Juniors Discuss Dance, Shirts

The junior class last night started plans for their annual banquet and dance, considered money-making projects, and discussed OD shirts for sophomore cadets.

The junior dance will be March 20. Jerry Ramsey, class president, named committees for the dance.

James Buchanan, class social secretary, will be general chairman.

Committee chairmen will be Val Cannon, dance; Bob Rowland, banquet; Dick McCasland, program; Wallace Eversberg, guests; Bill

Utsman, tickets; Howard Childers, sweetheart; and Harri Baker, publicity.

The class officers and committee chairman will meet next Tuesday night in the student activities office to discuss details of the banquet and dance.

The approximately 300 members of the class present also voted to form a committee to investigate the possibility of raising money for a class gift. The junior class now has $800 in its class fund.

The class discussed the possi-

Westminster Choir

Town Hall Planned Thursday in Guion

Tickets are now available for the Westminster choir Town Hall performance Thursday in Guion hall. Season ticket holders should obtain either a ticket for the 7 or 9 p. m. performance of the choir at the Student Activities office.

Individual tickets may be obtained at the student activities office for $2 each.

This is the 31st season the choir has given public performances. It was first organized as the volunteer choir at the Westminster Presbyterian church in Dayton, Ohio.

While it retains the name of the church, the choir is no longer a church choir. It is now the touring unit of the Westminster college choir of Princeton, N. J. John Finley Williamson, director of the choir and its founder, is also

The system of two performances for each Town Hall presentation has given married students and their wives a chance to beat the baby sitter situation.

Many couples are getting one ticket for each performance, with the husband going to one and the wife to the other.

That way, there's someone at home with the baby all the time.

founder and president of the Westminster college choir.

Since its first tour in 1921, the choir has given concerts throughout North America and in Cuba.

The choir's program includes both classical and folk music.

A selection by Mozart will open the program followed by music by Bach, Grieg and Handel.

Several Negro spirituals and some American Indian music will characterize the section of the program dealing with folk music.

Court Sentences AWOL Freshman

The senior court tried last night A Co. freshman Kenneth D. Ross from the Panama Canal Zone for being absent from the college without leave.

Pleading guilty, Ross was charged with "leaving the campus without a pass and without previous notification of any cadet officer or non-com in his military organization."

The court has recommended to the commandant that Ross be camped until Easter, given eight hours extra duty, and receive an official reprimand with a copy to be sent to his parents.

Under college regulations, Ross has 36 hours to appeal the recommended sentence if he so desires.

HUMAN DYNAMO

JACKSON, Tenn. —(AP)—Frank Walker favors a 30-hour day. Then he could squeeze in another job or two.

Twenty seven-year-old Walker holds down four jobs now.

Daytime, he drives the Holland department store delivery truck. Late afternoons, he cleans up the business offices on the second floor of the Holland building. Then he dashes over to the Western Union office for another cleanup job.

After dinner, Walker reports to a drive-in where he's a car-hop.

Incentive? He wants to buy a home for his wife and two children.

Architect Show Planned Here

A showing of the works of Osmundson and Staley, landscape architects of San Francisco, will be held in the Memorial Student Center Feb. 5.

Seventy color slides of contemporary-style gardens will be narrated by Robert F. White of the floriculture and landscape architecture department.

The floriculture and landscape architecture department is sponsoring the show, which is open to the public.

Aggie-Exes Help Koreans

Two 1952 A&M graduates are helping build a village for Korean orphans made homeless by a fire in Pusan.

The men, second Lt. John E. May and Jack C. Milligan, are working on a project that includes building a six-unit village for 120 orphans.

Both are with the 24th division's 63rd field artillery battalion. The battalion adopted the orphans after the fire, and started the housing project, named "Operation Haven."

Another Aggie Dies In Holiday Car Crash

Silver taps will be held at 10:30 tonight for an A&M student killed in a holiday car wreck, while in a New Orleans hospital another Aggie lies fighting for his life.

Dead is Charles Biff Samford, 23-year-old student who was killed Jan. 22 when he lost control of the pickup truck he was driving and crashed into a tree. The accident happened 10 miles east of Corrigan on Woodville Highway.

Given a 50-50 chance to live in the New Orleans Charity Hospital after a truck explosion, is Gene Edward Brady, 18-year-old Sqd. 18 freshman.

The Dean of Men's office was awaiting word this morning from New Orleans which will tell how much blood will tell how much blood the student has used or still needs for transfusions. As soon as the message arrives, college officials will call the Waco blood bank and blood will be rushed by air express to New Orleans, a spokesman for the Dean of Men's office said.

He explained the blood will be used to replace that already given Brady in New Orleans or it will be given to the student if he needs it. The spokesman said it was reported that the badly burned student had already received blood transfusions.

Injured Thursday

The Associated Press reported last night that Brady was injured Thursday night about 20 miles west of New Orleans on U.S. Highway 61. The boy's father said the truck young Brady was driving "just blew up."

The student lost control and the truck turned over and caught fire. Brady is reported to have rolled into a canal to put out flames on his clothing. The Associated Press said he was badly burned but received no other injuries.

Brady, who is from Highlands, was driving a load of lettuce crates for the Rio Grande Valley.

Notified McQuillen

The Dean of Men's office first learned of the accident yesterday when Travis Smith jr. of Houston notified E. E. McQuillen, head of the Development fund. Brady had enrolled at A&M on an opportunity award sponsored by Smith.

Three Promoted In Battalion Editorial Posts

Jerry Wizig, Jerry Estes and Bob Boriskie have been promoted in editorial positions on The Battalion, Co-Editors Jerry Bennett and Ed Holder said today.

Wizig has been promoted to Sports Editor to replace Boriskie who has taken over as News Editor with Estes.

A junior journalism major from Waco, Wizig has worked on The Battalion since his freshman year. He is a member of the Journalism club and the Waco-McLennan county club and is associate sports editor of the Aggieland.

Boriskie, a World War II veteran on temporary retirement from the navy, is a resident of Bryan. He has worked on The Battalion for two years, and now is a junior.

Boriskie is married and has two boys, Teddie Lynn, five, and Michael, five months. He is a member of the Journalism club, secretary of the film society, sports editor of The Aggieland, and served as managing editor of The Battalion last summer.

Estes, from Wichita Falls, is a junior major in journalism. He recently married Nelda Ireland of Wichita Falls and they now are living in College Station.

A member of the Journalism club, Estes has worked on The Battalion two years and has served on The Commentator staff. He is this year's secretary of the Southwest Journalism Congress.

Hope of United Germany Fades In Berlin Meet

BERLIN—(AP)—The West's faint hopes for a reunified free Germany lay smashed on the rocks of immovable Soviet opposition today. There were only thin prospects that the Big Four foreign ministers conference could rescue anything from the ruins.

Formally proposing again the Soviet-style German peace treaty which the West rejected two years ago, Russia's hard-chinned V. M. Molotov last night shredded to ribbons the Western proposal that the divided World War II foe be made whole again on the pattern of the free nations—with free elections, a free press and free association with other powers.

Molotov again laid down the familiar Kremlin ultimatum—that Germany will be united on Russia's terms or not at all.

There was certainly no possibility that U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Rieu or French Foreign Minister Ridauld would agree to any part of that. Officials of all three Western delegations agreed the latest Berlin conference had foundered on issue of a German settlement.

Judging Team Wins 4th in Ft. Worth

The A&M livestock judging team took a fourth place in the general livestock judging meets at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth yesterday.

Iowa State college took first place in the meet, Oklahoma A&M was second and New Mexico A&M was third.

Ben Kelly of Iowa State was high point man in the meet.
