

Aggies to Meet Trinity Here Saturday Night

The Aggie cagers Saturday night will meet Trinity University at DeWare Field House in the first home game of the season. Smarting from the 88-68 walloping handed them by the Lamar Tech Cardinals Tuesday night in Beaumont, the Aggies began working Wednesday to polish up their fast break and to develop better control of the backboards.

In the Lamar Tech game, marred by 52 personal fouls assessed against the two teams, the Aggies were unable to break through the tight Cardinal defense or to get open for set shots.

Only in the first quarter was A&M able to make a game of it, and after a 21-21 deadlock in the opening moments of the second period, the Cardinals began to steadily pull away.

The Saturday night home opener was originally scheduled with Oklahoma A&M in the new physical education building, but when completion of the building was delayed, Trinity was selected to replace Oklahoma Aggies.

Probable starters will be Roy Martin, center; James Addison and Rodney Pirtle, forwards; and Joe Hardgrove and Don Moon, guards.

The first swimming meet is Jan. 9, when the Fish compete against the Houston YMCA. The varsity starts its season Jan. 16 in the Southwest conference relays at SMU.

Other meets are scheduled with the University of Texas, SMU, Texas Tech, Georgia Tech, Emory university, University of Florida, Florida State and Northwestern Louisiana institute.

George Story Hasn't Basis—Penberthy

W. L. Penberthy, dean of men and chairman of the A&M athletic council, yesterday denied published reports that Coach Ray George will be asked to resign.

"The rumor is absolutely without basis," said Penberthy. "The athletic council has not even met to discuss the football program for the coming year. Ray George is our head coach, and there has been absolutely no discussion in regard to a change," he said.

A Infantry, Squadron 10 Tie

A infantry and squadron 10 battled to a scoreless tie in a muddy intramural football game yesterday. They also tied, 1-1, in penetrations.

A infantry unreeled the best play of the last half when Flim Kimzey took the ball on a double reverse and ran 40 yards.

On the last play of the game, A infantry's Gene Smith intercepted a pass by Skrabanek and ran to what appeared to be the winning penetration, however, an official had blown the play dead.

Dale Kemp returned a punt 60 yards for A signal's only score. Ron Averiette burst through center for 80 yards and a touchdown for A armor.

Ed Palm caught a pass on his own 30 and scampered 70 yards for the only touchdown to help squadron 11 down A transportation corps, 8-0.
