

City To Plan New Sewage System

College Station has again decided to do something about its sewage disposal problem.

Mayor Ernest Langford recently appointed a citizen's advisory board to study the ways of providing adequate sewerage service for the city.

The first meeting of this committee has not been set, but Langford said it would be at least a month.

"The committee, which represents all areas of the city, will discuss the various proposals for financing the project," Langford said.

It will cost between 350,000 and 500,000, he added.

Fred Benson, city engineer, will discuss with the committee the various solutions and the cost of each, Langford said. Ran Boswell, city manager will furnish information on the ways of financing.

Langford indicated that there would probably be no increase in taxes if the project is carried out. He said revenue bonds, not tax bonds, would probably be used to finance the program.

Improving the sewage disposal would include allowances for any future annexations that the city might undertake, Langford explained that additions to the city in any direction could easily be linked to the new system.

"We're going to have to have a better sewer system sooner or later, so we might as well get it started now," Langford said.

Members of the advisory board are Chairman S. R. Wright, J. A. Orr, Charles LaMotte, H. E. Burgess, F. H. Mathews, J. G. Brown, C. K. Leighton, J. H. Sorrels.

C. D. Wells, R. L. Hunt, C. J. Gorzycki, S. L. Loveless, A. P. Boyett, Eddie Chew, J. C. Gaines, L. D. Smith, T. W. Leland.

SLC to Appoint Who's Who Selection Group

A&M's Who's Who Selection committee will be appointed at the Student Life committee's first meeting this year at 4 p. m. Monday in the Senate chamber in the Memorial Student Center.

The agenda also includes a discussion of continuation of Aggie Activity Appreciation tickets and the use of profits from Twelfth Man bowl football games.

Explanation of funds controlled by the committee, orientation of new members, appointments of standing committees, and a report on the movie, "We Are the Aggies," will also be discussed.

The selection of a parliamentary and a discussion of operating policies of the Student Aid committee are also planned.

Film Society Tickets

Tickets for the A&M Film society are on sale in the Office of Student Activities and the main desk of the MSC for one dollar.

The first movie will be shown at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the MSC ballroom. The film will be "Across the Pacific" starring Humphrey Bogart, Sidney Greenstreet, Peter Lorre and Mary Astor.

Reveille II Leaves Corps To Live in Non-Reg Dorm

Reveille II, A&M's mascot, has moved from the corps area to a non-military dormitory.

Rev was adopted by the corps in the spring of 1951. A house was built for her beside the band dorm, but after a strong wind blew the house over, she would not go back.

Thomas B. Waggoner and Thomas G. Hall, former band members now take care of her. The mascot now lives in Leggett hall with her two roommates, Hall and Waggoner. She follows Hall to most of his classes.

Tillie's Alteration shop donated two blankets for wear by the dog during half-time activities at football games.

Last year Reveille went to all the football games except the Baylor game and so far has gone to the University of Houston game this year. She will go to the TCU game.

The band bus carries her to out-of-town games. During the game Rev sits with the band and leads that unit onto the playing field during half-time.

Rev gave birth to ten pups on Dec. 5, 1952. They were given to band seniors.

Corps Dances Start With Service Ball

The Service Ball, scheduled for Oct. 23 in the Memorial Student Center Ballroom, will be the first corps dance of the year.

The dance will begin at 8:30 p. m. and will be over in time for midnight yell practice, according to B. K. Boyd, first regiment commander.

The service organizations are transportation corps, chemical corps, quartermaster corps, signal corps, ordnance, army security agency and B composite.

FOR AN AGGIE—Bill Ray Percival, sophomore for Koffman, (left) and Alfred (Buddy) Lindeman, freshman from Gonzales, donate money for Charles Arnold, who is a Waco hospital after an automobile accident Oct. 3. Three hundred and three dollars, and seventy-three cents was donated yesterday, the first day of the collection. The jar is located between the Academic building and Silly's statue. Starting tomorrow additional jars will be in the North Gate post office and the MSC.

Radio Club Offers Fast Telephone Service

The radio club of the Memorial Student Center has again set up a telephone service to other Texas cities.

Anyone wishing to send a message or to talk with someone in another town may contact them at no charge through the radio club, said Carl Sherman, president of the radio club.

The club ran the service last year also.

A licensed operator and an assistant will be on duty every afternoon Monday through Friday from 5 p. m. until 6 p. m. in the radio "shack" at the top of the stairs by the water fountain in the bowling alley.

The operator here radios another "ham", as the amateur radio operators are known, in the town to which the message is to be sent.

When the other operator answers, the A&M ham asks him to connect his telephone "patch," a receiver device which hooks the radio set with the city telephone system.

Although not as private as a telephone conversation, the service is as fast and when lines are tied up, it is even faster than telephoning.

The radio club will continue operation of the service all through the football season and longer if enough interest is shown.

One drawback to the operation is that all Texas operators do not have telephone patches. However, in that case, messages can be relayed by phone.

Engineer Council Elects President

Carl W. Wilson was elected president of the student engineers' council at its first meeting of the year Wednesday night.

A senior civil engineering student from Waco, Wilson is also president of the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Other newly elected officers are Hollie Briscoe, vice president; Allen B. Cunningham, secretary; and Jerry Ramsey, treasurer.

The council discussed the honor system and decided to keep the system as it stands, pending further developments.

Other business discussed was dues for member societies and exhibits for Open House day.

Ft. Worth Mothers Give Information

The Fort Worth A&M Mother's club will operate an information booth in the lobby of the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth for the corp trip.

The mothers will cash student's checks, run a lost and found department, and give directions to the stadium. The booth will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. Saturday.

Free housing may be obtained by inquiring at the information booth or by calling Mrs. T. J. Dwyer at WI-9546 or Mrs. F. H. Milrany at PE-9953.

A&M May Grant New BS Degree

A&M may grant a bachelor of industrial technology degree in the future.

A group headed by Dr. C. H. Groneman, head of the industrial education department, is trying to obtain legislative action which will make this possible.

At present, students specializing in industrial technology are granted bachelor of science degrees in industrial education. These students claim the degree does not give any indication of their specialty.

Other departments in the college have similar situations in which students specializing in certain fields receive degrees on a departmental basis.

Three Profs Go To SMU Law Meeting

Three A&M Faculty members will attend the annual pre-law conference at the SMU law school in Dallas this weekend.

Representatives to the two-day conference which will begin Friday afternoon are W. H. Delaplaine, dean of the School of Arts and Sciences; Professor Sam C. Hoyle of the business administration department; and Professor J. T. Duncan of the history department.

Highlighting the conference will be two panel discussions carried on by guest speakers from the faculties of Oklahoma university, Rutgers college, Kansas State college and SMU.

Drive for Community Chest Set for Nov. 2-14

Fund to Aid Draper Started By Cadet Corps

A fund has been started in the corps to aid Leo and Margaret Draper, who lost most of their belongings in a fire Saturday night.

The plan is for each unit to donate as much as it can. The money will be collected and deposited in the College Station State Bank by 2 p. m. Thursday.

The Draper's duplex apartment on Cooner street was destroyed by fire and they were able to save only a few belongings. Minutes after the fire was discovered the house was completely aflame.

Draper lost most of his winter uniforms, his senior boots, all of his Ross Volunteer uniform, a radio and record player and some bedding.

Cause of the fire is undetermined, although investigating officer Curtis Bullock found a copper penny behind a fuse in the other side of the duplex. The other apartment was occupied by Gene Louitt, an airman at Bryan air force base.

Doak to Speak On Evolution Here Monday

Dr. C. C. Doak, of the biology department, will speak on "Evolution at Three Levels" to the A&M chapter of the Texas Academy of Science at 7:30 p. m., Monday, in room 3C of the MSC.

The meeting is open to the public.

At the chapter's first meeting Terrell Hamilton, junior zoology major from Abilene, was elected president. Delano Castle, junior aeronautical engineering major from Abilene, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Plans were also made to attend the state convention of the academy at the University of Texas medical branch Dec. 4 and 5. Several A&M members will present papers at this convention.

A senior plant and soil science major from Harlingen, Richard Hensz, is the state president of the Texas Collegiate Academy and will preside over the state convention.

The A&M Chapter is open to anyone with an interest in science.

Tex Beneke Dance Tickets Go on Sale

Tickets are now on sale at the student activities office second floor Goodwin hall, for the Tex Beneke concert and dance to be held here after the Baylor game, Oct. 24.

The concert will be at 7:15 p. m. in Guion hall. Tickets are 75 cents, the dance will be from 9 p. m. to 12 midnight in Sbsa hall. Tickets

Budget Hearing To Be Next Tuesday Night

By JON KINSLOW
Battalion City Editor

The fund-raising drive for the A&M College-College Station Community Chest has been set for Nov. 2-14.

This date was decided yesterday by the chest committee at their first meeting of the year.

Chairman of the drive this year is Fred J. Benson and vice chairman is R. L. McCarty. The two other officers elected by the committee were C. H. Ransdell, secretary-treasurer; and R. E. Houze, publicity chairman.

The group chose Tuesday night for the budget hearing. All groups that expect to receive money from the chest are to make their requests then.

The hearing is scheduled for 7 p. m., but a place for the meeting was not decided.

Benson said he asked all interested groups to have their reports ready by the Tuesday meeting. Those not at the meeting will be considered as not wanting money from the chest.

"We want to get the drive underway as soon as possible," Benson said.

Temporary plans for handling the drive were also discussed by the committee.

It was decided that each group requesting money from the chest will appoint two people for each $500 requested to aid in the drive. In addition to individual canvassing, the committee plans to send a letter to each home in College Station.

Areas for contact were set up as follows:

- The college
- College Station businesses
- Other College Station residents
- Businesses not in College Station, but who do business in the city.

Last year the chest fell $2,079 short of its $11,019 goal. Starting Nov. 3, the drive was extended twice and finally ended Dec. 5.

A Armor Places First in Passby

A Armor won first place in Tuesday's first regiment pass-by. A engineers placed last, but no inspection will be held this week, said Leo Mueller, first regiment scholastic officer.

Other units placed as follows: Band, second; A chemical and A anti-aircraft artillery, third; A field artillery, fifth; B field artillery and A quartermaster, sixth; A ordnance, eighth.

B armor and A transportation, ninth; B infantry, 11th; A signal, 12th; and A army security and A infantry, 13th.

Cadet Officers Sign New Oath

More than 300 cadet officers signed the oath of office at 5 p. m. Wednesday in the Biology Lecture room.

The new corps officers include five colonels, 30 majors, 43 captains, 298 first lieutenants, and 59 second lieutenants.

Men who were absent will sign their oath at a later date, military officials said.

Those cadet officers who were here for freshman orientation week signed the oath then.

Weather Today

Clear to partly cloudy with possible scattered showers late today. Fog tomorrow morning. High yesterday 89. Low this morning 62. Temperatures today and tonight will about the same.

Officials Won't Carry Guns on Corps Trip

The suggestion that dormitory counselors carry guns in their cars this weekend to protect students from possible attacks by teenage hoodlums has been called off.

Lt. Col. Taylor Wilkins, assistant commandant, said a state law prohibits this action.

Wilkins said Tuesday that a college official has advised counselors to carry guns in their cars during the corps trip.

Cato Hightower, Fort Worth police chief, told The Battalion that recent hoodlum slurrings in Fort Worth had been over publicized and that juvenile delinquency in the city was no worse than during the past.

Wilkins told cadet officers yesterday to warn their men not to travel in groups of less than six persons while in Fort Worth.

Journalism Profs To Attend Meeting

Donald D. Burchard, head of the journalism department, and D. E. Newsom, assistant professor of journalism, will attend a Sigma Delta chi convention in Fort Worth this weekend.

Joe Hipp, Gardner Collins and Jerry Bennett, senior journalism majors, are also making the trip and will give short talks on their summer jobs with different state newspapers, working under the journalism interne program.

The convention for the professional journalism fraternity is to be held in the Texas hotel.

Highlights of the convention will be a banquet Friday night, the A&M - TCU football game, a Saturday night dinner dance and a meeting Sunday morning.

Campus Security Gets Car Radios

Two-way radios for night patrol work will soon be ready for use in Campus Security cars, according to Fred Hickman, chief of Campus Security.

The radios are the two-way type, and will be on the same frequency as the Bryan Police radio. Only one of the radios is now in use. Another will be installed in a new Ford, which will arrive next week.

Law enforcement officers of Navasota and Huntsville may be contacted by officers here through the Bryan Police. If a state-wide broadcast is necessary, the Huntsville police will put it on the state network.

TOWN DROWNS—As tourists watch, water backed up by the new international Falcon dam covers the historic old settlement of Falcon, located on the Rio Grande, 63 miles upstream from Mission. Late August rains brought a sudden decision to close the dam before arrangements to move the towns had been completed.
