

Local People Send Fruit To Hospital

A veteran of World War II who was a patient in the Veterans Administration Center at Temple for eight months will drive the truck that will carry apples and oranges from College Station to the VAC for a Christmas cheer for more than one thousand patients.

Robert Floyd Wammaek, a senior industrial engineering major, volunteered his services to P. L.

Downs Jr., general chairman of the drive.

People of College Station, A&M students, college employees and staff members, and students and teachers of A&M Consolidated and Lincoln High Schools donated the fruit to take to the veterans.

A&M students donated the fruit that was on the mess hall tables this morning.

The apples and oranges are being collected at the MSC and the high schools today for what is expected to be the largest mission of its type ever done in this section of Texas.

Ags Take Part In Point Four World Program

A score of A&M graduates are playing an important part in the Point 4 program. The program calls for Uncle Sam to furnish technical agricultural information and instruction to certain foreign countries.

In turn the college is under contract to give advanced technical training to a number of technicians from Latin America, the Near East and South Asia.

In proportion to population Texas has sent more technicians abroad than any other state.

The graduates from A&M are Bloodworth of Mason, Elbert Paul Creech, W. W. Melroy and Archer Prince of Dallas, Grady L. Richardson of Talpa, W. H. Walker of Corsicana and James C. Yearly of La Grange; Jordan, James W. Allen of Kaufman and Ernest Mortensen of Winterhaven.

Honduras, Anacleto Apodaca of Ysleta; Iraq, H. S. Cain Jr. of Kenedy; Paraguay, Louis J. Franke of College Station and E. N. Langley of Three Rivers and Guadalupe M. Ramirez of Rio Grande City; Saudi Arabia, Thomas J. Moon of Navasota.

Burma, C. D. Snyder of Hallettsville; Costa Rica, James T. Soules of College Station; Cuba, Harold D. Lynn of Lubbock.

Cedar Walton, a graduate of Prairie View A&M, is serving in Liberia.

here in school and never bothered to come out because they don't think they can make the team.

"The way things are looking for next year, we could certainly use some tackles and ends," he said.

Tickets for the event are being sold for 50 cents to all members of the corps as well as the people living in and around the Bryan and College Station area.

Pre-School Kids Give 'Singing Tree'

The pupils of Trudie's Kiddie College will present "The Singing Christmas Tree" in the YMCA Chapel at 6 p. m. Thursday, said Mrs. B. A. Hardaway, director.

Students Honor Prophet's Birthday

The same revelation which urged Jesus and Moses to become prophets and guides among people was the inspiration for the Prophet Mohamed, said Dr. Mahmoud Hoballah, director of the Islamic Institute of Washington, D. C., to about 200 students and faculty members celebrating the prophet's birthday.

In a letter read Friday in the MSC by Dr. T. F. Mayo of the English department, Dr. Hoballah explained Mohamed's purpose on earth and his life. Hoballah, who was scheduled to be the guest speaker, sent his speech to Moslem students here who were sponsoring the affair.

Following the reading of Dr. Hoballah's letter, a movie, "The Cradle of Liberty," was shown. It described the three religions in existence, which Moslems recognize as true religions of God. These are Christianity, Judaism and Islam.

Aly Lasheen, graduate horticulture student from Cairo, Egypt, was master of ceremonies.

Camera Club Meets In MSC Thursday

A special called meeting of the Camera Club will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the MSC Ball room to discuss plans for aiding the Brazos County Polio Aid Drive which officially begins Jan. 2.

A committee will be organized so the cameramen can be on 24 hour call to cover the polio drive activities for advertising purposes, said Robin Ransome, secretary of the Camera Club.

Weathermen Meet To Hear Reports

The central Texas branch of the American Meteorological Society will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday in the MSC Social Room to discuss the odd behavior of the late November norther which threatened Texas with freakish weather.

Representatives from the Air Force's Air Weather Service and the United States Weather Bureau will attend the meeting.

Dr. John C. Freeman of the oceanography department and J. R. Gerhardt of UT will report to the group on the radar weather conference of meteorologists at Montreal in September.
