Local Women Ask For 'Dimes' Duty

Fourteen College Station and Bryan women have volunteered to be on duty in the March of Dimes headquarters for this week, said Mrs. P. W. Barker, chairman of the headquarters committee.

Those who have served through today are Mesdames Fred Hickman, P. W. Burns, Bob Price, R. D. Lewis, R. A. Downard, E. H. Templin, A. C. Magee, Harold Hornbeak, John Mayfield, Gordon Gay, and Fred Benson.

Mrs. L. L. Haupt and Mrs. A. C. Allen will be on duty tomorrow, and Mrs. Charles LaMott will be in charge of the headquarters Sunday.

"These women will be glad to take any contribution while they are on duty," Mrs. Barker said. The headquarters is located in the old Creamland building on Main Street and is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. every day until the end of the drive Jan. 31.

Advertising Exam To Be Held Feb. 14

The seventh annual AAAA Examination for advertising will be held Feb. 14 at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth.

The tests are open to all college seniors who are considering advertising as a career. In addition to testing students for specific kinds of work in industry, the examinations will show them how they compare with others already in the field.

In addition to aptitude-temperament tests, other examinations of practical knowledge will be given for people with training in advertising.

A fee of $20 will be charged to cover part of the cost of the examination.

Blackwell Receives Ag. Ed. Student Award

Stanley Blackwell, senior agricultural education major from Coleman, recently received an award for being the most outstanding student in the agricultural education department. The award was presented by Tom Milligan, president of the local A&M Collegiate FFA Chapter.

The award is presented each semester to the graduating senior who contributes the most to the agricultural education department.

Oveta Culp Hobby Sworn Into Office

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—(Spl.). Oveta Culp Hobby was sworn in as federal security administrator in a brief ceremony at 4:36 CST Wednesday in the ornate East Room of the White House.

It took Chief Justice of the United States Fred M. Vinson just 13 minutes to administer the oath to Mrs. Hobby and the eight cabinet members who were confirmed by a unanimous voice vote of the Senate earlier Wednesday afternoon.

Each Sworn In

Mrs. Hobby and each of the Cabinet members were sworn in separately by the chief justice.

They stood flanked by the flag of the United States and the presidential flag to take their oaths.

President Eisenhower, who stood behind the flags, shook hands with each one after the oaths were taken.

About 90 members of the appointees' families witnessed the ceremonies.

Wins Praises

Before the vote for confirmation of Mrs. Hobby and the eight Cabinet members was taken, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, D-Texas, Senate minority leader, read a statement praising Mrs. Hobby as a woman who "has proven her outstanding ability both in Texas and on the national scene, both as an administrator and a policy maker who has the courage to stand firmly on her convictions."

Took 3 Hours

It took the Senate just about three hours to confirm the nine appointees sent up for approval by President Eisenhower.

Sen. Wayne Morse, (R-Ore.), whose lone objection blocked confirmation of the Cabinet on Tuesday, spoke for about an hour.

Mrs. Hobby had just completed a speech to 1,200 Republican women leaders at the Statler Hotel when she received word of the Senate action.

Motion Made

The motion to confirm the appointments was made by Sen. Robert A. Taft, the majority leader of the Senate. He had earlier asked if any senator had objection to voting on all the appointments at once.

Following Sen. Johnson's comments about Mrs. Hobby and shortly before the vote was taken, Sen. Eugene Milliken, (R-Colo.), chairman of the Finance Committee which had previously approved the appointment, said "The members of the committee were delighted with Mrs. Hobby and her testimony."

City Council

Speaking to the city council in reference to the recreation council's dwindling funds, Donald D. Burchard, chairman of the recreation council, said, "If the people want a recreational program, then the support must come from tax sources."

The city council took no direct action on the tax increase because, as Langford said, "The general feeling is 'let the people vote on it.'"

CE Short Course Offered in January

A Sanitary Laboratory short course, sponsored by the Civil Engineering Department, will be held at A&M Jan. 26-30. J. H. Sorrels of the CE Department, will chair the short course.

An attendance of 20 is expected and sessions will be held in the Chemistry building.

Polio Headquarters Moved Across Street

Brazos County polio headquarters were moved yesterday, (Wednesday) from the old Creamland building in Bryan across the street to the Blossom Shop, said Mrs. P. W. Barker, chairman.

Dykes Sells Book 'Billy the Kid'

J. C. Dykes, '21, of College Park, Mo., has just completed a book entitled "Billy the Kid." Dykes presented a copy of his book, published this year by the University of New Mexico to the Cushing Library. He signed the book, "For present and future Aggies so they may know how tall tales grow so tall, from a fellow Aggie."
