

Aggie Corps Heads for Cowtown And SWC Grid Tilt With TCU

Gosney, Powell Added To Cadet Injured List

Non-Regs To Wear Seating ID Cards

Coach Ray George and 39 players left by bus at 9:30 this morning for Fort Worth, and the vanguard of the corps began to abandon the campus at about the same time as interest centered on Cowtown and the conference opener with TCU.

With 4,000 Aggies preparing for the morning corps parade through the business district and the football game in the afternoon, morning classrooms began to take on that empty look.

As the team left, Coach George added Bob Gosney and Jack Powell to the list of doubtful players.

Gosney, guard, and Powell, tackle, both have bruises which may keep them sidelined along with Joe Boring and Charlie Hall, halfbacks; Cooper Robbins, center, and Ronald Robbins, end.

George also announces plans to call on the same lineup which started the Aggie-Texas Tech game last week.

Ellis, second in the nation in passing with 35 completions in 70 attempts, has a better completion percentage than Zeke Bratowski, Georgia, who has connected on 37 out of 76 tosses, but Bratowski has a mark of 529 yards gained passing to 384 for Ellis. Bratowski has had interceptions, while the opposition has grabbed 4 Ellis passes.

Huddleston and Kettler give the Aggies a tremendous amount of speed at the halfback positions, and Bob Easley, who is also very fast, furnishes the power for plays up the middle. Easley does the Aggie punting and has a 42.0 average for 6 punts. However, TCU's Sammy Morrow leads the nation's punters with a 50.1 average for 8 punts.

The Aggie line, which has held opponents to a per game average of 186.1 yards, will have Bill Schroeder and Bennie Sinclair at ends; Durwood Scott and Lawrence Winkler at tackles; Marvin Tate and Sid Theriot at guards; and Fred Broussard at center.

Phillips Named Campus Chest Drive Chairman

Carroll Phillips, a senior student senator, was named chairman of the 1953 Campus Chest Drive of the Student Senate meeting last night.

Phillips is himself recipient of the 12th Man scholarship, one of the Campus Chest benefits.

Other members of the committee are Charlie Seeley, T. B. Field, Byron (Scotty) Parham, Ted Uptmore, Frank Ford, Seymour Smith and Bill Reed.

The traffic committee, the Kyle field seating committee, the committee to encourage yell practice attendance and the committee to investigate the problem of Reveille II made reports.

Under new business, the Senate appointed a committee to investigate the mess hall.

Two requests from non-military students were aired last night.

One was from veterinary students who desired to have a block of rooms in a dormitory. Many of them formerly lived in one or two ramps of Law and Puryear.

This year, freshmen are housed in Law and Puryear.

The vets also object to the musical noise coming from the Music hall during the early evening.

Non-Regs To Wear Seating ID Cards

Non-military juniors and seniors who have paid student activity fees will be required to wear identification tickets at the next home football game.

Those who haven't paid will not be allowed to sit in the student section.

The Student Senate seating committee made this ruling, which was approved by the Senate last night.

Purpose of the move, said committee chairman Seymour Smith, is to provide better seating accommodations for both corps and non-military juniors and seniors.

The plan will keep high school students, local citizens other than guests of cadets, and ex-students out of the senior and junior sections.

"It's not that we want to be inhospitable toward former students," Smith said, "but we feel the present situation is not fair to the students."

Corps and non-military ushers will make sure the seating rules are followed at future home games. Their duties will include roping off the senior and junior sections, placing signs over the entrances to the senior and junior sections, patrol the borders of the rope to make sure no unauthorized persons enter the upperclassmen section.

Check on athletic tickets, student identification cards and the new seating cards; and finally, they will take down the names of all students who do not cooperate with the new plan and turn them in to the Dean of Men's office.

Wear On Lapel

Non-military students will wear seating identification cards on the right lapel of their outermost garment until the game starts.

The seating cards are non-transferable and will only be issued once this year. To be used for the remaining home games, the cards will be white for seniors and blue for juniors.

Students' guests should wear their guest ticket stub pinned to their right lapels also, said Smith. The purpose of this is to make sure only students' guests get into the student section and not other persons.

Non-military students who live in the following dorms may obtain their seating cards from these students:

Dormitory 2 — William Griggs, room 317
Dormitory 4 — Donald Sheffield, room 105
Dormitory 5 — Wendell Tarver, room 117
Mitchell Hall — Rodney Heath, room 301
Bizzell Hall — S. J. Smith, room 301
Postgraduate hall — Bill Roach, room 28
Day students, College View students and all other non-military students not living in college dormitories — Housing office, Goodwin hall.

The cards should be picked up as soon as possible, Smith said.

Non-military students should present their identification cards and athletic tickets when applying for their seating cards.

Tigers Face Waller Bulldogs In Annual Homecoming Game

Riding high atop a five game winning streak with a spectacular scoring record, the Tigers of A&M Consolidated high school tonight climax the school's annual homecoming when they meet the Waller Bulldogs.

Kickoff time is 8 p. m. at Tiger Field.

An overflow crowd is expected for the game between the highest scoring high school team in central Texas and a hard-fighting underdog.

"They're pointing for us. I think we'll win but we're not expecting any pushover," said Tiger coach Jim Bevans. He pointed out that the Sealey-Bellville game tonight will go a long way toward deciding the district title. Bevans believes that winner will be the Tigers' chief threat for the championship.

Point-a-Minute Tigers

The Tigers will be out to maintain their point-a-minute opponents for a 48 points per game average in their five games.

End Bobby Jackson and tackle Pete Hickman are still out with injuries. Jerry Oden will again replace Jackson at offensive left end, with Jimmy Richards subbing on defense.

Charles Johnson will again handle Hickman's offensive tackle post, shifting to guard on defense. The cast of Hickman's broken hand will be removed next week.

Fullback David Bonnen and halfbacks Bobby Joe Wade and William Arnold are the team's scoring leaders. Bonnen has 48 points on eight touchdowns, Wade has accounted for 42 points on seven scores and Arnold has counted 30 points on five touchdowns.

Rushing Big Weapon

The Tigers primary offensive weapon is a ground-consuming rushing attack that gained 345 and 329 yards in two games and has gained at least 200 yards in every game. Directed by quarterback Fred Anderson, it has speed outside tackle and round end and power up the middle.

A special section for former A&M Consolidated high school students will be reserved at the homecoming game with Waller tonight.

High school Principal J. J. Skrivaneck said that since some of the ex-students might want to sit together, a special section will be reserved for them.

Anderson's ball handling and play-calling have been a big factor in the Consolidated victory string. He is a smooth ball handler, a sharp passer and knows how to mix his plays well. He has enough speed to run the vital keeper play well and is a big threat to go all the way on every punt return.

Bonnen's hard-charging bucks up the middle keep the defense tight, setting up Anderson's passes and the end runs of Arnold and Wade. Bonnen has outstanding power for a 160 pounder and his speed makes him deadly on pitchouts.

Joint Budget Hearings Set

Budget hearings for the A&M College - College Station Community chest will be held at 7 p. m. Tuesday in room 2B of the Memorial Student Center.

Chest Committee Chairman Fred Benson asked groups that want to request money from the chest to be present at this meeting.

"Those groups who do not attend the meeting will be considered as not wanting money from the chest this year," he said.

Burning Spirit

The traditional symbol of a burning spirit, the bonfire, began homecoming festivities for A&M Consolidated high school last night. Speeches from former students of classes as far back as 1924 gave the assembled group of students, parents and ex-students glimpses of the 'good old days.' Each speaker gave his best wishes to the team in the game against Waller tonight, and hopes for a successful season.

Bonfire Commences CHS Homecoming Festivities

The traditional symbol of a burning spirit, the bonfire, began homecoming festivities for A&M Consolidated high school last night. Speeches from former students of classes as far back as 1924 gave the assembled group of students, parents and ex-students glimpses of the 'good old days.' Each speaker gave his best wishes to the team in the game against Waller tonight, and hopes for a successful season.

Ernest J. Redman, class of '24 and secretary of the school board, commenced the speeches with a short run-down of CHS football history.

The most impressive talk of the night was given by A. M. (Heeter) Winder, '45. After taking off his coat and tie he was termed by one of the crowd as being the "Pinky Downs of Consolidated."

He told the group what CHS had meant to him while he was a student, and why the students now should be proud of their school.

"It was great when I was here, and I know that you think it is great now," he said.

Mrs. Henry Englebrecht, who was a cheerleader before she was graduated in 1950, gave a short talk and led a yell. After giving the yell she said, "I'll never make it to work in the morning."

Coach Jim Bevans, reluctant to make any predictions on the game tonight, said, "Instead of talking tonight, we'll talk on the field tomorrow night."

Other speakers at the rally were Henry Englebrecht, L. S. Richardson, J. J. Skrivaneck, Mrs. Edsel Jones, Mrs. Charles McCullough, Royce Rogers, Billy Blakely, Margaret Arnold, David Bonnen and Fred Anderson.

Today's activities include a special recognition of former students at 2 p. m. in the gymnasium and the crowning of the homecoming queen at halftime tonight.

Following the game, the homecoming dance will be held in the gym. All students from Bryan have been invited by the student council to the dance.

Engineers Have Cards

Door Cards Vanish As Students Sleep

By BOB HENDRY
Battalion Feature Editor

Most of the student body awoke Thursday morning to find their door cards in a box carrying the sign, "Free Door Cards, Courtesy of A Engineers."

The box containing door cards of army and air force cadets as well as those of non-military students was found at the base of the flagpole in front of Duncan Mess hall.

This type of card carries the name, rank, organization, home town, major subject and class schedule of a student, and is placed on the door of each student's room.

Two juniors from corps staff carried the box into Duncan hall. The commanding officer and first sergeant of A Engineers were called by Kert Goode, corps executive officer, who told them to redistribute the cards.

After returning from Texas State College for Women around noon, Fred Mitchell, corps commander, also told these men to carry out Goode's instruction.

He also told them to send a man, after the redistribution, to put the cards back on the doors of each unit in the same manner and condition they were in before they were taken.

The cards were returned to each unit during the evening meal yes-
