South Africa Is Subject Discussed at AAUW Meet

"There is a theory of the English speaking people and the moderate Afrikaner in South Africa today that the country is moving, under the nationalist party, toward totalitarianism and complete dictatorship," said Dr. B. W. Wilson to the College Station-Bryan American Association of University Women last night.

Dr. Wilson showed colored movies of the gardens with their masses of flowers, street scenes of Johannesburg and Cape Town, native bead makers and tribal dances.

Using a map of South Africa, Dr. Wilson traced its political history from the early 1800's to the present nationalist party rule.

He told how the party came into power in 1948 and how one of its primary objectives, that of the taking away of the vote from the Cape Colored, is still pending and that at present there is a threat of a new court bill which would give the government the necessary power to do what it pleases.

Three new members were introduced at the meeting by Mrs. J. G. Potter, membership chairman. They are Mrs. J. C. Leret, Mrs. Dan Wray and Mrs. B. W. Wilson. Mrs. K. F. Schlamb, former member at large, who has recently affiliated with this chapter, was also introduced.

The branch voted to sponsor the friends of the library association. C. Lamar Wallace, Rosenberg librarian from Galveston, had explained the association at an earlier meeting of the AAUW. Mrs. L. A. Gimbrede was named legislative chairman to succeed Mrs. Melvin Rotsch who has resigned.

Spiced punch was served during the evening by the hostesses, Mesdames Spencer Buchanan, Melvin Rotsch, A. D. Folweiler, and S. H. Hopkins.

Plans include games and caroling for the evening. The party chairman said there would be a pinata and a Christmas tree. Members of the refreshments committee are Bobbie Scholar, Mary Lou Lassen and Doris Stalter.
