Leissner Named Baseball Captain

Charles Leissner, senior second baseman from Austin, has been elected captain of the Texas Aggie baseball team for the coming season.

Leissner, a two-year letterman, was a unanimous choice of his teammates as the team prepares for the opening series March 8-9 with Sam Houston. The Bearcats will host A&M at Huntsville the 8th and the two teams will move to College Station for the March 9 game.

The Cadets are in their second week of workouts and it's been the fine showing of sophomores to date that has most pleased Coach Beau Bell.

Top sophs are Behr Hubbard of Cuero, outfielder; Jimmy Howell of Stephenville, firstbase and John Stockton of Bryan, outfield. Unless the veterans improve on their hitting, these rookies will be in the starting lineup.

Showing early season form among the vets are Shortstop Jim Dishman, Beaumont shortstop; Leissner, secondbase; Les Byrd, junior outfielder from Winters and the fine pitching staff led by Jerry Nelson, all-Southwest conference righthander from Beaumont. Other veteran hurlers and southpaw Joe Hardgrove of Fort Worth, Ed Hennig of Tyler and Lou Little of Schulenburg.

Jimmy Williams of San Antonio and Jerry Robmet of El Paso are sharing the catching duties with Jim Parrish of Ballinger and Joe Schero of San Antonio battling at thirdbase. Schero will be with the spring football forces until March 29.

Sophs Give Best Hopes

Texas A&M's ranking in the coming track season will depend upon the showing of the fine sophomore prospects.

Col. Frank Anderson, veteran Aggie coach, although pleased with the showing of his yearlings in a recent exhibition meet with a Mexican team, still figures the Aggies to battle Rice for second place in the Southwest conference. Col. Andy, now in his 34th year at A&M, rates Texas a prohibitive favorite to unseat A&M after the Cadets dominated six of the past seven loop meets.

Five sophomores showed promise as the Aggies smothered Mexico, 85-55, recently. These sophs are expected to bolster the work of experienced hands such as Jim Blaine, senior distance ace from Imperial; Dale DeRouen, miler from Port Arthur and Bobby Gross, shot put and discus man from Big Springs.

First-year men are Tom Bonorden, husky shot putter from Port Lavaca; Billy Tutor, vaulter from Temple; Jim Hollingsworth, Port Arthur hurdler; Tom Strait, broad jumper from Terrahave, La., and Terry Vettors, San Antonio 440-dash runner. Bonorden heaved the shot 48-10 1/2, Strait won the broad jump at 22-3 1/2, Hollingsworth won the high hurdles in :15.1. Vettors ran a good 440 behind Carol Libby of Alvin while Tutor vaulted 12 feet.

A&M opens the season March 6 at Houston against the Cougars and Texas. Col. Andy has a varsity team composed 100-percent of men who did not come to A&M on scholarship. They all earned their scholarships after winning points in varsity meets.

Baylor Beats Aggies, 79-65

WACO, March 1—(AP) — Baylor outscored Texas A&M 79-65 last night in both teams' final South-west Conference basketball game.

James Addison of the Cadets poured in 28 points including 10 field goals, but his mates couldn't match the scoring of the Bruins' Don Dickson, Tommy Strasburger and Murray Bailey, who scored 17, 15 and 9.

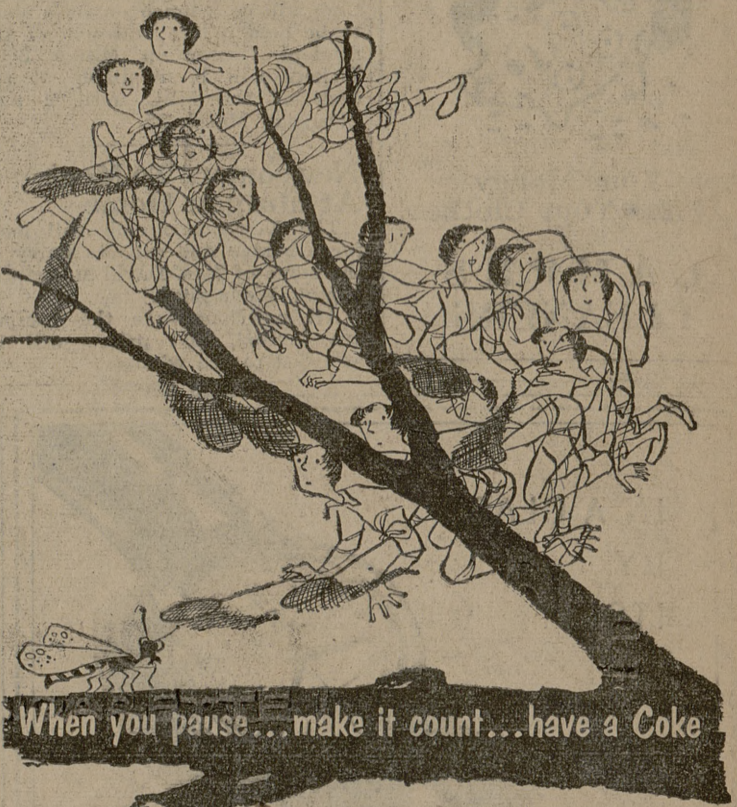

The Aggies fought the Bears on even terms in the first quarter, which ended with Baylor in front 13-11. Addison tied it up at 13-13 early in the second quarter, then Dickson, Jerry Jordan and Murray Bailey shot the Bears into a 33-23 half-time lead. The Cadets cut it to 48-41 at the end of the third quarter, but Baylor turned on the steam in the final 10 minutes to win its 13th victory of the campaign and its sixth in conference play.
