More Than One Hundred Hear Annual Beef Cattle Conference

"You will never place a dollars-and-cents value on research," W. C. McCormick of the Georgia Coastal Plain Experiment Station told more than a hundred participants in the annual Short Course in Beef Cattle Production, held at A&M Tuesday. McCormick said, "You see the benefits of research day after day; it improves your living and your way of life—but you will never realize the full significance and value of it." Ben Cook, assistant to the dean of the college's School of Agriculture, welcomed the group to the campus and said, "we are eating more beef today than we have in peace-time since 1907." Dr. J. C. Miller, head of the animal husbandry department, spoke briefly on the aims of the short course and pictured the growth of organization and coordination of effort in beef production. He also outlined the growth and function of the National Livestock and Meat Board. Nutrition Requirements Discussed Dr. H. O. Kunkel of the college's Departments of Biochemistry and Nutrition and Animal Husbandry, spoke on "The Nutritional Requirements of Beef Cattle." The bandy department, sponsors of J. K. Riggs of the animal husbandry short course who served as general chairman of the short course, spoke on "Utilization of Low Grade Roughages and Dehydrated Feeds." McCormick's subject was "New Developments in Feeding Beef Cattle Non-Protein Nitrogen Compounds." The Tuesday afternoon session held at the beef cattle center was devoted to discussions on meeting nutritional requirements. Talks were made by G. L. Robertson and J. H. Jones and H. A. Fitzhugh. A panel discussion with Dr. J. C. Miller as moderator had as members, Fitzhugh, J. H. Jones, H. O. Kunkel, W. C. McCormick, G. L.

Robertson and J. K. Riggs. Wednesday morning's session at the Memorial Student Center was devoted to a program of breeding. ## Malenkov Boasts That U. S. No Longer Has Monopoly

MOSCOW, (Thursday)—(AP)—Pravda said Thursday the Soviet Union recently touched off a hydrogen bomb explosion of great strength. The Soviet Communist paper said the Russian H-bomb was exploded "with an experimental aim." "As a result of the possession of mighty power of thermo-nuclear fission in the hydrogen bomb, the explosion was of great strength," Pravda added. "The test showed the power of the hydrogen bomb was many times greater than the power of atomic bombs." Premier Georgi Malenkov told the Supreme Soviet on Aug. 8 that the United States was no longer alone in its monopoly of the hydrogen bomb. At that time the United States said, however, that it had no evidence that the Soviet Union had set off an H-bomb. The United States said its detection apparatus would register such a test. Malenkov said on Aug. 8 he made his announcement because "the transatlantic enemies of peace have of late found a new so-lace: The United States are in possession of a still more powerful weapon than the atomic bomb and have the monopoly of the hydrogen bomb, if you please." "This evidently could have been some sort of comfort for them had it been in keeping with reality, but this is not so. The government deems it necessary to report to the Supreme Soviet that the United States have no monopoly in the production of the hydrogen bomb either." Malenkov's announcement followed by five years and nine months a statement by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that the West's sole possession of the secret of the atom bomb "has long ceased to exist." American experts said after Malenkov's Aug. 8 speech that, although the Russians might have mastered the secret of the hydrogen bomb, they doubted that they had produced one. They labeled his speech an attempt to bolster failing Soviet morale and frighten the outside world.

Town Hall Will Begin November 17

Town Hall presentations for the 1953-54 school year will begin on November 17 with an opening attraction by the American Album of Familiar Music with Gustave Haenschen directing the chorus and orchestra. Scheduled for December 7 is "An Evening With Charles Laughton," Peggy Lee and Jan Garber and his orchestra are tentatively set for December 14. The San Antonio Symphony will be featured on January 7 and on February 4 a concert will be presented by the Westminster Choir. The Gershwin Festival with orchestra, chorus, and soloist will be the last of the six Town Hall attractions and is scheduled for February 25. All the Town Hall shows will be presented in Guion Hall until the construction of the new Physical Education Building is completed. Town Hall tickets will be given to students paying the student activities fee. Students not paying the fee may pay $4.50 and non-students $6.50 for tickets. No tickets for reserved seats will be sold, and all seats, both student and non-student will be on a first-come first-serve basis. Non-student Town Hall tickets will go on sale at the start of school, according to C. G. (Spike) White, Assistant Dean of Men For Activities. Until completion of the P.E. building, two or more concerts will be given in Guion Hall by each artist to accommodate ticket holders. The completion date for the new building has been set back by recent steel strikes.

Ag Extension Families Hold Large Picnic

A large group of Texas Agricultural Extension Service workers and their families enjoyed a picnic at Hensel Park Monday evening. Following the offering of thanks by Mrs. R. H. Bush, the group feasted on fried chicken and ham, an assortment of salads, baked beans, vegetables and fruits, desserts and cold drinks. Director G. G. Gibson introduced recently appointed staff members to the group. They were Charles Hensarling, poultry husbandman, and Neal Randolph and Freeman Fuller, entomologists. Representatives from the A&M System included Dr. and Mrs. M. T. Harrington and Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Shuffler. Guests at the picnic from the surrounding area were Mrs. Stanley Haver and Mrs. Billy M. Seargent and children. Out-of-town guests were Kermit Schlamb, poultry marketing specialist with the North Dakota Extension Service at Fargo; Mrs. Florence Low, state home demonstration leader at College Park, Maryland; and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hunt and Steven Miller Hunt, from Terrell. Mrs. Hunt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Miller of Bryan. About 150 persons attended the picnic.

Square Dancing Instruction Given in MSC

Manning and Nita Smith will conduct a square and round dance institute for teachers and leaders August 24 to August 29 at the MSC. Latest square and couple dances will be taught and basic instruction for callers will be given. The week's activities will be climaxed with a big free dance at the Grove on Friday night, August 28. The Smiths are now at Colorado Springs brushing up on the newest techniques at Lloyd Shaw's annual folk dance school. They have been on the faculty of the United Squares Institute in Wisconsin and Beavers Bend, Oklahoma. Their talent as exhibition dancers each year takes them farther afield, and the Smiths have been invited to dance at the International Festival in Chicago in October. They will also conduct an institute in Kansas City over Labor Day weekend. Among the noted callers and teachers who have pre-registered for the local institute the week of August 24 are Bob Cowan, of Chicago, Charles Bogan and Lionel Lapyade, of New Orleans, Hermand Ragland, of Houston, and Bill Borton, of El Paso. Some of the latest dances to be taught include Lady of Spain, Hayloft Schottische, Capri Square, Canadian Quadrille, Tennessee Polka Square, and Twirl Away. Instruction will also be given in basic waltzing as well as routines for such new favorites as Monterey Waltz, Waltz Carousel, Flirtation Waltz, Drusilla Waltz, and Three O'Clock Waltz. The Smiths have conducted dancing classes in this area for several years and last year instructed student groups at the MSC under auspices of the Center's dance committee. They have appeared as exhibition dancers in most of the larger square dance festivals of Texas and the Southwest and last winter were a featured attraction at the inaugural ball for Governor Shivers in Austin.
