Job Interviews

● Dec. 15—The Gulf Oil Corp. of Tulsa, Okla., will interview January and June graduates in business administration, accounting, economics, petroleum, mechanical, civil, chemical, electrical engineering, geology, physics, and mathematics.

Positions are available in their exploitation department, Mene Grande Oil Co., C. A. of Gulf Oil, the Fort Worth Division and the Gulf Research and Development Co. This company will be here Dec. 16.

● Dec. 16—Aeronautical, mechanical, architectural, civil and electrical engineering January graduates will be interviewed by North American Aviation Inc.

The engineering department of this company needs engineers for positions as junior engineers with openings in design and development of aircraft structures, power plants, controls, and related fields. They have a training program consisting of orientation in company methods and procedures and instruction under experienced engineers.

● Dec. 16—Bendix Products Division is interested in interviewing aeronautical, civil electrical and mechanical engineering graduates as well as physics majors.

They have openings in their guided missiles section, automotive section, aircraft landing gear section, aircraft fuel devices section for positions as project engineers, laboratory test work and drafting. These positions will be located in South Bend, Ind.

● Dec. 18—Electrical engineering January and June graduates at all degree levels will be interviewed by the Rural Electrification Administration of Washington, D. C. There is a six-month training course in rural telephone and rural electrification.

During this period, trainees receive rotating assignments in various activities of REA so engineers may become thoroughly familiar with programs, REA organization, policies and procedures. Some field assignments are possible after at least one year of service in Washington, D. C.

● Dec. 18—Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. of Houston, will interview mid-term graduates majoring in petroleum, mechanical, chemical and electrical engineering. Qualified men who are accepted for the Stanolind training program are assigned as roustabouts for from 6 months to a year, after which they are promoted to engineering jobs.

Engineering activities in this company are highly diversified, including reservoir engineering, well spacing proration, drilling and production practices and many others. On-the-job training is a regular part of the work, and specialized schools are held periodically to keep Stanolind engineers abreast of current engineering developments.

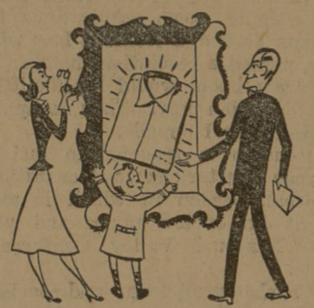

● The Illinois Division of Highways of Springfield, Illinois, has initiated a road improvement program which will be continued for many years and are in need of qualified civil engineers who are interested in a career of public service in highway engineering.

● The engineering department of The Texas Pipe Line Co. of Houston, has a vacancy for a recent electrical engineering graduate to do electrolysis and corrosion work. The job would involve travel throughout Texas with Houston as headquarters.

● The Oliver H. Van Horn Co. Inc. of Fort Worth, is in need of an assistant to the manager of their machine tool department. Duties would consist of making quotations on machine tools, consulting with prospective purchasers with reference to their specifications requirements and tooling required on machines to be purchased.

They would also consist of occasional trips to the machine tool builder's plants for purposes of learning about specific lines handled. A mechanical engineering graduate is preferred. This company is a distributor of machine tools and industrial supplies.
