

Course Deficiencies Abolished in New Book

Course deficiencies in academic classification have been abolished.

The new edition of college regulations changed the rule to "sophomore, junior and senior classification will be granted students on completion of 30, 60 and 95 semester hours respectively."

The old book stated that a sophomore classification will be granted only to a student who has satisfied all requirements for admission into one of the degree granting schools.

Juniors were required to have no freshman deficiency and lack not more than eight semester hours of having completed all the work of the first and second years of his curriculum with a grade point ratio of 1.00 or more.

Senior status was granted to students with no freshman or sophomore deficiency or lacking more than eight hours of having completed all the work of the first three years of his curriculum, and who had grade point ratios of 1.00 or more.

Other Changes

The new edition of the "blue book" has many other major and minor changes.

Class officers will be elected during the first and second weeks in April, and the general election will be held the fourth week in May.

In the past, both the class and general elections were held in March.

This year, classes with an enrollment of less than twelve students will be dropped on the fifth day after the close of registration, unless continued by specific action of the Executive Committee.

The old regulation read lower level classes with an enrollment of less than ten students, and upper level classes with an enrollment of less than six students, will be dropped on the fifth day after the close of registration, unless directed otherwise by the Executive Committee.

Classes Dropped

Graduate classes, other than research or problem courses, with an enrollment of less than four students were to be dropped on the fifth day after the close of registration, unless permitted to continue by the Executive Committee.

The dean of a student's school will now act on requests to substitute courses. Last year, students could not substitute a course for one they had failed without permission from the Executive Committee.

The only change in offenses punishable by dismissal from the college is "at any time or place" has been added to the anti-gambling rule.

A regulation reading "all students, except graduate students, must live in college dormitories unless living with members of their immediate families" has been inserted.

Dormitory rooms may be painted now only with the permission of the counselor. Students also must have permission from the counselor to install window fans. Installation rules are given.

Student Organizations

Rules governing student organizations now appear in "The Blue Book." Athletic, literary, religious, class, musical, scientific or technical, honorary or social organizations may be formed if approved by the student activities office.

Meetings will be held as follows: Monday, honorary societies, school councils and organizations not appearing below; Tuesday, technical and departmental clubs and societies; Wednesday, religious activities; Thursday, home town clubs and student senate; and Friday, called meetings.

The Student Life Committee will consist of ten faculty and staff members this year instead of nine faculty members as was the case in the past.

The grade point ratio requirement for Battalion, AggieLand and magazine editors has been reduced from 1.5 to 1.25. Editors need no longer apply to the Student Life Committee for a qualification statement.

Editors Removable

Magazine editors now may be removed for failure to maintain satisfactory scholastic progress or for excessive class absences. Student senators are now required to serve for two semesters.

The new book also has regulations concerning the date of election, qualifications and positions of class officers. These were omitted last year.

Six New Activities Included In MSC

An all-college carnival, square dancing and student forums will appear on the Memorial Student Center's schedule of activities for 1953-54 in addition to the regular program.

Other new activities will be record listening hours, a monthly college calendar and a great issues series.

Members of the MSC council and directorate say they have planned

John Samuels, president of the MSC council. The hobby activities are secondary, he said.

Two organizations run the MSC. The council plans and coordinates the social, cultural and educational program of the MSC. The council is composed of eight students, five faculty members and two former students. All these members are either elected, appointed or ex-officio.

The directorate organizes and supervises the student activity events of the MSC. It is composed of the chairmen of the 12 MSC committees.

The MSC activities are carried out by the 250 students who are members of the committees. Already, 350 freshmen have applied for jobs on MSC committees.

Samuels, a senior economics major from Galveston, was student president of the National Association of College Unions last year.

a bigger schedule of events for the coming year, to provide a more varied and extensive program, from both a cultural and a social standpoint.

All the regular activities will be back again—Rue Pinalle, student-faculty coffees, inter-college and Aggie talent shows, art lessons and exhibits, dance lessons, bowling teams, the etiquette series, radio programs, and camera, craft and ham radio facilities.

The MSC student activity program is mainly a service organization for students, faculty, former students and the community, said

Laundry Schedules For Year Released

Laundry schedules for the coming year are as follows:

Dormitory students whose names begin with A-D will turn in laundry on Friday. E-I will deposit laundry on Monday, J-N on Tuesday, O-S on Wednesday, and T-Z on Thursday.

Students living in dormitories 1 through 12 will turn in laundry at station two, located in dormitory 12. They will use blue laundry tickets.

Students in Hart, Law, Puryear, Mitchell, Leggett, Milner and Bizzell will turn in laundry at station three, at the north east corner of Leggett. This station will use yellow tickets.

Students living in dormitories 14, 15, 16, 17 and Walton hall turn in laundry at P. G. hall, and use gold laundry tickets.

Students living in the project house area and veteran village turn in their laundry at dormitory 12, A-L on Friday, and M-Z on Tuesday. This group is assigned white tickets printed in red.

Day students and students living in college view will use the main laundry office where they will receive white tickets printed in black. A-L is due on Friday and M-Z on Tuesday.

The size of the bundle will be limited, and there will be an overcharge for extra pieces.

Students that have not been assigned a laundry mark in the last five years will be assigned a new mark at the laundry office.

Witness to Give New Data On Reds

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—(AP)—Sen. McCarthy R-Wis said a "walking encyclopedia" witness will give new details today of Communist scheming to infiltrate the government and America's United Nations staff.

McCarthy declined to name the witness in advance of a public hearing before his Senate investigations subcommittee.

But he said the man, in prior closed door testimony, told at length of experiences as a one time Communist security officer who checked up on fellow party members in the United States.
