AGGIE PILOTS—This is the A&M coaching staff for the 1954 season. They are (l to r), front row, Tom Tipps, Jerry Claiborne, Head Coach and Athletic Director Paul

Aggie Ex-Enemy Now Football Coach

A man who played a major role in three A&M defeats is now one of the Aggies new assistant football coaches.

Jim Owens, former Oklahoma great, comes to A&M after three years at Kentucky. He joins Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant's staff as line and end coach.

When asked about his first contact with A&M, Owens smiled and answered, "Well, I guess my first contact came when we played the Aggies in football, and I still remember that very well."

Owens was one of the nation's outstanding ends during his college days of 1947-49. In 1947 the Sooners outscored the Aggies 26-14, at College Station. At Norman, Okla. the following year the Sooners again won, 42-14. In 1949, his final year at Oklahoma, Owens and his mates downed A&M for the third successive year, 33-13.

"The spirit at A&M is the greatest anywhere," said the big-Oklahoman, "I'd heard about it before, I guess everyone has, but I was still impressed by it."

Owens' record, reads like a fiction story. In his senior year at Classen High (Oklahoma City, Okla.) he helped the team win the state championship, and was awarded all-state honors. During his varsity years at Oklahoma, the Sooners captured the conference title three straight times. In 1947 they shared the title with Kansas. He was named all-American, which is quite a feat considering the other outstanding players Oklahoma had at that time. Owens played ed in the all-star game and three Bowl games.

The 6-4, 220 lb. Owens was co-captain of the 1949 Sugar Bowl team which humbled North Carolina 14-6. He also shared in the Sooners 35-0 massacre of L. S. U. in the 1950 New Orleans classic. He set a record of 12 passes caught in the 1950 Senior Bowl game that still stands. Owens ended his brilliant college career in the 1950 all-star game.

Owens was a member of Oklahoma teams that didn't feel defeat in 21 straight games in 1948-49. He stood out among such all-Americans as Buddy Burris, Stan West, Wade Walker, Jack Mitchell and Leon Heath.

The unbeaten Oklahoma eleven of 1949 is Owens choice as the best team he's played with. This power house ran over L. S. U. in the '50 Sugar Bowl, and racked up 364 points to 88 over the season.

After graduation, Owens played professional ball with the Baltimore Colts. He began his coaching career in 1950 as end coach at Johns Hopkins University, at Baltimore, Md. His first association with Paul (Bear) Bryant, A&M's new coach, came in 1951 at Kentucky.
