

Robbins Breaks Arm In Kentucky Grid Tilt

Injuries to Donald and Cooper Robbins have dampened the thrill of the 7-6 Aggie football victory over Kentucky Saturday night.

X-rays showed Donald Robbins, reserve end, suffered a left arm fracture that may sideline him for the rest of the season. His brother, Cooper, reserve center, has a leg injury which will keep him out of the Saturday contest with the University of Houston Cougars, Coach Ray George said.

Pleased with the Aggie offensive and defensive play, George said, both teams made mistakes, but "Kentucky made the big one on that extra point play."

The Aggies spent the first quarter warding off Kentucky thrusts as the Wildcats controlled the ball most of the period, but began moving in the second quarter with Quarterback Don Ellis calling the shots.

Drive Falls Short

Starting from their own 23, where a Wildcat drive had faltered, Don Kachtik bulldozed his way for 11 yards and Ellis added 10 more. It was Ellis again for 11 to the Wildcat 46, and after an Aggie off-side penalty, Ellis in two plays moved the ball to the 34.

Connie Magouirk gained seven and Joe Boring carried to the Kentucky 23. Ellis slid over tackle to the 17, then sneaked up the middle to the 11 and a first down. Kachtik ramed for three twice and Kentucky tightened up, holding Ellis to a scant yard. A fourth down Ellis pass to Bennie Sinclair fell incomplete in the end zone and the scoreless first half ended a few plays later.

Later in the third quarter, the Aggies began a drive on their own 23, and led by Ellis and Boring, drove to the Kentucky 9.

The final period opened with Ellis passing to Magouirk on the 1, then after two Kentucky off-side penalties, Ellis sneaked over for the touchdown and Boring added the all-important extra point.

Kentucky, stung by the Aggie score, battled its way across the A&M double stripe with five minutes remaining in the game, then came the extra point mix-up.

A HAPPY MAN—Coach Ray George looked happy when he got off the plane Sunday afternoon, and who can blame him? The Aggies had toppled favored Kentucky, 7-6.

When the Wildcats lined up for the point, the ball was snapped too soon, and a desperation pass into the end zone was incomplete. The Aggies kept control of the ball for the rest of the game to protect their one-point margin.

Tigers Romp to 59-0 Win Over Mustangs

Holding their Class AA foes to four net yards, A&M Consolidated's rampaging Tigers romped to a 59-0 victory over the Madisonville Mustangs Friday night. The Tigers have now scored 124 points in their two 1953 games while holding their opponents scoreless.

Consolidated faces another Class AA team Friday night, meeting Navasota on Tiger Field. Navasota has also won its first two games.

Consolidated's defense was superb, giving up only three first downs and never letting the Mustangs over their own 45 yard line. Quarterback Fred Anderson and Back Willie Arnold accounted for five touchdowns between them.

Anderson scored on a 70 yard punt return and fired touchdown passes of 10 and 16 yards to Bobby Jackson and Bobby Carter. Arnold dashed 41 yards for one of his touchdowns.

David Bonnen sprinted 47 yards for another touchdown with a punt return, and Lineman Robert Cleland recovered a fumble in the Mustan end zone.

Bubba Engelbrecht scored from six yards out in the third. Bob Joe Wade ran 13 yards for a score in the fourth.

J. B. Carrol, Carter and Melvin Free each kicked two extra points. Pete Hickman, Consolidated's outstanding defensive end and offensive tackle, broke his hand.

The longest field goal in SWC history was made against A&M in 1938 by SMU's Joe Pasqua. Pasqua place-kicked the ball between the goal posts from 52 yards out.

Saturday's Southwest Conference intersectional football games produced at least three distant surprises.

The ease with which the Baylor Bears trampled the University of California 25-0 was perhaps the greatest surprise of all.

With Francis (Cotton) Davidson passing with deadly accuracy, Baylor connected on eight of 15 passes for a phenomenal 236 yards through the air. A little simple arithmetic makes that work out to almost 30 yards per completion. The 178 yards gained on the ground gave the Bruins a total of 414 yards picked up during the day.

If Baylor can maintain that pace in conference games, it will have a date in the Cotton Bowl on New Year's day.

LSU Jolts Texas

The inept showing of Texas against LSU in going down to a 20-7 defeat was almost as startling. And unless the Longhorns can come up with a quarterback who can put some deception in the T formation attack, Texas fans are in for more dreary Saturdays.

Billy Quinn, only returning member of last season's all-conference Longhorn backfield, finished the game with a minus four yards rushing, which should bear out those who hold that a back is only as good as the line in front of him.

Aggie Victory No Fluke

The third, and most pleasant surprise was the Aggie defensive and offensive play in the 7-6 victory over the Kentucky Wildcats.

Quarterback Don Ellis passed well, completing seven of 13 tosses, and did an outstanding job of mixing his plays to keep the Aggie offense moving. Unfortunate breaks kept the margin of victory from being greater.

Don Kachtik played a fine defensive game for the Aggies and averaged 3.6 yards per carry in the seven times he handled the ball.

Joe Boring, Connie Magouirk and Tommy Strait all showed real power in carrying the ball.

The entire Aggie line was superb on defense, turning back several Kentucky challenges early in the game when bad breaks kept the Aggies in their own territory.

Saturday night's game with the University of Houston Cougars should give Aggie fans a close look at their team's offensive and defensive game against a heavier line.

Clubs May Enter 'Mural Teams Now

Clubs can enter teams in the intramural program at the Office of Student Activities, Goodwin Hall, or at the Intramural Office.

Any recognized club can participate in the 1953-54 program. They will play only against other clubs. Football and basketball will be played the first semester and softball and volleyball the second semester.

The first meeting of prospective sophomore intramural managers will be held at 5 p. m. Tuesday in the Intramural Office at the southwest corner of DeWare Field House.

Information on this semester's intramural program will be given. All interested sophomores are invited to attend.

A&M's football team was undefeated, untied and unscored upon in 1917 and 1919. Outstanding teams played during those years were Tulane, LSU, Texas, Rice, Baylor and TCU.
