The Aggies will be up against some "good pitching" when they open a two-game series with SMU in Dallas tomorrow.

Aggie baseball coach Beau Bell said Wednesday, "SMU has some good pitching but it is too early to tell about their hitting."

To the "added desire and hustle" of his players.

When asked how he thought the Southwest Conference teams would stack up this season Bell replied, "Texas has a good team year in and year out and this year is no exception."

Bell failed to comment on how

SMU split a two-game series with TCU earlier in the season.
