

Aline Groner

Miss Sarah Barber

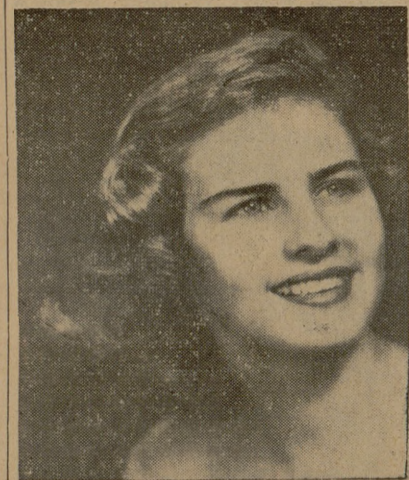

Miss Joan Seaman

Homerooms, RVs Featured Weekend's Activities

The big spring weekend schedule for today features the Class of 1955, and the weekend will feature the Ross and Liz Holmes and her "torch" songs. Also on the program will be the Stephen F. Austin College dance team and their newest tap dance routines.

Cafe Rue Pinalle Friday night will feature talent from the University of Texas, Pedro Barbar and his rhythmic Spanish dances and Liz Holmes and her "torch" songs.

The MSC combo, with Pete Maycaux as vocalist, will provide music for dancing. The dancing will start at 8:30 p. m. in the bowling alley area of the MSC. The floor show starts at 10:15 p. m.

Miss Barbara Burke

Miss Margaret Ann Ammer

Finalists Set
The dance is a Sophomore will be chosen from those selected by pictures. Finalists are Sarah Barber, Jack Lonquist; Barbara submitted by Bennie Seaman, submitted by Aline Groner, sub-

Panel Talks To Be Given By Accountants
The sixth annual Accounting Conference will be held here April 17-18.

Volunteer banquet will be held at Maggie Park-Room in Bryan. The Orchestra will play for the MSC after the banquet.

Drive Here $1,131.64

Chrysler Chest Drive netted the money will be used for Twelfth Man Scholarship for a foreign student and Texas student.

Members of the A&M Canterbury Club will take part in the third annual Canterbury Convention to be held at St. Mark's Church in Houston April 17-19.

Members of the A&M Canterbury Club will take part in the third annual Canterbury Convention to be held at St. Mark's Church in Houston April 17-19.

Members of the A&M Canterbury Club will take part in the third annual Canterbury Convention to be held at St. Mark's Church in Houston April 17-19.

Members of the A&M Canterbury Club will take part in the third annual Canterbury Convention to be held at St. Mark's Church in Houston April 17-19.

Members of the A&M Canterbury Club will take part in the third annual Canterbury Convention to be held at St. Mark's Church in Houston April 17-19.

Members of the A&M Canterbury Club will take part in the third annual Canterbury Convention to be held at St. Mark's Church in Houston April 17-19.

Members of the A&M Canterbury Club will take part in the third annual Canterbury Convention to be held at St. Mark's Church in Houston April 17-19.

Aggies, Sex And Spillane

If Mickey Spillane wrote text books, Aggies would be the most educated men in the United States. Over 600 students have flocked to various book stores to grab Spillane's newest book, "Kiss Me Deadly."

A&M Delegates Attend ASAE Meet in Okla.

Six delegates from the A & M chapter of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers will attend the meeting of the southwest section of the ASAE at Oklahoma A&M this weekend.

Sparks Gets '53 Agent; Most Offices Run-Offs

Seal Drive Is Falling Short Of 1952 Total

Easter Seal donations are falling short of the total collected last year, said Luther Jones, president of the Easter Seal Committee.

Classes Vote Down New Honor Code

Response to the proposed honor code is generally unfavorable in the few departments reporting in the School of Arts and Sciences, said J. P. Abbott, dean of the school.

Gene Sparks was elected class '53 agent to the Former Students Association in general campus class elections yesterday. He was the only officer picked by the seniors. B. Q. (Buck) Evens was selected assistant class agent.

There were 1,331 votes cast from 8 a.m. to 5:30 a.m. The senior class had 150 votes, the junior class 575, the sophomore class 464, and the freshman class 142 votes.

Mobile Unit To Give X-Rays April 11-18

Free Tuberculosis chest X-rays will be taken tomorrow through April 18, except Sunday, in the MSC.

The survey offers a free chest X-ray to every resident 15 years of age or older in an effort to detect unknown tuberculosis victims. It is sponsored by the Brazos County Tuberculosis Association and the State Department of Health.

The unit will operate from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Last year 12,249 X-rays were taken in Brazos County, with 6,004 being made in College Station.

Mrs. R. H. Bush, executive secretary of the Brazos County Tuberculosis Association, urged all College Station residents to take advantage of this free service.

In reminding them to have an X-ray, she said everyone needs a check each year. A light case may develop from one year to the next, she said.

"If this is the case, chances are that the case will be slight and cure can be rapid," she added.

Funds from the sale of Christmas seals finance the drive. Although X-ray is free to citizens, the cost to the Association for each X-ray is 75 cents.

Cotton Price is chairman of the College Station drive, and W. L. Penberthy, dean of men, is head of student publicity.

Panel Talks To Be Given By Accountants

The sixth annual Accounting Conference will be held here April 17-18.

Two panel discussions entitled "A Program of Financial Planning and Controls" and "Renegotiation and Redetermination of Prices" will highlight the meeting.

Dr. David H. Morgan, dean of the college, will give the address of welcome to the conference. More than 200 expected to attend.

The panel discussion will be by the Monsanto Chemical Company on "A Program of Financial Planning and Controls." W. G. Cunningham of San Antonio Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants, will preside.

Taking part in this panel discussion will be Daniel M. Sheehan, vice-president and comptroller, phosphate division.

Patrick J. Dowd, director of internal auditing; Walter C. Thilking, assistant to the vice-president and comptroller; M. C. Covert, comptroller, organic chemicals division; E. J. Cunningham, assistant comptroller.

The other panel discussion will be on "Renegotiation and Redetermination of Prices." R. L. Brumage, controller, Dresser Industries Inc., will chair the panel and participants will be Amos J. Coffman, council, Chicago Regional Board; Truxton Shaw, assistant professor of accounting, SMU; Leslie Mills, partner, Price Waterhouse and Co.

Martin to Receive Writing Awards

Holloway Martin, senior journalism major from Groesbeck, left yesterday for Beaumont to attend the Texas Gulf Coast Press Association convention today and Saturday.

Martin, winner of the Rural Journalism Contest, sponsored by the association, will be presented with a $100 cash award, a gold make-up rule, and an all-expense paid trip to the convention.

His survey, titled "School News in the Community Newspaper," was selected from entries submitted by juniors and seniors from Texas colleges offering a four-year curriculum in journalism.

MSC Gives DSA To Six Last Night

The MSC Council presented last night six Distinguished Service Awards to five students and a faculty member at the Annual Meeting of the Council.

Those receiving the highest awards presented by the Council for their "stalwart support of and contribution to the development of the MSC social and educational program" were:

Dr. John H. Quisenberry, first Chairman of the MSC Council, 1950.

Rodney Heath of Corpus Christi, Directorate Chairman of the House Committee.

Members of the A&M Canterbury Club will take part in the third annual Canterbury Convention to be held at St. Mark's Church in Houston April 17-19.

All Episcopal students and their friends are urged to attend, said Don Strange, president of the campus group. Reservations for the convention must be made with Strange, who lives in Dorm 6, or with Scotty Paraham, Walton Hall, before April 12. The fee is $4.50.

The Reverend Howard A. Johnson, professor of theology at the University of the South, will be the main speaker. The theme of the convention is "The Resurrection and Its Meaning for Life."

The club will meet in St. Thomas Chapel at 7:15 Wednesday night to complete arrangements for the trip.

Lung Collapse Near Fatal To Student

David Lee Mitchell, senior architecture major from Albuquerque, N. M., is in critical condition from a lung collapse during the Easter holidays.

The lung condition developed Sunday and Mitchell was rushed to a hospital to undergo an operation. Although he was not expected to live through Monday, he was given another operation and his condition improved slightly.

While in school, Mitchell was active in YMCA work and served as part time music director for the Baptist Student Center.

Canterbury Club To Attend Meeting

Members of the A&M Canterbury Club will take part in the third annual Canterbury Convention to be held at St. Mark's Church in Houston April 17-19.

All Episcopal students and their friends are urged to attend, said Don Strange, president of the campus group. Reservations for the convention must be made with Strange, who lives in Dorm 6, or with Scotty Paraham, Walton Hall, before April 12. The fee is $4.50.

The Reverend Howard A. Johnson, professor of theology at the University of the South, will be the main speaker. The theme of the convention is "The Resurrection and Its Meaning for Life."

The club will meet in St. Thomas Chapel at 7:15 Wednesday night to complete arrangements for the trip.

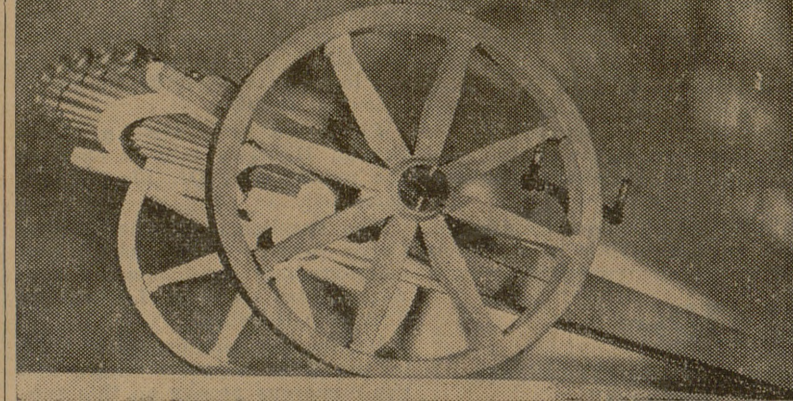

Convocation Set For A&S Awards

The Arts and Sciences student awards will be presented at a convocation tentatively scheduled for May 11 in Guion Hall, said Dr. G. W. Schlesselman, convocation chairman.

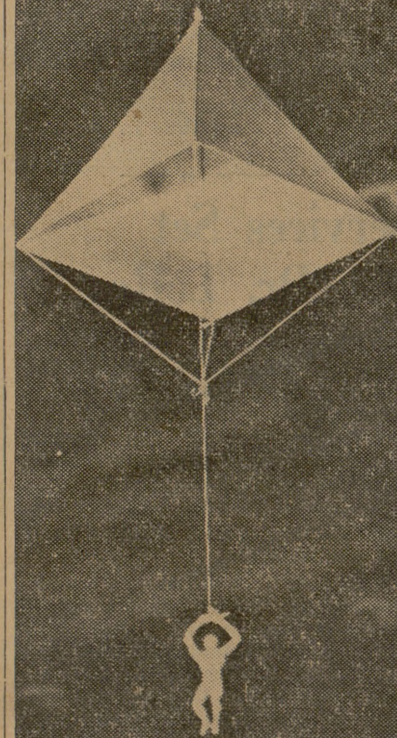

He also said that changing of the convocation ceremonies to All-College Day, May 9, is under consideration.

Dr. W. H. Delaplaine is chairman of the faculty committee considering candidates for the awards.

Student Appreciation awards to faculty members will be presented at the convocation by Ralph Wallingford, President of the Student Council.

MACHINE GUN—One of the many Leonardo Da Vinci's inventions on display in the MSC promenade is this model of a 10-barreled machine gun. The barrels could be fired one by one or simultaneously, as occasion demanded.

COMING DOWN—A pyramid-shaped "tent of linen," as Leonardo Da Vinci called it, is now on display in the MSC promenade. Da Vinci is supposed to have used the parachute and found it successful.

'Modern' Show By Da Vinci In MSC Now

A 400-year old exhibit of "modern" devices, including an airplane, a helicopter, a military tank, an air conditioner, a hydraulic pump and a parachute, is now on display in the MSC promenade.

Invented by Leonard da Vinci, famous for his paintings "Mona Lisa" and "The Last Supper," the models were furnished by the International Business Machine Corporation. The MSC Art Gallery is sponsoring the show here.

The working models were made from da Vinci's sketches by Dr. Roberto Guatelli, noted da Vinci scholar. Other models will be shown later when space is available.

Da Vinci's ideas are similar to many modern developments. Engineers say that his helicopter would have flown if built. Some of his inventions were in actual use during his time.

Senate Moves To Coordinate Students-Prof

A step toward the bettering of student-professor relations was made last night by the Student Senate.

Their actions were based on suggestions presented to the Senate in a letter from C. G. (Spike) White. He asked that (1) cadet officers urge students to have more conferences with their professors, (2) instructors should be invited to eat in the mess hall with the students and in return have the professors invite the students to eat in their homes, (3) set aside one hour each semester for a school-wide coffee.

The Senate approved inviting the instructors to eat with the students, but voted down the part of the proposal that would ask the instructors to invite the students into their homes. They strongly approved the motion urging more conferences and asked the professors to take the first step toward better relations. They felt that any action by the students should be on a group basis.

A report was submitted on the TISA meeting at which the same problems were discussed. It was pointed out that student-professor relationships need bettering most in the larger colleges.

A motion asking that no signs be put up for elections was also passed by the Senate. They asked that signs already up should be taken down by the student who put them up. The reasons cited by the Senate for this action were: the signs were against Aggie traditions, the cost to the candidates involved, cluttering the campus with cheap publicity, and campaigning should be on the basis of how well the candidate presents himself to the students.

Plans to improve the intramural fields were discussed. It was decided that the field south of Duncan be plowed up and improved. A proposal for the college providing sandbag bases was defeated.