, and 10th in forward passing.

The slender man-under from Stephenville has been rated by many as the top quarterback in the conference. His precision passing and cool generalship on the field has brought him the acclaim of fans, and the confidence of team mates.

Standout in every game the Aggies have played this year is All America Little. Opposing teams have rated him among the best defensive men they played against because of his ability to stop plays.

He has been shifted from tackle to line backer off and on, due to his versatility. He moves his giant 220-pound frame with surprising speed.

Playing defensive guard, tackle, and linebacker, and even seeing some action on the offensive squad, Rush is known for his speed and aggressiveness.

He may be small for a SWC guard, but he has taught a number of the big boys who outweighed him some 40 pounds that size isn't everything. Coach George has often played him at linebacker because of his speed and ability to figure the opposition's plays even before they develop.

HARD TO STOP—Quarterbacking the Aggies against Rice, Don Ellis led the Cadet ground gainers. Here he is stopped by Chapman (87), Owl end.

DRIVING THROUGH—Connie Magouirk, Aggie fullback, is stopped after plowing through the strong Rice defense for five yards. Kellogg (36), and Hudson (70) of the Owls are moving in on the play, while Aggie Charles Hall (37) is blocking for Magouirk.

Tigers Roll Over Lexington 66-0

Fred Anderson, ace high-school quarterback for A&M Consolidated passed for three and ran for four touchdowns for the Tigers Friday night to spark-plug a 66-0 win over Lexington High School. It was Consolidated's eighth win of the season.

The rest of the Tiger scores were divided up between Travis Engelbrecht, Bobby Jackson, Tommy Barker and Bobby Joe Wade. Jackson and Engelbrecht made two, and Barker and Wade each made one.

Coach Othel Chafin switched Anderson to halfback from his usual quarterback position to give him a "rest." He then raced to two touchdowns, one was a "short" romp for 84 yards and the other for a "mere" 18.

"Played Good Game" Chafin said the whole team played a better game than they have in a long time. The blocking was good all evening though at times, Anderson was ahead of his interference. Coach Chafin was well pleased with the performance of all the boys.

Anderson, according to Chafin, played a "cooler" game than he ever has. He said that tightening-up in the close spots has been the speedy back's worst problem.

Fenstemaker Leads In Routing Aggies 16-6

By JERRY ESTES
Battalion Sports Staff

Leroy Fenstemaker, Rice's extra point specialist, came off the bench Saturday to lead the Owls to an unexpected 16-6 win over the Aggies on Kyle Field.

Fenstemaker, who beat Arkansas last week with five straight extra points, went in as quarterback after regular Dan Drake was injured. He passed and kicked Rice to victory, completing 8 of 14 passes for 78 yards, kicking one extra point, and booting a 21 yard field goal.

Pete Mayeaux, Aggie halfback who was injured in the Rice game, is reported to be doing fine.

He is in bed in the college hospital, and still under observation. A definite report as to the seriousness is expected soon.

Ray Graves, ace passer of the Aggies was out of the game, because of an injury received in the SMU game. The quarterbacking chores were taken over by Don Ellis, star left halfback. He did a fine job, but the offense was kept bottled up on all but one occasion by a rugged Rice defense.

The first touchdown for Rice was set up when John Hudson recovered a fumbled handoff to Pete Mayeaux, giving the Owls the ball on the Aggie 32 yard stripe. Rice scored in five plays, with Bill Frazier going the last 11 yards. Fenstemaker kicked the extra point.

Aggies Roll
After returning the kickoff to the 24, the Cadets started a 76 yard scoring drive. Ellis and Connie Magouirk teamed up for the long march with Ellis shooting two passes, one to Charles Hall for 22 yards, and another to Magouirk for 10. Magouirk added yardage with explosive running, and scored the touchdown from three yards out.

Hooper kicked wide, and the half ended with Rice leading 7-6. The Aggies missed one scoring opportunity in the first quarter when Boring returned a punt from the Aggie 43 to the Rice 15. The play was called back because of a roughing the kicker penalty.

Graves Slips To 17th Rushing

Ray Graves, Aggie quarterback who watched last Saturday's game with Rice from the sidelines because of a hip injury slipped from 11th to 17th place among the nation's total offense leaders.

Idleness also cost him two notches in the national forward passing department as he dropped from 8th to 10th spot.

Through eight games, Graves has a total offense mark of 1,149 yards in 227 carries, which puts him second to T. Jones of Texas who has 1,168 in 192 tries for nine games.

Graves trails Jones in Southwest forward passing with 87 completions in 150 tosses for 883 yards. Four were intercepted, and four went for touchdowns.

Don Ellis leads the SWC in kick-off returns, running back 15 for 368 yards and an average of 24.5 per carry. Joe Boring is sixth, carrying 10 punts back for 74 yards and 7.4 per effort.

Boring has snagged eight enemy passes, running them back 67 yards for an 8.4 average to lead the SWC in that department. Herbert Scott is fifth, with three for 34 yards.

Ellis is the fifth ranking pass snatcher in the conference, grabbing 31 for 261 yards and 8.4 per catch. Jerry Crossman, Aggie end, has caught 18 for 214 yards and an 11.9 average. Ellis scored on three passes, and Crossman on one.
