Tigers Seek Seventh Straight Season Win

By CLIFTON BATES
Consolidated Correspondent

The Tigers of A&M Consolidated high school go after their seventh straight win and third district victory tonight at the expense of the Katy Tigers.

The game will be played in Katy at 8 p. m. It will be the first time that Consolidated and Katy have met in football.

Holding the best record of any central Texas high school team, Consolidated has rolled up 288 points to seven for their opponents. A defense that has allowed an average of only 86 yards per game has played a large part in the Tiger success story.

Katy has a record of two wins, two losses and a tie. They defeated Hempstead and Waller, lost to Sugarland and Magnolia and tied Eagle Lake.

Consolidated received a heavy blow in their 49-0 win over Waller last Friday when tackle Melvin Free suffered a broken vertebra. He will miss the remainder of the season.

Tackle Pete Hickman, out with an injured hand, will replace Free on offense. Center Pinky Cooner will play the position on defense.

The probable starting offensive lineup for Consolidated will be: Bobby Carter and Bobby Jackson, ends; Hickman and Charles Johnson, tackles; George Sousares and Jimmy Bond, guards; Cooner, center; and Fred Anderson, Bobby Joe Wade, William Arnold and David Bonnen, fullback.

On defense will be: Carter and Jimmy Richards, ends; Douglas Norcross and Cooner, tackles; Johnson and George Litton, guards; Roland Beasley, Robert Cleland, Wade, Bonnen and Anderson, secondary.

Fencers Will Meet Tarleton in MSC

The A&M fencing team will hold its second meet of the year in the Memorial Student Center assembly room with Tarleton State college at 8 a. m. Saturday.

Both the varsity and prep meets will be held in the three weapons, foil, epee and sabre.

Probable starting team for the Aggies will include Bob Braslau, Jerry Ramsey, Ken Jones, foil; Gus Wulfman, Walt Anderson, Jim Rigg, epee; and Art Garner, Bill Huettel, Carroll Forrester, sabre.

Other meets in the near future will be with Southern Methodist University and Texas Christian University, which have recently become a part of the Southwest conference picture in fencing.

The A&M fencing squad will attend the invitational meet sponsored by the Dallas YMCA on December 10 for all Texas schools.

SWC Predictions

Ags Over Baylor, Rice To Take UT, TCU Will Win

By JERRY WIZIG
Battalion Sports Staff

The A&M-Baylor meeting at Kyle Field tomorrow heads a Southwest conference schedule heavily spotted with inter-sectional games.

Three of the five games on the schedule are inter-conference matches.

Here are this week's predictions:

A&M over Baylor.

Rice over Texas.

SMU over Kansas.

TCU over Penn State.

Mississippi over Arkansas.

One of the largest crowds of recent seasons is expected to jam Kyle Field for the meeting of the only two undefeated teams of the conference. It will match Baylor's "Fearsome Foursome" against A&M's outstanding line, the quarterbacking of Don Ellis and an amazing amount of hustle and spirit.

The Baylor backfield of Francis Davidson, L. G. Dupre, Jerry Coody and Allen Jones has been called one of the best combinations in the nation. However, Jones and Dupre are a bit weak on defense.

A&M's line, especially on defense, appears stronger than Baylor's.

Ellis and Davidson are almost equal in statistics. What doesn't show up in the figures is Ellis' almost uncanny ability of late to call the right play at exactly the right spot. One of the best defensive backs in the conference, he is a

The Rice Owls, smacked in the teeth by a last ditch win by SMU last Saturday, will be fighting for survival in the title race when they meet Texas in Austin.

Texas, still plagued by quarterback trouble and hit hard by injuries, is not likely to play a top game this week. Bill Long, starting fullback; Howard Moon, end; and Don McGraw, guard, will not play.

This one looks like an Owl victory as the Institute eleven bounds back.

SMU, riding high after their 12-

TCU, smarting after a decisive loss last week to the Aggies, will face a potentially dangerous Penn State crew.

Penn State defeated previously unbeaten Syracuse, 20-14, last week in the last minute of play. This will Lamar McHan, Arkansas' one man team, will not be enough to offset a 20 pounds per man weight advantage in the Mississippi line. McHan leads the Rebels in total offense, but the Rebels have three good backs in Lea Paslay, Harold Lofton and Billy Kinard.

This game, which will be played in Memphis, Tenn., will be one of

A&M Rifle Team Faces Bears Here

A&M's rifle team will fire a match with Baylor here today.

The Aggie team breezed over TCU last Saturday by 119 points.

M/Sgt. J. T. Collins, coach of the team, said the six men to fire Friday have not been picked. These six men will be chosen from the 22 out for the team.

Sgt. S. O. Lucky is assistant coach.

better ball-handler, runner and leader than Davidson.

The Bears don't have C. O. Brocato to kick extra points this season. He booted three in the 21-21 tie in '51 and kicked the winning point in last season's 21-20 Baylor win. Don Kachitk scored all three touchdowns for A&M last year.

This will be one of the toughest games played this year in the SWC. Playing at home for the second time in six games, the Aggies will stamp themselves as the team to beat in the conference.

An Aggie victory by six points.

7 thriller over Rice, tackles a mediocre Kansas team in Lawrence. The Jayhawkers were mauled by Oklahoma, 45-0, last week.

Coach Woody Woodard formerly coached in Kansas, and his boys will be out to make him look good before the home folks.

The Ponies, first in the country in defense, have terrific backs in Jerry Norton, Frank Eidom, Roy Pace, Sammy Stollenwerck and Duane Nutt. This explosive backfield talent should be good for a two touchdown victory without too much trouble.

be the first Frog game in the East in 12 years and figures to be a winning one. TCU's wide open offensive style will be too much for State, although the passing of Tony Rados might cause TCU some anxious moments.

the four games to be partly televised by the National Broadcasting Company.

The Reb line will average 209 pounds per man to 189 for Arkansas. Mississippi ran through a good Tulane team to a 45-14 win last week. Chalk up another for the Rebels.

Fish Rifle Team Trials Start Mon.

Try-outs for the Freshman Rifle team will begin Monday, said Sgt. S. O. Lucky, freshman team coach.

Each man will turn in a set of targets fired on the same day. A score of 240 or better will qualify the shooter for team membership.

Try-outs will end Tuesday, Nov. 3. M/Sgt. J. T. Collins, varsity team coach, said some very promising material is out for the freshman team.

Tom Toudouze, Bob Graze, Jerry Bridges and Carl Wagner of company E won their matches to blank squadron 22, 2-0.

The fish band won all its matches to beat squadron 25, 3-0.

Squadron 24 edged a win over company L, 2-1.

Harriers Duel Steers Today

A&M's cross-country team meets Texas in Austin today in a match that will be their toughest test of the year.

The seven man team is made up of James Blaine, Dale DeRouen, Verlon Westmoreland, Franklin Whitwell, William Cook, Robert Boles and Carl Wilmsen. Their coach is Ray Putnam.

The Aggies defeated Oklahoma and Arkansas in their first two meets. The next match will be with SMU on Nov. 2 in College Station.

Frank (Col. Andy) Anderson, A&M track coach, said that the battle for the cross-country championship will be between A&M and Texas.

The team will leave by bus for Austin at 11:30 a. m. Friday.
