Style Show Brings Various Fashions

By PEGGY MADDOX
Women's News Editor

Office, maternity and football weekend fashions highlighted a style show sponsored by Architectural Wives Society in the MSC Monday. Dresses were provided by Miller's Fashions.

Models for the event were architectural wives Wanda Blackmon, Gayle Bynes, Jeanne McMullan, Faye Parsons, Jean Ross, Jo Ann Rush, Tucker Saxe, Virgie Sellars, Bobbie Sholar, Joan Walden. Mrs. Jackie Adams of the Fashion Shop narrated the program.

The Dames Club is helping to provide dolls for needy little Brazos County girls. The Dames got together, made the dolls, and also made clothes for them. The group will distribute the dolls for Christmas presents.

Speaking of Christmas, don't forget to pick up an application for a Santa Claus letter at Ames Travel Agency. The agency will send the letters to Alaska via Pan American Airways, and the airline will see that your little boy or girl receives a real letter from Santa. Deadline for the letters is Dec. 16.

Garden Club Has Flower Show

Today the A&M Garden Club is presenting a placement flower show at the Knoll, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weick. The specialized type of small flower show in a contemporary home has been planned so that each arrangement will be designed for a specific place.

Mrs. Armstrong Price is general chairman and Mrs. C. B. Campbell is chairman for the assigned arrangements. Mrs. J. E. Roberts is chairman for the horticultural division and has planned the schedule and the staging for the large enclosed porch where the specimens will be displayed.

Mrs. J. S. Mogford is chairman of the educational division in which products of home preservation of food will be shown on the open kitchen bar. Mrs. Al B. Nelson is chairman of judges and Mrs. Howard W. Barlow is chairman of clerks and awards.

The Newcomers Club had a bridge and canasta party yesterday afternoon in the Social Room of the MSC. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. John Way for bridge and Mrs. L. E. Davids for canasta. Mrs. Jacco Roberts will give a demonstration on Christmas decorations and plants.

Tonight Dr. Walter Delaplaine will be master of ceremonies at a buffet supper of the College Employees Dinner-Dance Club. After supper a musical program will precede the dancing and a game room will be available for those who do not wish to dance. The supper has been planned by Mrs. E. E. Brush, B. M. Gallaway, Capt. Paul M. Bennett, Dr. Dale F. Leipner.

F. C. Bolton, president emeritus, showed colored slides of Europe and gave a travelogue to the AVMA Auxiliary in the MSC last night. The Class of '55 was hostess at a social hour after the meeting. Mrs. A. A. Price, co-sponsor, poured the tea.

Engineers Council Includes 15 Clubs

The Engineers Council is information center for the campus engineering societies and clubs.

The Council, organized by the dean of engineering in 1939, is composed of representatives from the 15 engineering societies and clubs on the campus. This includes the School of Engineering magazine, The Engineer.

The purpose of the Council as stated in the bylaws is the creation of "a council of junior and senior engineering students . . . in order that the work of the School of Engineering might be better coordinated as far as student activities are concerned . . ." It also gives information and suggestions to the dean of engineering with reference to student viewpoints and student activities.

"It collects useful ideas and serves as a focal point for distributing information to the various engineering societies and clubs here," H. W. Barlow, dean of engineering and faculty advisor to the Council, described the Council.

Officers of this year's council are H. J. Candoval, president; C. D. Hooper, vice president; J. L. Tracy, secretary; and Virgil Dean, treasurer. Officers are elected at the Council's first meeting of the year.

A committee from the Council makes many of the plans for the engineering department's participation in All-College Day. Activities of the Council are financed by income from All-College Day through contributions from the member societies.

Another committee counsels with the editor of The Engineer and recommends changes for the improvement of the magazine. This committee presents nominations for the editor of the magazine to the Council. This election is held in March.

The Council, which meets every third Monday of the month, is composed of representatives from 15 engineering societies and clubs. They are as follows: Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, American Society of Agricultural Engineers, American Foundrymen's Society, Associated General Contractors, American Institute of Architects, American Institute of Chemical Engineers, American Engineers, Geology Club, Industrial Education Club, American Institute of Industrial Engineers, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, American Institute of Mining Engineering, Society of Automotive Engineers, and The Engineer.

Poultry Club Honors Senior Judging Team

The annual Poultry Science Club Banquet honoring the Senior Poultry Judging Team will be held Tuesday, Nov. 23, at 6:15 p. m. in the Assembly Room of the MSC.

The banquet is held each year for the purpose of honoring the senior judging team members and their coach before leaving for the National Collegiate Poultry Judging Contest at Chicago, Illinois.

Special guests include M. T. Harrington, president of the college; D. W. Williams, vice-chancellor for agriculture; Charles N. Shepardson, dean of the school of agriculture; T. D. Craddock, president of the Texas Poultry Improvement Association, and various other outstanding men in the poultry industry.

The judging team members making the Chicago trip are Stephen R. Johnson, John E. Pierson, Henry E. Schurig and William M. Huffman.

"Anyone desiring to attend the banquet should contact a member of the Poultry Science Club for tickets," John E. Pierson, club president, advised. Tickets cost $2.00 per plate and the banquet will be over in time for guests to attend the bonfire, Perison said.

LETTERS

to get done. Now we realize that you Journalism majors on the Batt staff will construe everything we have said and make us seem foolish. We realize you must do this because it's a good job you have and everybody reads the Batt. It's too bad the students can't "hire and fire" because we're afraid there would be "in the interest of a greater A&M" a new staff on The Battalion.

EDITOR'S NOTE: As we said in yesterday's "letters" column, our door is always open to people who would like to work on The Battalion.

Dance Classes Close Until December 1

The MSC dance classes, taught by Manning Smith, will not meet next Monday and Tuesday.

Classes will resume Monday, Dec. 1, and a formal dance will be given for members in the MSC Ballroom Dec. 2.

Definite plans about the dance are not available but there will be a charge of 25 cents for each member attending, said Miss Betty Bolander, MSC program consultant.

The dance classes are sponsored by the MSC dance committee.

Aggies to Take Part In Lodge Ceremony

Twelve Aggies will go to Waco Wednesday morning, Dec. 3, to take part in the opening ceremony of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas meeting.

The twelve men will act as color bearers and color guards in the ceremony which begins at 10 a. m. before an expected audience of 7,000.

Cadets, former cadets, and veterans will make up the 12 Aggies taking part in the Lodge rites. The cadets are: Leonard Davis, Ken Lewi, Perry Dawson, John Whitman, Rupert Gates, C. D. Gwin, and Bob Andrews.

The former cadets are Henry Ince, and Robert Blun, and the veterans are Doyle Lowrey, Dean Beck, and Robert Wammack.

Ag's Present Flags

The Grand Lodge of Texas will open with the entrance of the Deputy Grand Master. Six Aggies will then present the six flags under which Texas has served.

After the presentation of the flags, the officers of the Grand Lodge will assemble on the stage. The Grand Master, two Aggies bearing the Texas and U. S. flags, and four color guards will then assemble at the altar.

A three minute oral salute will be given to the colors by the Grand Master, followed by the oath of allegiance from the entire audience. The two flags will then be posted.

The song service at the Grand Lodge will be led by Bill Turner, director of the Singing Cadets and the Aggieland Orchestra. At 8 p.

m. Wednesday night, the Singing Cadets will be featured in a 30 minute program at the Lodge gathering.
