

Journalism Club To Fete Publishers At Coffee Tonight

A coffee for members of the Texas Press association will be given at 7:30 tonight in the Memorial Student Center. The coffee will be sponsored by the Journalism club. More than 100 members of TPA will be here for the fifth Annual Mechanical conference tomorrow. At this conference, Howard N. King, nationally famous typographer, will talk on effective makeup.

Author Says US Neglected Latin Nations

The United States has missed a golden opportunity by neglecting the South American republics so long, Miss Bernita Harding, author and traveler, told the Bryan-College Station Knife and Fork Club Tuesday night. "The Monroe Doctrine, by which the United States sought to keep European influence out of the western hemisphere, was eventually accepted 200 per cent by the Latin Americans, but eventually resulted in a separation of viewpoint between them and the northern nations," she said. For hundreds of years North Americans have looked to Europe and by default have forced Latin Americans to do likewise, she said. This has prevented cultural ties between the two American continents, Miss Harding added. Miss Harding, born in Austria, was reared in Mexico where she got the material for her first book "Phantom Crown". The next meeting will be at the Parker dining hall in Bryan. Nicholas Nanyaradi, former minister of finance of Hungary, will be the speaker.

'Gershwin Festival' To Be Town Hall

The music of George Gershwin will be featured in the next Town Hall performance, Feb. 25. The program, entitled "A Gershwin Festival", will be presented by the Gershwin Concert orchestra. The organization is now on its second tour of the United States. Robert Zeller will conduct the group of 30 musicians. Also featured will be several soloists. Two performances will be given at Guion hall. The first performance will be held at 7 p. m. and the second at 9 p. m. Tickets will be on sale at student activities office and at the door.

Campus Will Get 3,290 Feet of Curb

Three thousand two hundred and ninety feet of curbing will be constructed on Houston and Ross streets and around the System administration building, said C. K. Layton, engineer for the project. No deadline was set for the work and is to be done at the contractors convenience. The bid that was taken was two dollars per linear foot. Unnecessary breaks in curbing and old driveways will be included in the contract, Layton said.

Weather Today

PARTLY CLOUDY

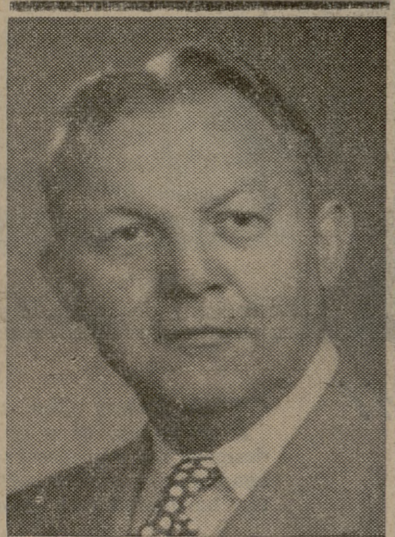

Cloudy to partly cloudy today with continued rain. High yesterday 69. Low this morning 64.

King's talk will include how to get the most effective makeup with existing type supplies at the lowest possible cost. President David H. Morgan will welcome the publishers at a luncheon after a morning of talks on production problems. Ed L. Williams, vice director of the engineering extension service, will speak on time and motion studies as applied to newspaper production. Roy Craig of the Stamford American and Jake Smyth of the Liberty Vindicator will open the program at 8:30 a. m. with their discussion of "Shop Kinks."

Hal Bredlow of Stamps-Conhaim advertising service will discuss stereotyping, and Rigby Owen of The Conroe Courier will talk on "Should You Build a New Plant." Head Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant will speak to the group at the luncheon.

During the afternoon session there will be a panel discussion on shop problems. It will be moderated by Williams. The conference is sponsored by the journalism department and the TPA. D. E. Newsom is conference director.

The attraction was originally scheduled for 8 p. m. according to C. G. (Spike) White, manager of student activities. The performance is to be held at 8:30 p. m. due to the Basic Division open house which will be ended by 8:15 p. m.

Four Churches Set Last RE Services

Four local churches will hold services Friday night in conclusion of Religious Emphasis week. "The object of the meeting tonight is to bring about the continuation of religious feelings that have been brought into the students, and to answer their questions," said Gordon Gay, director of the YMCA who is in charge of Religious Emphasis week. The Lutheran Student association is conducting a special service of Thanksgiving at 7:30 p. m. in the Lutheran Student center. The service will be conducted entirely by students. Students taking part in the service are John Stacha, Bernard Halverson, Theo Lindig, Richard Fischer, Luther Dube and Glenn Specht. The Presbyterian church will hold a special forum at 7:15 p. m. conducted by Dr. Louis Evans, principal speaker of Religious Emphasis week. Evans subject will be guided by questions from the audience, and questions may either be asked directly or written. A commitment service will be presented by the Presbyterian Student league. Prayer will be offered by Fair Colvin, president of the Presbyterian Student league, and invocation by Frank Clark. At the close of the program an invitation to offer your life to Christ will be conducted by the Rev. Charles Workman as he leads the audience in "Stand Up for Christ." The program will close with a hymn of dedication. A social hour will follow in the Presbyterian Student Center. The College Avenue Baptist church will conduct services at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. Bruce McIver, Religious Emphasis week leader, will be guest speaker. His subject will deal with Christian life as related to student life. Ide Trotter jr., will preside over the services, and music will be directed by Bob Bond. Rabbi Rosenbaum, a religious emphasis week leader, will conduct services and be guest speaker at the regular 7:15 p. m. Friday night Jewish services at the YMCA chapel. His subject will be, "What I Like and Dislike About Being Jewish."

Manke To Speak To AIEE Tuesday

A non-technical discussion on how to get rid of a high voltage arc will be the theme of a talk by George H. Manke next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the electrical engineering building. Manke, chief laboratory and training engineer of the Line Material company of South Milwaukee, Wisc., will talk on "Suicide of a High Voltage Arc." He will use slides, demonstrations of an actual fuse operation and high speed 16 mm movies of arc interruptions. Sponsored by the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Manke's lecture will be followed by a question and answer period.

UP AND OVER — Three members of the Swedish National Gymnastics team do a flip in formation. The team will perform here Tuesday night.

Swedish Gym Team Will Perform Here

Sweden's world famous gymnastics team, currently on a nationwide tour of the United States, will perform in DeWare field house next Tuesday night at 8:30 p. m. The 16-man team will be accompanied by Henry Allard, a member of the Swedish Parliament. Also accompanying the team is Olle Areborn, manager of the Swedish Gymnastics federation. Eunnar Dryselius and his family from Houston will be on hand for the team's performance. Dryselius is Consul General of Sweden for the South and Southwestern United States.

The program will feature tumbling, vaulting, gymnastics with the use of parallel and horizontal bars, and "free gymnastics". Tickets for the attraction are 50 cents each and all proceeds will go to the A&M tumbling team.

Prayer Day Observed Here March 5

A&M will observe the World Day of Prayer March 5 with one minute of silence over the whole campus. The college whistle will blow at 10 a. m. to signal the start of the minute of silence. The whistle will blow again at 10:01 to signal the end of the minute. Hymns will be played over the public address system of the Memorial Student Center starting at 9:50 a. m. Persons in 100 countries all over the world will observe the minute of silence at the same time.

'Aggieland Going Smoothly' -- Holt

"The Aggieland is running smoothly and according to schedule," said Allan "Bootsie" Hohit, co-editor. The senior and freshmen picture schedules have been completed. Junior pictures are expected to be completed by the end of the month. The sophomore picture schedule will start next month. Club pictures started yesterday and the Who's Who pictures are scheduled throughout next week. "The military section of the Aggieland will probably be the first unit completed. It will be ready when all snapshots are in. This should be sometime in April," Hohit said.

Females Still Can't Stay; Sorry, Boys, Got to Go

By RUSSELL CONDON
Battalion Staff Writer
A little girl goat who wanted to be a co-ed Aggie has been forced to leave the campus. Jack Herbig, Ronnie Hayes, Bud Williams and Charlie Davenport, juniors in B field artillery, found a small Angora goat on a road near Del Rio. The goat, which was weak from starvation, was stashed in the basement of dormitory 3 and nursed back to health with milk from the mess hall. The goat was to be the official mascot of B field, but complications arose. The housing office heard that

Indochina Peace Move Planned by Big Four

Korean Peace Conference Set in Geneva, April 26

BERLIN—(AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers headed home from their Berlin meeting today to prepare for another conference in two months—this time to seek peace in Korea and Indochina. They wrote off any change of agreement on European problems for the present. The deadlock at Panmunjon was bypassed by the decision yesterday to open the long-debated Korean peace conference in Geneva April 26 with Red China among the nations to participate, not as a sponsor but by invitation. The ministers agreed the problem of ending the seven-year-old war in Indochina "shall also be discussed" at the conference.

The top diplomats of the United States, Britain, France and Russia promised also to "hold an exchange of views" on world disarmament under a resolution adopted by the United Nations General Assembly last Nov. 28. This resolution proposed secret big-po2 talks to speed arms reduction.

But the problems of Germany, Austria and European security were left unsolved when Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, the chairman of the final session, rapped out adjournment at 7 p. m. Secretary of State Dulles, due in Washington by plane late today, voiced "a large measure of regret" at the failures, which he attributed to a fundamental difference of views between the East and West.

"Our failures," Dulles said, "are of a kind which could not have been avoided by mere diplomatic or negotiating skills at this conference. . . . All of our basic differences have been revolved around the question of whether it was right, or indeed safe, to give men and nations a genuine freedom of choice."

Western Powers
The Western Powers were willing to place trust in the German and Austrian peoples. The Soviet Union was not.

Both sides gave ground on the Korean conference decision in Berlin. Molotov dropped his promotion of Red China as a sponsoring power.

The United States waived its demand that the conference be two sided, with Russia sitting in only as a Communist belligerent. The closing conference communique said the Geneva parley would be open to the Big Four, South Korea, North Korea and other nations whose troops fought in Korea. This excludes such neutrals as India.

'Whiskey Bridge' Being Replaced

Jone's bridge, better known as 'Whiskey Bridge', is being replaced. Texas Highway department resident engineer Joseph M. McLain said the load limit will be 20 tons. The limit for the old bridge is five tons. The new 643-foot bridge will be located so as to eliminate dangerous curves on both sides of the Brazos river, McLain said. The present detour will be closed next spring when construction is completed. Business establishments located at the old bridge will be by-passed. General specifications for the new, modern structure are 541 feet and nine inches of continuous steel girder, one 50 foot eye beam span on each end and a reinforced concrete deck with a 26-foot roadway.

Top Engineer To Be Named Next Thursday

Local professional engineers will announce their choice of the "Engineer of the Year" at a banquet next Thursday. The banquet will be to celebrate National Engineer's week, Feb. 21-27.

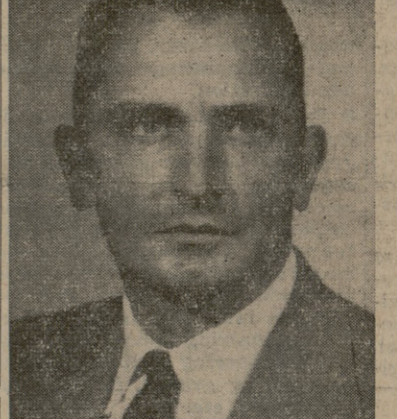

All local engineers and their wives have been invited to attend the banquet at the "Oaks" in Bryan.

John P. Oliver, president of the Brazos chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers and a professor in the engineering drawing department, is selling tickets for the banquet.

M. A. Coleman at the Bryan City Engineer's office also is selling tickets for the affair.

Ernest Langford, mayor of College Station, issued a proclamation Wednesday praising the engineering profession and setting aside Feb. 21-27 as Engineers' Week in College Station.

The name of the "Engineer of the Year" will be announced in The Battalion next Thursday.

HERMAN B. SEGREST
Conference Leader

PE Instructor To Lead Section Of Conference

An A&M professor will lead a section of a conference next week with 600 members representing 13 states.

Herman B. Segrest, associate professor of physical education, will be the summarizer for the men's athletic section at the Southern District convention of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. This convention annually brings together leaders and workers in the fields of health, physical education and recreation. The purpose of the convention is "to improve educational processes through an exchange of ideas and experiences." Segrest has been at A&M for nine years, and has been a member of his profession for the past 17 years. He did his undergraduate work at North Texas State and his graduate work there, at A&M and Texas university.

Radio Series Begins Sunday on 24 Stations

"A Report From the Dean," dramatized stories of typical college students and their problems, will be launched Sunday, February 21, over more than 24 radio stations around the state. The weekly programs will be broadcast for 13 consecutive weeks. It is the third successive spring that stations of the Texas State network have carried a radio series originating here. This year outlets of the Cactus network have joined in presenting the programs as a public service feature. Written, directed and produced by Harry L. Kidd, jr. of the English department, the shows have a cast of 15 persons, including students, student wives, staff and faculty members of the college, and staff members of radio station WTAW. Bob Hollenbaugh, student announcer on the WTAW staff, plays the part of the dean in the dramatizations. "A Report From the Dean" takes a fictionalized case-history approach to problems faced by college students. Stations in the following cities will carry the broad casts: Waco, Longview, Fort Worth, Texarkana, Austin, Tyler, Abilene, Brownwood, San Angelo, Greenville, Paris, Sherman, Dallas, Big

Practice Teaching Starts for 62

Sixty-two senior agricultural education majors from A&M will be practicing teaching in 31 Texas high schools from March 1-12. Schools in all parts of Texas will be hosts to these student teachers with the exception of the Panhandle, Far West and Valley regions. "These student teachers must have student classification in order to qualify for this two week practice teaching period," said Dr. M. N. Abrams of the agricultural education department.

April 1 Deadline Set for Theses

The final date for submitting theses and dissertations to the Graduate School will be April 1, said Ide P. Trotter, dean of the Graduate School. The papers must be approved by the student's committee. They will be read by the appointed faculty readers during the spring recess. The final examination must be before May 7, to allow proper clearance for graduation. March 1 is the deadline for making applications for a degree to be granted in May.

BSU Nominations Not Definite Yet

No definite conclusions have been made as to the nominations of students for the Baptist Student Union council committee, said Cliff Harris, BSU director. Harris is serving as advisor for the nominating committee. President Dave Mitchell will act as chairman. Other members of the nominating committee are Paul Roper, business major from Dallas who is now program director, and Jim Trimple, petroleum engineering major from Texarkana. He is promotional director of the council. Two previous meetings have narrowed the prospects down. Interviews have started on those remaining. Announcements of the choices may be made next week, Harris said.
