Degree Application Deadline Is March 1

Deadline for graduating seniors to submit degree applications is 5 p. m. March 1, according to J. Y. Alexander, assistant registrar.

Formal application for degrees must be submitted to the registrar on forms provided for that purpose not later than 90 days prior to the end of the semester in which the student expects to complete his requirements for graduation.

"We urge that all seniors, who plan to graduate in May, submit their applications as soon as possible," said Alexander. "This will prevent added complications in registrar's office and will assure the arrival of all diplomas on schedule."

panel discussions on mechanical questions confronting Texas publishers. Prof. D. E. Newsom of the journalism department is conference director.

Registration will begin at 8 a. m. Saturday in the MSC. Sessions will be held in the Assembly Room.

William Rawland, president of the TPA and publisher of the Cleburne Times-Review, will speak at a pre-conference coffee at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the MSC. His topic will be "What Can We Do About Our Troubles?" Rawland's talk, sponsored by the Journalism Club, will be directed to early clinic arrivals and to A&M journalism students.

The journalism department originated the clinic in 1950, and the co-sponsorship with TPA began two years later. This union enables publishers and the journalism department to cooperate in giving advice and suggestions to the professional field and to journalism majors, Burchard said.
