

For 1953 Maroon and White To Go Single Wing

By ED HOLDER
Battalion Managing Editor

The Aggie football team should and probably will run a singlewing formation during 1953.

With all the talent and power available to Coach Ray George, partial, if not complete, abandonment of the T formation looks like the best way to produce a winning team for the coming season.

The loss of several powerful linemen will hinder the Cadets from every angle except the guard and center posts. But the addition of top notch backs and the improvement of last year's veterans poured into the team will stir around by Coach George would make a potent drug for any high-riding Frog, Mustangs, or Longhorn.

Three hard hitting and fast running fullbacks will be out for spring training soon. Connie Magourik, Don Kachtik, and Bob (Bull) Easley will be aiming at the power-slot. Easley is the transfer from Baylor who laid out last year. He has never run on Kyle Field, but sportswriters who have seen him play predict a sensation.

With all this powerful talent loose in the Maroon and White backfield this season, the speedy T would fail to utilize the potential of such a combination. As for halfbacks, the Aggies are prepared to boast some of the best in the business. Don Ellis, who may be moved permanently to quarterback, ran circles around opponents' defenses from both the halfback and man under slots. Charles Hall was a little less experienced in 1952, but he always managed to come out on top with a good yard average for any game.

Mayeaux Holds Own

Pete Mayeaux will be back as the "Old Reliable." He always holds his own in a tight spot, and if he can shake injuries long enough, he will add that reliable punch the Cadets can so ably use.

Juan Coronado has been developing rapidly and should get a try at the game, and Howard Zuch could even get into the backfield act.

The quarterback will be picked from two experienced men. One is Ellis, the other Joel Smith, who didn't play last year and has three more years of eligibility.

Still another man who has shown promise is Ed Hennig. The versatile sophomore can swing his weight at end as well as quarterback.

All these veterans with the power, ability, experience, and desire to excel, could make a singlewing formation click like nothing we've had here at A&M in a long, long, long, time.

Soccer Team Gets Set

A group of athletes here on the campus who rarely receives recognition is the A&M soccer team.

They play their next game here on the main drill field Sunday afternoon.

The soccer league of which they are a part is new. In fact it was just formed this year. But already the Cadet soccer players are making a reputation for themselves.

At the 'last' game they played here on the campus two weeks ago, a crowd of about 300 watched them beat the University of Texas.

Soccer in the southwest is comparatively new, and it will take some time for it to reach the heights of popularity it commands (See SCOOPER, Page 5)

Ag Track Squad Ready For Three Team Opener

By BOB BORISKIE
Sports News Editor

The Aggie track squad opens its 1953 season in a triangular meet with Texas and University of Houston on March 7 at Kyle Field.

"We'll have a good team this year," Coach Andy Anderson said. "And if we can keep everybody eligible and in good shape, we'll be in there battling for another track title."

Anderson said that track, by the very nature of the sport, is a once-a-week event, and since outstanding relays occur almost every Saturday during the season, it is impossible to schedule more than two meets at home each season.

The Ag all-around strength during the past few seasons has progressed to the point where it is almost impossible to schedule dual meets. This brings about more triangular meets, with a home appearance every third year, Anderson said.

For this reason, he feels that all students desiring to see Hooper put the shot make every effort to attend the first meet since Hooper will be participating in the Drake Relays during the Ags' only other home appearance of the season.

100 Turn Out

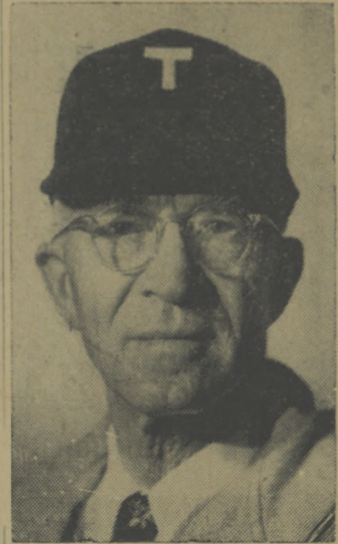

Over 100 candidates are vying for places on the team left vacant by the departure of John DeWitt, Bob Mays, and Buddy Shaefler from the quarter milers; the loss of high jumpers Don Graves and SWC champ Buddy Davis; hurdles Billy Bless and Paul Leming; and half milers John Garmann and James Terry. Verlon Westmoreland, promising two miler, and Garland Coalson, outstanding Fish high jumper, were lost to military service.

The broad jump area this year will find the Aggies well represented by Bobby Ragsdale, who has leaped over 24 feet, and Bill Stalter, both seniors.

Hardest hit by graduation was the high jump event. Contesting leapers will be Marvin Swink, junior squadman; Bob Harben, soph, and Taylor, senior.

Leading a strong pole vaulting group will be Glen Spradlin and Malcolm Marks, both of whom have leaped 13 ft. 7 inches, which is four inches short of the SWC record. Others are James Earl, junior, and Conrad Cummings and Tom Kelly, sophs.

The shot put circle will show Darrow Hooper, SWC champ and Olympic runner-up, leading the

Soccer Team Meets U of H Here Sunday

The Aggie soccer team will play the University of Houston Sunday afternoon on the main drill field at 2 p. m.

Last Sunday in Houston, the Cadets beat the Cougar soccer club by forfeit. U of H failed to have the field marked off sufficiently and no referees had been arranged for.

However, both teams were on the field and ready to play, so a practice game was played.

Team captain Guillermo Cardenas kicked two goals and the Cougars made one during the first half to put A&M in the lead. The Cadets scored two more and Houston put another point between the posts to end the game 4 to 2.

The Cougars will be looking for a chance to even the score when they meet Sunday, but Cardenas said, "I think we can beat them again, especially since we will be playing on our home field."

To Meet Thursday

The Aggie Wives Bridge Club will meet in rooms 2C and 2D of the MSC Thursday at 7:30 p. m.
