Ranger Trial May Wait; Parr Being Investigated

ALICE, Feb. 4 (P)—Judge Woodrow Laughlin and Dist. Atty. Raeburn Norris said today the trial of two Texas Rangers on assault to murder charges probably won't come up right away, unless the Rangers demand an early hearing. Capt. Alfred Allee and Joe Bridge were indicted by a Jim Wells county grand jury yesterday on a charge of assault with intent to murder George Parr, South Texas political leader.

The indictment grew out of a court house brawl here Jan. 18 involving the two Rangers, and Parr's nephew, Duval county Sheriff Archer Parr.

Laughlin said his docket was "very full" until March 1, when a new term begins.

The Rangers are free on $2,000 bond cash. Their boss, Homer Garrison, said they would stay on duty in this area.

ALICE, Feb. 4 (P)—U. S. Atty. Gen. Brownell said today that treasury department is investigating income tax returns of George Parr and a few others in Duval county of South Texas.

Shepperd told the Washington Bureau of the Dallas News he had been assured by federal authorities that every help will be given to pushing the Duval County investigations.
