4-H Training Lab Set for August 24

More than 100 delegates are expected for the 1953 Texas 4-H Junior Leadership Training Laboratory at A&M August 24-29, according to Floyd Lynch, state 4-H club leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Annual week of training for 4-H club members who are serving as junior leaders, is sponsored by the Extension Service and the United Gas Pipe Line Company. It is designed to give experience in planning and practicing leadership activities for youth.

The Texas 4-H Council, a statewide organization of 4-H club members, will be responsible for the operation of the laboratory. Dorothy Poltyn, of Lamb county and Delbert Taylor, of Tarrant county are co-chairmen for the council.

Dr. Glen Dildine, director, research for youth work for the National 4-H Club Foundation, Washington, D. C. and Marina Dermody, assistant will direct the explorations for the laboratory. Morning sessions will be study time for the young people on the characteristics and problems they have in modern living.

Housing Office Assigns Dorms For Fall Term

The following dormitory area assignments will be in effect for the Fall Semester 1953:

- 14, 15, 16, 17, Walton, Miller, Law and Puryear — Basic Division
- Leggett, Mitchell, 2 and 4 — Non Military
- 1, 3, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 — Corps Upperclassmen
- Hart — Military Athletes
- Bizzell — Graduate

In order to protect student property, all dormitories except Bizzell Hall will be closed and locked at 5:00 p.m. Friday, August 28th.

All students MUST be moved to their assigned rooms for the Fall semester by 5:00 p.m. Friday, August 28th including those students moving to a dormitory now closed.

Dormitories now closed will be unlocked during the following hours to accommodate students who must move.

- 1:00 — 5:00 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 27.
- 1:00 — 5:00 p.m. Friday, Aug. 28.

All students pay fees and reserve rooms according to the following procedure:

- Veterans report to Veteran's Adviser's Office, Room 102 Goodwin Hall
- All pay fees at the Fiscal Office
- Reserve rooms at the Housing Office according to the following schedule:

Students in Mitchell and Leggett who wish to reserve the room they now occupy and students who lived in Bizzell the first six weeks and wish to reserve their old rooms there, may reserve rooms between 8:00 a.m. Monday, August 24th and 5:00 p.m. Tuesday, August 25th.

All other non-military students who wish to register for the Fall Semester may do so on a first come, first served basis beginning at 8:00 a.m. Wednesday, August 26th.

Students (military) who wish to register for Law and Puryear and all students who will live in a dormitory which is now closed (i.e. not being used for Summer School) may register for rooms on a first come, first served basis beginning at 8:00 a.m. Monday, August 24th.

Day students, in cluding those living in college apartments, are reminded that they may save considerable time in the registration procedure by paying fees early. All students not living in college dormitories must secure a Day Student Permit from the Housing Office before paying fees.

living. They will think and talk about "what is important to me." In the afternoon sessions they will plan 4-H activities that can meet these problems, in the evening enjoy recreational programs.

August 28 will be 4-H Achievement Day for the laboratory when each group presents in dramatic form the results of their week of exploring youth.

Delegates will live in the college dormitories, eat at Sbsa Mess Hall, and have their meetings at the Memorial Student Center. Three boys and girls, as district delegates accompanied by county Extension agents, will attend from each of these counties: Hansford, Randall, Cochran, Stephens, Dallas, Wood, Ward, Tom Green, Comanche, Sabine, Montgomery, Guadalupe, Orange and Nueces. Special delegates from Tarrant and Fischer counties will attend on the basis of the leadership they have demonstrated in club work as a result of attending previous laboratories.

Assisting Mr. Lynch with the Laboratory will be Erma Wines, Mildred Harris and A. H. Karcher, assistant 4-H club leaders; Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life education specialist; Lucille Moore, recreation specialist; Mae Belle Smith, acting organization specialist; and Mrs. Dorothy Holland, publications editor. G. L. Carter Jr., youth editor, Farm and Ranch, Nashville, Tennessee, will assist with the recreation.

Sponsors attending will be Harry Cain, assistant director, Public Relations, United Gas Pipe Line Company, Shreveport; C. E. Nelson, Jr., Shreveport; John Hartzell, Houston.

Farmers Don't Eat Sufficient Beef

Farmers themselves do not eat sufficient beef, according to nutritionists.

In the past, there was no way to keep beef on the farm other than by brining, but with deep freezes becoming more and more popular, farmers are now able to eat as much beef and as often as the city dweller who lives next door to a market.

Beef provides good quality protein important for body building. Lean beef is an excellent source of B vitamins and of phosphorus and iron. Even the least expensive of these cuts contains all of these four values.

Proper storage in the home is important. Fresh beef should be stored, loosely covered, in the coldest part of the refrigerator and should be used within a few days. Variety meats such as liver are especially perishable and should be used within a few days. Ground beef should be held only one day unless frozen.

Cadet Rank Distinguished By Insignia

How does one recognize the rank of cadet officers of the corps of cadets at A&M?

Colonel of the corps who is the corps commander may be recognized by an insignia of four diamonds on his uniform.

The cadet colonel has three diamonds, as regimental, or wing commander or corps executive.

The lieutenant colonel has an insignia of two diamonds, corps staff, executive or regimental or wing staff, battalion or group commander.

A major has one diamond, regimental or wing staff or executive officer of the battalion staff.

Three buttons signify that the wearer is a captain, battalion staff, company or squadron commander.

A first lieutenant has two buttons and he is second in command of a company, battery or squadron or other company or squadron leader.

A second lieutenant has one button on his uniform, and he may be an assistant platoon leader or an assistant flight leader.

The branch insignia and colors of the cadet corps uniforms are, infantry, crossed rifles, blue; artillery, crossed cannons, scarlet; armor, crossed sabers with front view of tank superimposed, yellow; engineers, castle, scarlet and white; signal corps, crossed signal flags with flaming torch, orange and white; chemical corps, benzene ring and crossed retorts, cobalt blue and golden yellow; quartermaster corps, eagle surmounted wheel with crossed sword and key, buff; ordnance, shell and flame, crimson and yellow; army security agency, sword horizontally across upper part of open book with crossed laurel branches below; transportation corps, spoked wheel, red and yellow; air force, winged propeller, blue and gold.

Shah To Return from Rome

Sunday's fiasco. He emerged to take over the country Wednesday.

The new regime called on the Shah to return from Rome and take over the country. In Rome, the Shah said he planned to fly back as soon as news of the coup was confirmed.

As furious battles raged in the streets of Tehran, the radio became the only means of communication. Cable and telephone service overseas was cut off.

By evening, however, all appeared calm here. Zahedi decreed an indefinite shut down of all shops except those of grocers, butchers and bakers. The city was firmly in control of his army and police.

The first news of the coup to reach the outside world was contained in confused broadcasts by members of the new regime.

There were arguments among them, clearly audible to listeners, as to who should read a communique announcing the triumph of the Shah's forces.

"It's not important who reads it. The important thing is that it gets read," said a masculine voice, and then a man who introduced himself as Col. Pohlavon came on.

By 7 p.m. local time (Wednesday) the last vest of resistance in the capital, Mossadegh's home, and the compound surrounding it, were in the hands of Zahedi's forces. A mob shouting "long live the Shah" swept through the compound and the ailing politician's house. They even entered the room containing the little white bed from which he so long held court in which he received foreign diplomats.

The first Zahedi men to break into Mossadegh's room found only the body of his personal bodyguard. Mossadegh and his cabinet colleagues are still missing.
