At Marquette Drafted; Aggs Play Cougars

Leo's On Center? In Non-League Tilt

Marquette, first-string Aggie center from New York, has been drafted because of his speed. He reported for duty today. He is definitely coming back to play for the Aggies when he gets out of the military. Coach Ray George said he is not sure who will replace Marquette on next year's team. He said he may move a varsity player, perhaps Cooper Robbins or Bob McCarley, to the position.

George also mentioned Wayne Connell, this year's fish team center, as a prospect for the position.

Fish and Wharton Meet Here Today

Carl Baker will start the pitching chores for the Aggie Fish against Wharton Junior College today. Milton Hickman will complete the battery for A&M.

This game is a warm-up for the Texas Shorthorn game Friday.

In the outfield, John Stockton will work center field, Benn Hubbard starts in right, and Rodney Vance will patrol left.

John Morrison will lead off and play third base. Jim Howell covers the first sack, and Bill Helton will work short. Bob Pender will cover second.

Aggie diamond crew will play the University of Houston in the final non-conference game of the season.

Thursday and Friday, the Texas Longhorns come to Kyle Field in a back-to-the-ball battle to gain a first place tie with the SMU Mustangs, who have already completed their season. Texas needs a win in both games to equal SMU's conference mark of 12 wins and three losses.

Two defeats by the Baylor Bears in Waco on Thursday and Friday sank the Aggies deep in fourth place in SWC standings. Only if the Bears lose their three remaining games and the Aggies down Texas twice, can the Cadets move up into third place.

In the Friday game with Baylor, inability to get enough base hits again was the cause of the Aggie downfall. Lester Byrd picked up two of the three Aggie hits, while Bill Munnerlyn got the other.

Jerry Nelson was the losing pitcher for the Farmers, who now have a conference record of six wins and seven defeats. Nelson struck out nine Bears, but gave up 11 safe bingles, including two runners by the Baylor rightfielder, Kenneth Owens. He walked three.
