

Kettler, Salyer or Easley May Start in Backfield

A&M may have two new starters in its backfield Saturday night in the Cotton Bowl against Georgia.

Elwood Kettler may start at left half in place of Connie Magouirk. John Salyer or Bob Easley may replace Don Kachtik at fullback. Kachtik was badly bruised in practice this week but may be ready by Saturday.

Halfback Charley Hall still is injured, but Billy Pete Huddleston probably will be in shape, said Coach Ray George. Quarterback Ronald Robbins, out with an infected foot, also may be ready.

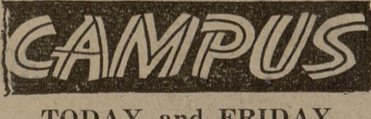

The first and second teams staged a 45 minute scrimmage against the third team Wednesday. Today the kickers will have a long workout, with another squad workout set for early Friday afternoon.

Extraordinary Meats at Ordinary Prices

Sure, we are proud of our meat department. Recently, a customer brought almost literally a basket of meat packages to the checkout counter. Her remarks are worth quoting: "I'm not sure it is the quality of your meats or the personality of your butchers." Another "Quotable Quote": "Of all the markets in this area, I find both my favorite butchers behind the same counter."
