Annual Zoo Visit Proves Successful

By PEGGY MADDOX Women's News Editor

LAST WEEK 50 happy children from "Trudie's Kiddie College" accompanied by 10 mothers, grandmothers, aunts or big sisters boarded the Hustler for their annual trip to the Houston zoo.

The children were met at the station in Houston by a chartered bus and taken to the zoo where they were free to see all the animals.

On the way back riding the Sunbeam, a tour of the train was led by the conductor. He explained the different features of the train.

Apples, cookies, popcorn, crackerjacks and peanuts were given to the little pre-school and first graders before arriving back in College Station. Providing the cookies were Mesdames James H. Bridges, John Floyd, Velton M. Merrell, G. M. Sluder, Layle F. Stewart.

The students were accompanied by Mesdames Bridges, John G. Otts, Charles R. Scott, A. R. Sitzer, Sluder, Ira D. Vail, Mrs. Richard Vrooman, Miss Sally Ann Miller, Mrs. E. F. Wray, Mrs. Ira Anthony, Mrs. B. A. Hardaway, supervisor of the school and her assistant, Mrs. Tom Covey.

Stork in Action

Joe and Connie Wallace certainly had reason to be proud last week when their little boy arrived. Some of the boys in A Quartermaster tell us that Dick and Faye Lenzen have double reason to be proud. Twin girls arrived at Memorial Hospital in Houston for the Lenzens. They have been named Connie Sue and Cindy Lou.

Congratulations to the Wallaces, Lenzens, and the other parents of new babies in College Station.

The wives of members of the mechanical engineering department were guests at a tea shower last Saturday given by Mrs. C. M. Simmang and Mrs. A. V. Brewer honoring Miss Gail Crawford, bride-elect.
