Turn on Your Porch Light To Aid March of Dimes

Tomorrow night marching mothers will be visiting every College Station home that has a light burning on the porch. They will be there to pick up your contribution for the March of Dimes.

This year, more than ever, the March of Dimes needs your help, because this year America can hope for a victory against the dread crippler, polio.

If enough funds become available, selected groups of children throughout the nation will be inoculated with an experimental polio vaccine. If the vaccine is successful, we will have won the fight to protect our children against the disease.

Today every modern form of treatment for infantile paralysis is made available to many by the March of Dimes, but treatment is not enough. Even with all the care doctors and therapists can give, there is still the suffering and the long, slow recovery.

But with a polio preventative, which is what this year's March is hoping for, all the suffering and all the crippling can be ended. Tuesday night at a dance, generous residents contributed $342.22 to the polio fund. This was the largest amount ever collected during the five years these benefit dances have been held.

We hope that tomorrow night the marching mothers will receive a record amount from Mr. and Mrs. College Station.

At Employes Dinner Club

Faculty Rue Pinnalle Set

Members of the A&M College Dinner club will go Parisienne "all the way" for their second annual Rue Pinnalle on March 11.

"Which means," announced Dean Walter H. Delaplaine, chairman of the dinner club committee, "that all patrons will be expected to come in costume."

Cafe Rue Pinnalle, which has periodically opened its doors for student entertainments during the past several seasons, is the A&M version of French night club life.

Last February the faculty staged

School Centennial To Be Launched

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 28—A statewide observance of the Texas Public School Centennial will be launched Sunday with a radio broadcast which may set a record for coverage on Texas radio stations.

The Centennial kick-off broadcast, written and produced by University of Texas Radio House, will be carried by more than 75 Texas radio stations, including WTAW, College Station. No other broadcast ever produced in the state has been carried on as many Texas stations, according to Gale R. Adkins, Radio House acting director.

To spark local observances of the 1954 Texas Public School Centennial, the special half-hour broadcast, "That All May Learn," offers a thumb-nail picture of Texas education for the past 100 years.

Presented under the auspices of the Texas Association of School Boards and the Texas Education Agency, the program is prepared by the University of Texas Radio House from a script by Marge D. Benjamin and directed by Harvey R. Herbst.

The sponsoring agencies recommend that the broadcast be used as a part of local Centennial observances throughout the state on January 31, to serve as a springboard from which special events with emphasis on local school history can proceed.

its own version of Rue Pinnalle with deans and other high college dignitaries serving as waiters and talented professors and their wives appearing as night club entertainers. The affair proved so popular that it is being repeated by request.

A&M Student To Lead Music At Revival

An Aggie sophomore will divide the task of conducting music during the week-long spiritual revival scheduled for the First Methodist Church of Bryan on next week.

J. B. Woiton, '56, is educational director of the church and regularly leads the Sunday evening music. He will lead the singing at three services next Sunday, at 9 and 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m., and also during several of the week-day evening services at 7:30. Weekday morning services will be at 10 a.m.

Walter Jenkins, minister of music at First Methodist Church, Houston, and well-known to Aggies will sing and also lead the congregation Monday night.

At one time the singer for Billy Sunday in that evangelist's heyday, Jenkins has appeared on Freshman orientation programs, especially at Bryan Field when the college annex was in operation there.

His son, Richard, now minister of music at St. Luke's church in Houston, was for several years conductor of the Singing Cadets.

as manager for Cafe Rue Pinnalle. He is being assisted by Miss Margaret Long, MSC program consultant.

Since the gay costumes of the waiters at last year's event contributed so much to the Parisienne atmosphere it was decided to create even more atmosphere this year by asking all patrons to wear French garb for the occasion.

"On the feminine side we shall expect to see anything from a Dior creation to a Can Can dancer," Stark said. "Escorts may show up as artists, Apaches, gendarmes or what-have-you. Anything goes so long as it's typically French. And there will be prizes for the best costumes."

Announcement of this feature of the 1954 Rue Pinnalle is being made early so that everyone will have plenty of time to plan an appropriate costume for the evening, he added.

Dean Howard W. Barlow's Brazos Bottom Boogie Busters will again furnish music for dancing and there will be a fresh array of all faculty talent on hand for the several floor shows during the evening.

"It is still too early to announce detailed plans," Stark said, "but we can promise that the 1954 Rue Pinnalle will be even gayer and giddier than last year's success."

Study Club to Hold Panel Discussion

Conservation will be the theme of the meeting of the Campus Study club at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the YMCA.

The meeting will feature a panel discussion on the subject with Mrs. Roy Carpenter as moderator. She will be assisted by Mrs. W. T. Matzen and Mrs. A. D. Folweiler.

The panel will survey conservation in the forests, of the water and of wildlife.

Hostesses for the meeting are Mrs. Lynn L. Gee and Mrs. W. D. Harris.

Beta Sigma Phi Meets Tuesday

The Eta Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, national business sorority, met Tuesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

Mrs. Perry Carlton and Mrs. A. C. Baker jr. were in charge of the program entitled "The Good."

Doris Franz, president, presided over the meeting. Committee reports were given.

FAMILY FAVORITES

By Mrs. A. C. Magee

(Ed. note—Guest editor for today's column is Grace Magee, wife of A. C. Magee of the division of Agricultural economics and sociology. The Magees have three sons, Jake, a senior at A&M; Bill, A&M graduate working at the entomology department; and Aden, a former student now in the service. They are members of the A&M Methodist church. Mrs. Magee is president of the Brazos county A&M Mothers club. Originally from Minneapolis, Kan., she attended Kansas State College. Her hobby is sewing.)

When Manning Smith had a grocery store in College Hills, he me a proposition to furnish the Smiths with Cereal Bread; he agreed to sell any surplus through the store—my profit! I declined.

Cereal Bread

- | | |
|--|--|
| 6 Large Nabisco Shredded Wheat biscuits | ½ Cup dark syrup |
| 2 Cups boiling water | 4 Teaspoons salt |
| 2 Cups milk, scalded if raw, heated if pasteurized | 1 Package granulated yeast dissolved in ¼ cup lukewarm water |
| 2 Tablespoons bacon fat | |

Crush biscuits with rolling pin. Put in large bowl, add boiling water, slowly stirring until cereal absorbs water. Add milk slowly stirring until smooth. Add syrup, shortening, and salt. Cool to lukewarm; add dissolved yeast, and mix in 6 to 8 cups of all purpose flour, mixing until a very stiff dough rolls up in the bowl. Turn dough out on large well floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. The dough has a tendency to be sticky, so work in flour until dough ceases to stick to the hands. Put in well-greased bowl, cover with damp cloth, let rise until double in bulk, turn out on board, knead a few minutes, let rise again until double in bulk. Knead down, shape in loaves. Will make 3 large loaves. Let rise until the dent of a finger pressed lightly on the loaf remains. Bake at 375° 35 minutes. Cool loaves on racks and lightly grease crusts while warm. Cool thoroughly before cutting. After the dough rises once, it may be kept in the refrigerator.

My favorite food platter for church suppers and other informal occasions is egg salad, marinated shrimp, baked ham and tomato wedges. Either the shrimp or the ham may be omitted, but when we "splurge" we serve both.

Egg Salad

- | | |
|---|-------------------------------------|
| 1 Envelope Knox gelatine softened in ¼ Cup cold water | ¾ Teaspoon salt |
| 1 Cup Miracle Whip dressing | 2 Tablespoons sweet pickle relish |
| 4 Hard-cooked eggs, diced | ¼ Cup thinly sliced, stuffed olives |
| ½ Cup celery, finely chopped | 1 Teaspoon lemon juice |

Place bowl with softened gelatine over boiling water until it is dissolved. Cool, and beat into salad dressing, add other ingredients, mixing gently. Turn into 5-7" by 9½" pyrex loaf pan, rinsed with cold water. Chill several hours, unmold in center of large lettuce lined platter. Arrange slices of ham along sides, shrimp and tomatoes at ends.

Marinated Shrimp

- | | |
|---|---|
| Mix the following dressing: ¼ Cup water, ¼ Cup mild vinegar, ½ Cup salad oil (olive oil best) | 2 Tablespoons McCormick's Sea-Food Seasoning, ½ Teaspoon salt |
|---|---|

Wash 2 pounds large fresh or frozen shrimp, place in pan with tight cover, mix with dressing, bring to boil, simmer 20 minutes. Drain off liquid; peel shrimp, put in bowl and gently mix with reserved liquid. Chill 12-24 hours, turning occasionally in marinade. Drain well before serving. Shrimp cooked this way need no other dressing.

Dance Raises $342 For March of Dimes

The March of Dimes Dance sponsored by the Promenaders and Golden Slippers dance clubs, Tuesday evening raised $342.22.

Over 350 persons including about 50 children attended the benefit affair according to Mrs. Lola Thompson, chairman.

Master of ceremonies Manning Smith was assisted by callers Nathen Hale, Oakwood; Joe Spacek, Dime Box; Sam Kennedy, Bryan; and Lee Thompson and Mrs. H. A. Luther, College Station.

One of the highlights of the evening was six-year-old Betty Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathen Hale of Oakwood, who called the dance "O Johnny."

Those who performed exhibition dances included Nita and Manning Smith, Jimmy Boswell and Camille Kennedy, Buddy Allen and JoAnn Norwood from Piedmont, and Pat Lackey of Anderson and Dorothy Kay Ish of Bryan.

Mrs. Thompson, the chairman, thanked the staff of Sbis for making the coffee and assisting the club members during the evening.

She named those who donated refreshments for the evening, Millers

Super Market, who donated the coffee; Carnation company for the cream; and Condens bakery, Mrs. Roy Wingren, and Mrs. C. M. Sykes, who baked cakes for a Chinese auction.

She also thanked the members of both clubs for baking and working for the dance.

More money was raised by the dance this year than ever before during the five years they have been sponsored by the Promenaders.

Methodist Women To Discuss Bible

"Exploring the Bible" will be the theme of the program at the meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service at 7:45 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. W. G. Breuzeale, 414 Throckmorton.

Co-hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Bill Turner and Mrs. Fred Hickman.

Mrs. John Bertram will be program leader; and Mrs. R. A. Downward, worship leader.
