The undefeated Fish team plays the Baylor Cubs in a 6 p. m. curtain-raiser.

Starting for the varsity will be Roy Martin, 6 feet, 8 1/2, at center; James Addison, 6 feet, 6, and John Fortenberry, 6 feet, 3, at forwards; and Joe Hardgrove, 6 feet, 2, and Rod Pirtle, 6 feet, 2 1/2, at guards.

The Aggies and Bears have met once already this season, Baylor taking a 64-60 decision in the pre-season SWC tourney last week.

Three To Attend NCAA Convention

Three members of the A&M athletic department left yesterday to attend the annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic association in Cincinnati.

Attending are Barlow Irvin, athletic director; Mike Michalske, varsity line coach; and Willie Zapalac, freshman football coach.

They will return Saturday.

Two Greens Added To A&M Golf Course

The A&M golf course has two new greens and other improvements, said Joe Fagan, course manager.

The course has been changed to fit in the two new holes and is now a par 70. Par was formerly 71.

The two extra holes are used for putting and chipping.

LEADING FISH SCORER—Ted Harrod, freshman guard, has surged far into the lead among Fish scorers with an impressive total of 55 points for three games. His 18.5 per-game point production from a guard position has resulted from a fine ability to hit from the outside and his tremendous speed while going in for layups.

Faircloth joined the Aggie coaching staff in 1950 after a brilliant high school coaching career in Louisiana, where he was named "Coach of the Year" in 1949.

Steinke Resigns

The resignation of Gilbert Steinke, defensive backfield coach, also effective Feb. 1, was announced Saturday.

Steinke has been appointed head football coach and athletic director at Texas A&I college, according to an announcement made by Dr. E. H. Poteet, A&I president. The appointment is subject to Steinke's release from his present contract at A&M, Poteet said.

Successor to Dewey A. Mayhew at A&I, Steinke came to A&M in 1950. He is a former little All-America halfback at Texas A&I and played five seasons of pro football with the Philadelphia Eagles.

He was later assistant coach at Alice high school, coach at Trinity University and freshman coach at Oklahoma A&M before coming to A&M.

"On the second day the doll was completely paralyzed. Despite careful handling the right arm fell off. Then, while trying to make the doll work, something broke inside and instead of saying 'mama' it only made hoarse sounds. Why do they put out such bad toys?"

Other letters complained about flimsy table games whose parts did not match and children's shoes that fell apart when exposed to rainy weather.

Moscow newspapers complained also about the cost of toys. A doll's chair cost 22 rubles—as much

Jerry Johnson Selected 'Mural Athlete of Week'

By GEORGE MANITZAS Intramural Writer

Jerry Johnson, junior from Nacogdoches majoring in agricultural education, was selected top intramural athlete of the week. Johnson was chosen for his scoring the deciding touchdown and for his brilliant running in a 13-0 victory over A Chemical before the holidays.

He intercepted a pass on one occasion to stop a threat by the opposing team.

Grattan Stars

Dan Grattan circled his own left end and went five yards to score the first touchdown helping squadron 20 defeat squadron 24, 13-0, in intramural football yesterday.

Squadron 24's Jerry Cobb tossed a pass to Hunter Breeschen which was good for 50 yards as the half ended.

In the second half Don Stacy threw to Crayton Autry who scored from the seven yard line.

The top play of game came when Cobb tossed a 49 yard pass to Don Bourne who scampered 40 yards before he was downed.

ATC Wins
 A transportation corps edged squadron 3 in a 0-0 tie on penetrations, 2-1.

In basketball, Hillel club's Bill Cohen scored 10 points to help his team win. The Moscow Research Institute on Toys came up with a toy kitchen with a real sink, water in the tap, washing machine, meat grinder, pots and pans. But the cost was 1,500 rubles—nearly as much as a real kitchen for a real family would cost.
