By Mrs. Carl Lyman

(Ed. note—Guest editor for this week's column is Louise Lyman, wife of Dr. Carl Lyman, head of the biochemistry and nutrition department. A native of Colorado, attended Colorado A&M and Oregon state college where she majored in home economics. Even now the Lyman's first and foremost hobby is interior decorating. Mrs. Lyman is president of the Campus Study club and a member of the College Women's Social club. They are members of the First Christian church in Bryan.)

I think the way in which a dish is served is as important as the way it is cooked. I like a cake on a cake stand. The prettiest birthday cake I ever had was a surprise one that a friend brought to me on a old-fashioned tall cake dish. I put it in the center of the table.

I like to serve cole slaw in a clear crystal dish. I have a lovely cut glass bowl that belonged to my grandmother that I use. I put tiny bits of pimento and green pepper on top for color.

I think men like lots of good hot coffee, made in a fresh clean pot and they like it strong and served in cups that are substantial looking. They like to see a table loaded with food and to forget the calories. I make my deep dish apple pie in a yellow and brown casserole.

Dutch Cookies

For the bridge club. These are three layers.

- 1 cup flour ½ cup butter cut into above.
2 tablespoons sugar

Mix and spread thin on greased pan. Bake until light brown in 350 degree oven.

- 1 cup brown sugar ½ teaspoon baking powder
2 eggs (beaten until light) 1 cup coconut
2 tablespoons flour 1 cup chopped walnuts

Mix and spread on first mixture. Bake until light brown. Turn from oven and pour the following on while the cookies are hot.

- 1 cup powdered sugar juice of 1 lemon
2 tablespoons melted butter mixed together

These can be cut in bars. Very rich and worth the trouble.

Lemon Butter Filling

A filling for a fresh coconut cake instead of icing between layers.

- 1 cup sugar 3 eggs beaten until light
Juice and grated rind of 1 large lemon

Stir and boil in a double boiler until it thickens. Add a lump of butter about size of walnut.

Sour Cream Boiled Salad Dressing

For that salad you carry to the next dinner.

- 4 egg yolks or 3 whole eggs ½ teaspoon dry mustard (dissolved in 1 tablespoon of boiling water)
1 cup sugar ½ cup sour cream
1 teaspoon salt 1 cup vinegar
2 tablespoons flour

Beat eggs until lemon colored, add sugar and continue beating, add mustard, and salt. Mix flour and sour cream together and add to egg mixture. Heat vinegar to boiling then add above mixture to vinegar and cook until thick. Remove and beat very hard.

Delicious served on cole slaw salad. Cabbage salad tastes better when very finely chopped.

Deep-Dish Apple Pie

This is for the men.

- 1 cup brown sugar ½ cup flour
1 cup water ½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoon vinegar 1 tablespoon butter
6 cups pared, cored green cooking apples (cut into eighths) 1 teaspoon cinnamon

Heat one half cup of brown sugar with the water and vinegar until sugar is dissolved. Add apples and simmer slowly until just tender. Lift out apple slices and put into a baking dish 10 by 6 by 2 inches. Combine remaining sugar, cinnamon, flour and salt and stir into syrup from apples. Heat, stir constantly until smooth and thick. Add butter last. Pour over apples.

Cover with pastry crust. Put several slits for steam to escape. Fit crust on top of apples tightly at edges. Bake 25 minutes at 425 degrees. Serve warm with ice cream.

WIVES ELECT — Joan Walden (center) was elected president of the Architects Wives society. Other officers are (standing l. to r.) Jackie Steinbring, program chairman; Kathryn Scott, secretary-treasurer; Beverly Jenkins, social chairman; and Winnie West, vice president.

Architects Wives Elect Joan Walden President

The committee compiling the dictionary of architectural terms reported.

After the meeting the hostesses, Bobbie Sholar and Mary Lou Lassen, served refreshments.
