

Allen, Wharton, Stars Stage Big Show Friday

DeWare Field House will feature an outstanding basketball game between the Allen Academy Ramblers and Wharton Junior College Pioneers Friday night.

The March of Dimes benefit game will also feature several sports celebrities in the pre-game show. They will include Solly Hemus, St. Louis Cardinal Shortstop and lead-off man; Jack Little, A&M All-American tackle; Don Rhoden of Rice, another All-American; Ray Graves of A&M, Bill Athey of Baylor and Darrow Hooper, A&M's Olympics performer.

College President

M. T. Harrington, president of the college, will welcome the guests and spectators during the pre-game show.

The Wharton Starlettes, a group of 48 girls, who do precision drills and dances, will begin at 7:30 and the game itself will get underway approximately an hour later.

Television and theatrical stars Vivian Altfield and Orion Wymer, along with Louise Taylor, Starlettes director, will highlight the half-time show.

State Champs

The Allen ramblers are defending Texas Junior College Conference state champions and have scored 868 points in 13 games this year.

Their opponents, Wharton Pioners are the defending national junior college champs.

A member of the largest athletic conference in the nation—23 teams, divided into four zones stretching from Texarkana to Amarillo—the Ramblers copped the Zone 2 title and then went on to win the state championship in a tournament played in Waco last year.

Short Team

Rambler coach Leslie Robinson, who in 20 years of coaching has never turned out a team who won less than .500 per cent—has a group of "shorties" with his tallest man standing only 6-3. His starting five only average 5-10 but they have scored 10 wins in 13 starts this season.

They have gone through the first half of the conference season undefeated. Roy West, junior college all-state, leads the Allen scoring attack with 236 points for an average of 19.6 per game.

Wharton walked away with the championship in the Region XVI tournament staged in Tyler and this gave them the right to compete in the national tournament at Hutchinson, Kan., a meet which they also took top honors.

Graves

Coach Johnnie Frank, former freshman coach at A&M, is now coaching at Wharton and was named 1952 junior college coach of the year by the Texas Sports-writers Association. He has six members of his national championship club back and can start a team averaging 6-5.

Both the Ramblers and Pioneers use a fast-break, so another high-scoring game is expected Friday night.

Soccer Team Meets Texas Here Feb. 8

The A&M Soccer team will play host to the University of Texas squad here Feb. 8.

In their most recent game the Aggie soccer team blasted Allen Academy 10-0.

Aggie Cagers Face Owls Saturday Night

All even in conference play and 5-7 in season games, the Aggies have a light schedule the next two weeks before starting down the stretch of Southwest loop competition.

The only game set for the next two weeks for Coach John Floyd's Aggies is the Rice Owl-Aggie game in Houston Saturday night (Jan. 24). Next game after that is Feb. 3 against SMU at College Station.

Miksch-Binford

The Aggies, paced by Leroy Miksch and Don Binford with excellent help from Sophomores Rodney Pirtle and Bob Johnson, knocked off the loop-leading Texas Longhorns, 51-42, before the home folk last week but the Texans stayed off the top only one day, what with Arkansas defeating Rice handily in Fayetteville Saturday night.

The Ags hit 42 percent of their shots against Texas, sinking 15 of 37 from the field while the cool Longhorns managed but 10 of 50 for a 20 percent shooting mark.

Defensive Battle

The Aggie-TU game was a terrific defensive battle, neither team getting an abundance of good shots. Top individual tactics were by Pirtle, Johnson and Don Heft holding George Sealings, TU's hot-shot, to one field-goal, and the work of Leon Black in holding Binford of A&M to three early baskets.

Babcock Elected Aggie Club Prexy

C. L. Babcock of Beaumont was re-elected president of the Aggie Club in their annual meeting in the Memorial Student Center on the campus last week.

H. C. Heldenfels of Corpus Christi was elected vice-president and Homer Adams of College Station was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Elected to the executive committee for the coming year were Price Campbell of Abilene, Norman E. Buescher of McAllen, C. A. Chipley of San Antonio, Charles H. Fleming of Fort Worth, Clyde Murphy of Wichita Falls, A. G. Pfaff of Tyler and James W. Williams of Dallas.

Hogan Steps Out; Fleming Fires 68

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Golf's famed Ben Hogan stepped out of the lead in the $10,000 Thunderbird Country Club invitational tournament late today. A little known professional, Pete Fleming of St. Andrews, Ill., moved into the front, with a 36-hole score of 133.

Hogan and another veteran, Dutch Harrison, took the lead yesterday with 7 under par 65s. But today Hogan and Harrison shot 69s to go into a tie with three other pros at 134.

Bracketed with Hogan and Harrison were Jim Turnesa, Jimmy Demaret and Lloyd Mangrum. The 65s of the last two tied the course record, hung up yesterday by Ben and the Dutchman.

Fleming, 35, formerly from Hot Springs, Ark., gained prominence 10 days ago when he led the field in the first round of Bing Crosby's tournament at Pebble Beach, Calif. His 34-32 today over the par 36-36-72 course was good enough to put him on top going into the final round of the 54-hole tournament tomorrow.

Hogan remained the star attraction in this, one of his rare tournament appearances. He gave the gallery a thrill at the 18th green when he approached the pin and stopped 12 feet away and then sank the putt for an eagle three.

It was a good finish for the Texas ex-champion. He had been playing straight and true over the 6,600-yard course but was unable to get the putts down during the afternoon.

Byron Nelson of Texas, another ex-champion making an infrequent appearance, shot his second straight 68 for 136.

National Open champion Julius Boros added a 69 to his first round 70 for 139. Also at 139 was former U. S. Open champion Lew Worsham with a 71.

Ed Oliver headed a pro-amateur team that included baseball star Ralph Kiner to win the best ball competition. The team had scores of 54-59-113 and Oliver collected $1,000.

Schreiner Institute Needs New Grid Coach

KERRVILLE, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Schreiner Institute will look around for a football coach and athletic director to succeed Claude Gilstrap, who resigned to become football coach at Arlington State College.

TCU Upsets Conference; Beat Rice 69-60

HOUSTON, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Big Henry Ohlen, with 31 points, led TCU to a 69 to 60 Southwestern Conference basketball upset over Rice last night.

The Frogs had lost to Rice by 19 points in the pre-season conference tournament at Dallas and their victory tonight prevented the Owls from climbing into a first place tie with Texas.

Ohlen, a tight Frog defense, and the second half efforts of Captain Richard Allen made the difference. Allen, finished with 17 points, made 12 in the second half and most of those at times when Rice was pressing closely.

The lead changed six times before TCU took a 41-40 advantage with 15 minutes to play. Rice tied at 41-41, 49-49 and 51-51 but could not pull in front.

Guard John Swain broke the final tie with a set shot and Ohlen followed with a tip.

Dial Selected New Business Manager

Pat Dial, employee of the A&M agricultural experiment station the past 18 years, is A&M's new business manager of athletics, according to Barlow Irvin, Athletic Director.

Dial replaces C. D. Ownby who retired last week after completing 25 years service with the college. Ownby has opened a public accounting business in Houston.

Dial left the experiment station last September and joined the athletic department as assistant to Ownby. He began duties as head business man for athletics Jan. 16.

Bevo Scores 38 Points As Rio Grande Wins

TROY, O., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Cedarville stalled and played "possession ball" in an unsuccessful attempt to stop the nation's top college basketball scorer but lost the game when furious fans forced them to play regular ball.

Rio Grande won the game, 66-29, and its Clarence Bevo Francis scored 38 points. The stalling tactics did lower Francis' game average of 50 for 22 games.

Francis, who recently set a new national scoring mark, now had 1146 points for 23 games. Rio Grande had been averaging 100 points a game.
