balanced," says Neely but doesn't appear to be worried about it.

Baylor boasts what it confidentially thinks will be the best backfield in the country. They're calling them—Jerry Coody, L. G. Dupree, Cotton Davidson and Allen Jones—the Fearsome Foursome. And Baylor anticipates a good line. Southern Methodist gets some backing as a championship contender as Jerry Norton, Frank Eidom and Don Miller head a veteran studded backfield corps. Woodard says he has eight or ten backs of top grade and while his line won't be too big it should be mobile and much stronger than the leaky forward wall thrown up last season.

Texas Likes Massey
Texas thinks it will have the nation's best end in Carlton Massey and looks for outstanding play from Buck Lansford, a great tackle, and Phil Branch, a terrific guard. The backfield will be led by Billy Quinn, the lone returnee from the top-flight 1952 quartet. Among the sophomores are Delane Womack, an explosive runner, and three fine quarterbacks—Pat Tolar, Charley Brewer and Dick Miller. Bunny Andrews, who second-fiddled T. Jones last year, may be the regular quarterback but he'll have to really step.

Texas has plenty of two-way performers and will be helped more than hindered by abandonment of the two-platoon system. Other conference teams also appear to face no handicaps from the change. Rice has 11 regulars back from last season, all able to go under one-platoon football.

Rice's ponderous line will be led by Dick Chapman, who was all-conference last year as a defensive guard, Leroy Fenstermaker, a sensation at quarterback in the last half of the 1952 season, and Kosse Johnson, a runner, punter and line-backer, are keymen of the backfield.

MSC Bowling Alley To Open August 25

The MSC Bowling Alley will be re-opened on Tuesday, August 25, after having been completely re-finished.

The alleys were first levelled and then sanded. Five coats of resurfacing compound were used to complete the job.

Texas Christian's backfield will feature Ronnie Clinkscale, the speed demon, and Mal Fowler, who is going to be the regular quarterback—after the first game. Fowler is sitting out the Kansas game because he suffered a knee injury in the opening game of 1950 and missed the remainder of the season. The conference ruled that he could have another season of eligibility minus one game. Short on ends and centers, the Frogs should be strong enough elsewhere.

A&M expect a better backfield but is doubtful of its line and just what Arkansas will do is indeed problematical. There is a new coach, Bowden Wyatt of Wyoming, at the helm of the Razorbacks and he's installing a new system, using the single wingback instead of the T. Arkansas has 15 seniors among its lettermen and again has Lamar McHan, who was an outstanding quarterback in 1951 but was handicapped by injuries much of last year.

Hunters Gird For Heavy Dove Crop

By PETE HARDESTY

September 1 will be the opening day of the hunting season. In the north this date usually means the end of the fishing season except for those who like to take their fish through a hole in the ice. Here in the south where our summer days often reach into October and November there is really never a close of the fishing season.

By fishing during the middle of the day, southern fishermen have about five months added to their time for going after their fine finned friends. Except for January and February (and often even during these two winter months); warm days will appear giving the fisherman sufficient time to try his luck in relative comfort.

However, fish being fish, it is not always a good idea to count out the cold days. We have caught fish when the tip of the rod would become icy. Fishing in that kind of weather requires a bucket full of glowing charcoal and a real desire to fish.

Back to hunting, hunters in this area have the advantage of an extended Dove season. Just across the Old San Antonio Road, the North Zone dove season begins September 1 and closes October 10, both days inclusive.

This side of the Old San Antonio Road, the South Zone dove season begins on October 1 and closes November 9. By paying the $2.15 hunting license fee, the hunter can legally hunt doves for two months and 9 days simply by driving from one zone to another.

Shooting time is from noon to sunset and the bag limit per person is 10 doves. The hunter must not have more than one day's kill in his possession.

We asked an old timer of this area and he said that the dove crop was good this season. They seem to still be nesting around the campus.

This raises the question of whether or not those doves on the north side of the San Antonio Road (about six miles west of Bryan) know its time to get off the nest and start flying for their lives. That is a question for the Game and Fish Commission to decide and since they have ruled that it is okay to shoot doves in the north zone on September 1 we are not going to worry about the bad timing of the doves.

Whether you walk them up out of the goat weeds or wait for them in the evening near a water hole or both, remember to use the same caution you used last year in handling that gun. The fact that you are here to enjoy another season speaks well for your watchfulness while hunting.

Fish Restoring Program Given Federal Aid

Texas will receive $191,741 in Federal aid funds for fish restoration during fiscal year 1954.

An upsurge in the purchase of sport fishing equipment during fiscal year 1953, attributed in part to the growing popularity of spinning tackle, has made the sum of $4,299,916 in Federal Aid funds available for apportionment to the 48 States for sport fishery restoration projects during fiscal year 1954, Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay announced.

This amount is an increase of $1,791,389 over last year's apportionment of $2,508,527.

These Federal funds become available to the States under the terms of the Federal Aid in Fish Restoration Act of August 9, 1950, probably better known as the "Dingell-Johnson Act." This program, now in its third year of operation, is enabling the States to create new public fishing lakes, restore many unproductive waters, and put research findings to better use.

The revenue for the Federal share of the program comes from the 10 percent excise tax on fishing rods, creels, reels, and artificial lures, baits, and flies, paid by the manufacturers of those products.

To provide a fair distribution of Federal funds, each State's share is based on the relation of the number of its fishing license holders to the total in all States, and the ratio of each State's area (including coastal and Great Lakes waters) to the area of the entire county.

LUBBOCK Tex.—Collier Parris, Amarillo public relations man, then sports editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, first called Texas Tech's athletic teams the Red Raiders, in 1934. His inspiration came from Tech's solid red uniforms and a schedule that invaded California, Illinois, and North Dakota. Officially, Tech teams are the Matadors.

It is now time to take and mail to the A&M System Soil Laboratory samples of soil from the field on which small grains and legumes will be planted this fall. The analysis could become the foundation for a soil building or improving program on your farm or ranch.
