

Army-AF Squads Stage Organizational Plans

Ray Graves assembled his Air Force squad together yesterday afternoon, and met with Jack Little and his Army team in the lecture room on the west side of Kyle Field.

Bill Munnerlyn, head of the committee boosting the benefit game to be played Dec. 18, called for the meeting in an effort to organize the teams and their coaching staffs.

A brief discussion between the coaching staffs was held prior to the larger meeting in which it was decided that one temporary defensive formation will be set up by each unit. If the weather permits enough workout time, and the teams catch on to the formations readily enough, a second plan of defense can be worked out.

Tough For Men
"It's going to be tough for these men to learn plays in such a short time," cautioned Graves when addressing the coaches. "I don't think we should worry too much about a defense, and concentrate on the offense," he said.

The coaches decided to leave the decision on the number of formations up to the head mentors of each side, and the decision will be made later in the week according to progress made.

Munnerlyn then asked the coaches into the lecture room where he introduced them to their teams and explained a few details concerning signing up and obtaining uniforms.

He then extended the committee's thanks to the athletic department for their cooperation in the handling of equipment and facilities. "They have backed up all the way, so let's show our appreciation by taking care of the uniforms and dressing rooms."

Spike White, manager of student activities, then told the men how the game was to be played for the sake of building up the Student Aid Fund, and how worthy a cause the fund served.

Issue Equipment
Alton Murphy, senior manager of the Aggies, spoke to the group next and explained how the equipment would be issued and taken care of. Murphy and John Sur-ovik, the other senior manager, will be in charge of issuing and caring for the uniforms.

Below are listed the players who reported for workout on the Air Force squad yesterday. The practice list of the Army team was run in last Thursday's edition of The Battalion.

LAST GAME GREATEST—W. G. (Ox) Blair, who has been switched from guard to tackle and back to guard again this season, spent most of the Aggies' first nine games on the bench. He got the nod to start the Texas game last week, and turned in one of the outstanding performances of the year as he slashed through the offense time after time to stop All-SWC runners before they got a good start. He was credited with 35 minutes of defensive play against the steers, and will be a great loss to the Cadets.

CHS Tigers Start Basketball Season

By JERRY NEIGHBORS
Battalion Sports Staff

A&M Consolidated High School plays their first basketball game of the season tomorrow night against Navasota. There will be two games, both A and B squad. The first game will start at 7 p. m. in the Consolidated Gymnasium.

Othel V. Chafin, Consolidated science teacher will coach the team. Jim Bevan is coach of the B team. They have started their second week of practice, and the team did not work-out over the Thanksgiving holidays.

The first six men on the squad are Pinky Cooner, Fred Anderson, Byron Andrews, Joe Motheral, David Bonnen and Bobby Jackson. Motheral and Jackson are both well over six feet tall. This is the same team which won the district championship last year.

Members of the B team this year are J. B. Carroll, Bubba Engelbrecht, Jerry Oden, Bobby Carter, Melvin Free, John-Ray Perryman and Norman Floeck. They also stand a good chance in district play according to Chafin. The Tigers will play in a tournament in Madisonville next weekend, Dec. 12 and 13. They will open district play Dec. 16 against Milano.

On Jan. 2 and 3, A&M Consolidated, in conjunction with the College Station Kiwanis Club, will hold their annual invitational tournament in Consolidated Gymnasium. Somerville, Hempstead, Caldwell, Waller, Snook, Rockville and another team to be picked later will play in the tournament.

"An introduction to learning"
says J. HILLIS MILLER
President, University of Florida

"The Reader's Digest is an introduction to learning. Its variety, brevity, intellectual stimulation, selective mental diet, and good humor whet the appetite for more of the same. It leads to larger fields for browsing and deeper cerebration."

To busy students and educators, The Reader's Digest brings each month a sweep of information which otherwise could be obtained only through days and weeks of painstaking research. Selecting and condensing the most significant material from hundreds of periodicals, The Reader's Digest provides the widest collection of facts with the greatest economy of effort.

In December Reader's Digest, you'll be interested in A Bible for the 20th Century—story of the new Revised Standard Version of the Bible; What You Should Know About Your Eyes—a report on eye care and the common eye diseases; England Prepares to Crown a Queen—the $300,000,000 preparations for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II.

THEY SATISFY AND HOW!

"I always smoked Chesterfields in college just like my friends" says New York secretary, Elizabeth Lydon, "and here in New York it seems like almost everyone smokes them."
Elizabeth Lydon DUKE '51

AND NOW—CHESTERFIELD FIRST TO GIVE YOU SCIENTIFIC FACTS IN SUPPORT OF SMOKING

A responsible consulting organization reports a study by a competent medical specialist and staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfields. For six months a group of men and women smoked only Chesterfield—10 to 40 a day—their normal amount. 45 percent of the group have smoked Chesterfields from one to thirty years for an average of ten years each.

At the beginning and end of the six-months, each smoker was given a thorough examination including X-rays, and covering the sinuses, nose, ears and throat. After these examinations, the medical specialist stated . . .

"It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
