Policemen Can't Trust Anybody

ROSELE PARK, N. J., March 26—(AP)—Patrolman Robert Pudanish was frisking a man arrested on a drunk and disorderly charge last night.

Pudanish stuck his hand in the man's coat pocket—and was stung by a wasp.

BURGLARY IS SO-O-O TIRING

ATLANTA (AP)—Reconstructed from the evidence, here's what happened:

A burglar broke into a chemical company's office, armed with burglary tools and some whisky. He took a drink or two then ransacked some drawers with no results.

Another nip and he broke open a metal box. No money.

Whisky low, he built a fire from trash. Then he went into an adjoining office, built another fire, tried unsuccessfully to open a safe, finished his whisky and went to sleep.

An early-arriving employe found him asleep beside the dead fire

Filings Still Open For Class Elections

Filings for class elections will close Tuesday at 5 p.m. As yet, no one has filed for co-editor of the Aggicland or class agent for the class of '54. Several sophomore class officers still lack applicants.

Persons interested in filing for these, and any other class offices, may file at the student activities office on the second floor of Goodwin hall.

Additional filings listed today were as follows:

Senior class president, Conrad Cummings; vice president, John Benefield, Roy Cline, Theo Lindig, Lolan Pullen; treasurer, John (Cookie) Brannen, James Caffey, Allen Ezel, Thurman Johnson, Dick McCasland, Thomas McDade; secretary, James Gaffney; social secretary, Chuck Newman; parliamentarian, John Shelton; sergeant-at-arms, Thomas Durdin, John Saunders; yell-leader, Bobby Carpenter.

Filings for junior class officers are as follows: president, Robert Barlow, Frank Westmoreland; vice-president, Glenn Buell, John Liddy, Hughes McCrary, Bill (Red) Swann; treasurer, Larry B. Kennedy; parliamentarian, J. M.

Air Force Academy Given Senate O.K.

WASHINGTON, March 26—(AP) The Senate today approved and sent to the House a compromise bill to establish an air force academy similar to the army's West Point and navy's Annapolis.

Approval was by voice vote and without opposition.

More than 400 communities, including Bryan, are in the wide-open race for selection as the home of the new academy for air force officers.

President Eisenhower has declared his approval of the academy proposal.

Both the House and Senate previously had approved the bill by wide margins and tonight's action was on a compromise of the different versions. Early House approval appeared likely.

A CAMPUS-TO-CAREER CASE HISTORY

"I didn't know there was such a job"

EMMETT SMITH, E. E., '50, never heard of telephone traffic work, but what he saw of the job intrigued him. He explains how it worked out. (Reading time: 40 seconds)

Emmett Smith supervises operation of this training switchboard, which he originally helped to design.

"Communications have always been one of my main interests—in the Navy and at the University of Michigan. So I was very happy when the Michigan Bell Telephone Company invited me to visit their headquarters to talk about a job.

"In Detroit I had a chance to look at a number of departments, including one I'd never heard of before, the Traffic Department. I found that, in addition to the engineering of switchboards, its work involved the supervision and the actual handling of customer calls. It struck me like a wonderful opportunity to combine staff engineering and field management.

"My first impression was right, too, because my work covered both. First, I had on-the-job training assignments in several different kinds of offices—local, Long Distance, dial and manual. Then I worked in engineering, translating estimates of future growth into the actual number of circuits and switchboard positions required.

"Now I'm supervising the operation of one of the boards I helped engineer. Briefly, my job is to see that my district gets the kind of equipment it needs and that what we have is functioning properly. Working with people is another major part of my job, too, because I serve in an advisory capacity to the supervisors of the Long Distance operators.

"Needless to say, I'm happy with my job. A job I didn't even know existed."

Emmett Smith's job is with a Bell Telephone Company. There are similar opportunities for college people with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation.
