

Nurserymen Set Short Course June 1 in MSC

A short course for commercial nurserymen will be held in the Memorial Student Center June 1-3, said F. W. Hensel, assistant-director of short courses.

Registration will be held in the lobby of the MSC, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday, June 1. Registration fees will be $3.00 per person.

Meeting will be held in the MSC Ballroom and exhibits will be displayed in rooms 2A and 2B.

There will be a banquet at 7:30 p. m., Monday, June 1, in the Ballroom of the MSC. Tickets will be $2.50 a piece and may be obtained at the registration desk.

The Short Course Office will furnish forms and personnel for the registration.

The MSC will furnish public address system, slide projector and operator, hotel accommodations, exhibits space and meeting rooms.

The Short Course for Commercial Nurserymen will be sponsored by Floriculture & Landscape Architecture Department.

Fowler Will Give CHS Grad Sermon

James F. Fowler will be speaker for the A&M Consolidated baccalaureate sermon at the Church of Christ, May 31, said J. S. Skrivanek, principal of Consolidated High School.

Dr. John Bertrand, dean of the Basic Division, will be the speaker for the commencement exercises June 1 at 8 p. m. in Guion Hall, said Skrivanek.

There will be 26 seniors graduated from Consolidated High School this year.

Southern Churches Meet Here June 30

Rev. A. J. Mohr, mentioned in Progressive Farmer as the most outstanding rural church worker, will be one of 12 Southern church enthusiasts present here at the Eighth Annual Church Conference, June 30 through July 2, said Robert L. Skrabanek, professor agricultural economics and sociology.

Cotton Oil Mill Men Here May 25

Approximately 125 cottonseed oil mill operators are expected by the chemical engineering department for their annual Cottonseed Oil Mill Operators short course to begin Sunday in the MSC.

Lasting until May 28, the conference will discuss problems relating to mill production.

Dr. J. D. Lindsay, head of the chemical engineering department, will be chairman of the course.

A banquet will be held Wednesday at 7 p. m. in the MSC Ballroom in honor of those attending the short course.

Journalism Plans Summer Courses

Three courses will be offered during summer school by the journalism department said D. D. Burchard, head of the department.

The courses are Agricultural Journalism 415, a course in agricultural writing and news reporting, which will be offered both terms; Journalism 311, a course in radio news writing and reporting, scheduled for the second term only and Journalism 406, a course in public relations, to be presented the first semester only.

Wesley Foundation Names Trustees

Trustees for the A&M Wesley Foundation were named recently, and authorized to purchase a lot on which to build a parsonage for the Wesley Foundation Director.

The lot, located at Nagle and Inlow in north College Station, has been purchased, and construction on a three bedroom house will begin early in the summer, said the Rev. Robert Sneed, director of the Foundation.

Trustees named by the executive committee of the Board of Directors of the Methodist Student Movement at A&M are Otis Cowsett, Robert Shrode, Nelson Durst, Robert Schleider and Claude Edge.

Members of the building committee are Roy Golston, Edge, Shrode and Sneed.

Venable to Be Ad Manager Of 'Cattleman'

Bob Venable '52, editorial assistant of the Texas Engineering Extension Service, has been named advertising manager of the International Cattleman magazine headquartered in Houston.

He is a former Battalion reporter and advertising salesman.

For "scholarship and professional aptitude" he was awarded one of 24 journalism internships received in Texas in 1951. The Texas Daily Newspaper Association sponsors the program. In serving his internship, he was placed on the Houston Chronicle advertising staff to observe sales methods being used.

During the summer of 1952, he was employed as an advertising salesman by the Southern Seedman magazine of San Antonio.

Upon his return to A&M in July 1952, Venable was employed by the Engineering Extension Service as an editorial assistant. After six months, he was placed in charge of the publications department at TEES.

He married the former Miss June Deakle of Galveston in December 1952. They reside at 325 First St. N.

Venable will take over his new duties with the International Cattleman June 1, 1953, according to Sid Abernathy '51, general manager of the magazine. Abernathy is also a former Battalion reporter and city editor.

The College Station Kiwanis Club will present a medal to an outstanding senior in music at the Consolidated High School graduation ceremonies, said Robert Boone, chous director.

A plaque listing the winners of each year's medal will be presented also to the school.

Job Interviews

SUMMER JOB CALLS
● The United States Gypsum Co. of Sweetwater has a limited number of openings for junior engineering students.

JOB CALLS
● Business administration, agricultural economics, sociology and journalism graduates may qualify for the position of manager of the Montgomery County Chamber of Commerce, which will open June 1. They prefer applicants with public relations training.

● The H&M Engineering Co. of Corpus Christi, is in need of a man who has studied land planning and at the same time is good at mathematics, can do ink tracing and subdivision layouts. Landscape architecture, architectural and civil engineering majors may qualify.

● Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. of Tulsa, Okla., is interested in employing men with Ph. D., M. S., or outstanding students with B. S. degrees in chemistry, geology, mathematics, physics, chemical, mechanical and petroleum engineering, for work in their Research Department.

This Department consists of three major parts: exploration research, production research and process research.

● H. W. Vietmeyer of Milwaukee, Wis., is the owner of a sixty acre tract of land northeast of San Benito, and is looking for a man to manage this land. It has been planted in cotton for many years. Agronomy, farm management and range and forestry majors may qualify.

● Civil and mechanical graduates may qualify for steel plate and tank erection work, estimating, etc. with Ellerby Brothers of Fort Arthur.

● The Houston Chamber of Commerce is looking for business administration majors who would qualify for the position of manager of the statistics department.

This work requires a knowledge of the fundamentals of statistical methods, imagination and a reasonable proficiency in the use of a calculating machine and some knowledge in charting statistical data.

● There is an opening in the Miami, Oklahoma Plant of B. F.

Goodrich Co. for a design engineer. They are interested in mechanical or electrical engineering graduates who have had some practical experience in design and maintenance engineering work.

● Business administration majors may qualify for positions with The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. of Dallas, as bank examiners. Appointments are at the Trainee Assistant Bank Examiner level.

Employees of the Dallas office may be stationed in Louisiana or Texas; however, travel may be required throughout Arizona, Louisiana, New Mexico and Texas.

● The Procter & Gamble Defense Corp. of Amarillo, has the following vacancies: A man for personnel relations work, an office manager for work on payroll, etc. (does not necessarily require an accounting major), and an industrial engineer.

Business administration, industrial education, agricultural economics and industrial engineering majors may qualify. They cannot consider anyone under ROTC contract because of security clearance.

● There is an opening for a civil engineering major with the Gulf Bitulithic Co. of Houston. Work would be as instrument man and chief of a survey party. This particular job will last one year, but the employment is of a permanent nature.

Water Color Show Planned for MSC

The Texas Water Color Society Art show June 13-24, is one of the several exhibits scheduled for the MSC this summer, said Mrs. Ralph Terry, advisor to the Art Gallery Committee.

The Ladies Home Journal art exhibit will be here Aug. 1-14.

Preceding it will be the original work of a well known painter from India July 1-14. This exhibit is being made possible through one of the foreign students attending A&M.

During the periods between these other exhibits, there will be exhibits of the work done by Mrs. Terry's students.

Thompson Elected Ag Eco President

Don Thompson, senior agricultural economics major from Temple, is new president of the Agricultural Economics Club.

Other new officers are Bob Dannon, vice-president; Andrew Hudson, secretary-treasurer; Carter Price, reporter; Al Stoddard, sergeant-at-arms; T. O. Gibson, Agricultural Council representative. Harley Bebout and Tyrus R. Timm were elected faculty advisors.

These officers will serve for the fall semester of the next year.
