

Ike Says Administration Is Beating Communists

WASHINGTON, June 3—(AP)—President Eisenhower, asserting the supremacy of the executive branch in fighting communism, said yesterday the administration has rolled up an impressive record in that field—“quietly and unrelentingly” and “under due process of law.”

Barring questions about Sen. McCarthy, Eisenhower issued at a crowded news conference a 16-month record of the blows executive agencies have aimed at communism. These included convictions and indictments of Red leaders, deportations, and expansion of the list of subversive organizations.

The President reaffirmed his backing of Atty. Gen. Brownell's statement of last week which ac-used McCarthy of trying to “set himself above the laws of our land” in inviting secret data from government workers.

But Eisenhower ruled out news-men's questions about the conflict between the administration and McCarthy. He asserted he has said his last word on that subject, unless something happens that makes him hink he has to say something more.

Henceforth, he said, he will have just one aim and idea: To win enactment of the administration's legislative program, which he has called progressive and “dynamic” but parts of which have hit snags in Congress.

When a newsman came back with the question whether McCarthy was “hurting” the program, a look of annoyance overspread the President's face and he snapped: Next question.

Otherwise Eisenhower spoke readily on a variety of issues, saying that he:

1. Has reached no decision on such proposals as a request to Congress for a resolution authorizing direct American intervention in Southeast Asia, menaced by Communist aggression.

2. Would reserve comment on the 2-1 recommendation of a security board that atomic scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer be denied access to atomic secrets. The President again mentioned his great admiration for Oppenheimer's achievements, but said the White House should not intervene until the quasi-judicial process is complete. The Atomic Energy Commission has yet to make its decision on the case.

3. Positively will not compromise the principles of his flexible farm price support program, despite some reports from Capitol Hill that a compromise appears inevitable. Eisenhower said, however, that he does not consider all details of his program sacrosanct.

STILL GOOD—Dick Justiss says that time has brought about many changes, but there is still a place for the old country store and business is good. Here the 87-year-old Justiss, who operates a country store at Howland, hoists a 100-pound sack of flour onto a customer's wagon.

Duval Investigation May Cover Attorneys

SAN DIEGO, Texas—(AP)—The Duval County grand jury Wednesday said its investigation of handling of county and school district funds will “likely as a matter of course” include the district and county attorneys, and the conduct of their offices.

This is one of the reasons, the jury said in a report, it did not desire the services or the presence in the grand jury room of either the district attorney or the Duval County attorney.

The jury said it would call on these two officers from time to time on other matters involving law violations and set Monday, June 7, at 9:30 AM for the two officers to appear before it.

The district attorney is Raeburn Norris, who is aligned with George Parr, disputed political leader of the area. Parr supporters had opposed bitterly the empaneling of the new grand jury, which met for the first time Tuesday.

The county attorney is R. F. Luna. State Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and three of his assistants met with the jury Wednesday. Shepperd was with it for 20 minutes Tuesday.

Negroes Refused By College

TEXARKANA, Texas—(AP)—The dean of Texarkana College Wednesday refused to admit a group of Negroes as students.

Dean W. P. Akin said he was following instructions from State Education Commissioner, J. W. Edgar in planning the 1954-55 school year on the basis of continued segregation.

About a dozen Negroes sought admission to the tax-supported junior college. They were accompanied by John J. Jones, Negro undertaker and political leader.

Jones told a reporter afterward that the Negroes had no plans now to make any more attempts to enter the school.

Their application was the first attempt by Negroes to enter a white school here since the United States Supreme Court ruled that segregation must cease.

The court has not yet decided when and how to enforce its decree.

Akin told the group Texarkana College is part of the Texas public school system. He said Edgar has instructed all Texas school districts to plan the next year as a segregated one.

WANTED: LEAN HOGS
CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—(AP)—The porker that will lift the mortgage in the future will have plenty of lean meat under his hide says R. L. Coppersmith, University of Illinois farm marketing specialist. The demand is strictly for red meat without fat, he said.

The school's College of Agriculture is taking the lead in promoting the hog most in demand. Working with the Departments of Agriculture and Animal Science, Coppersmith has organized marketing conferences at the stockyards for packer buyers, order buyers and commission salesmen. Country-wide meetings will be held for farmers to encourage production of meat-type hogs.

“It is a matter of selection within a breed,” says Coppersmith.

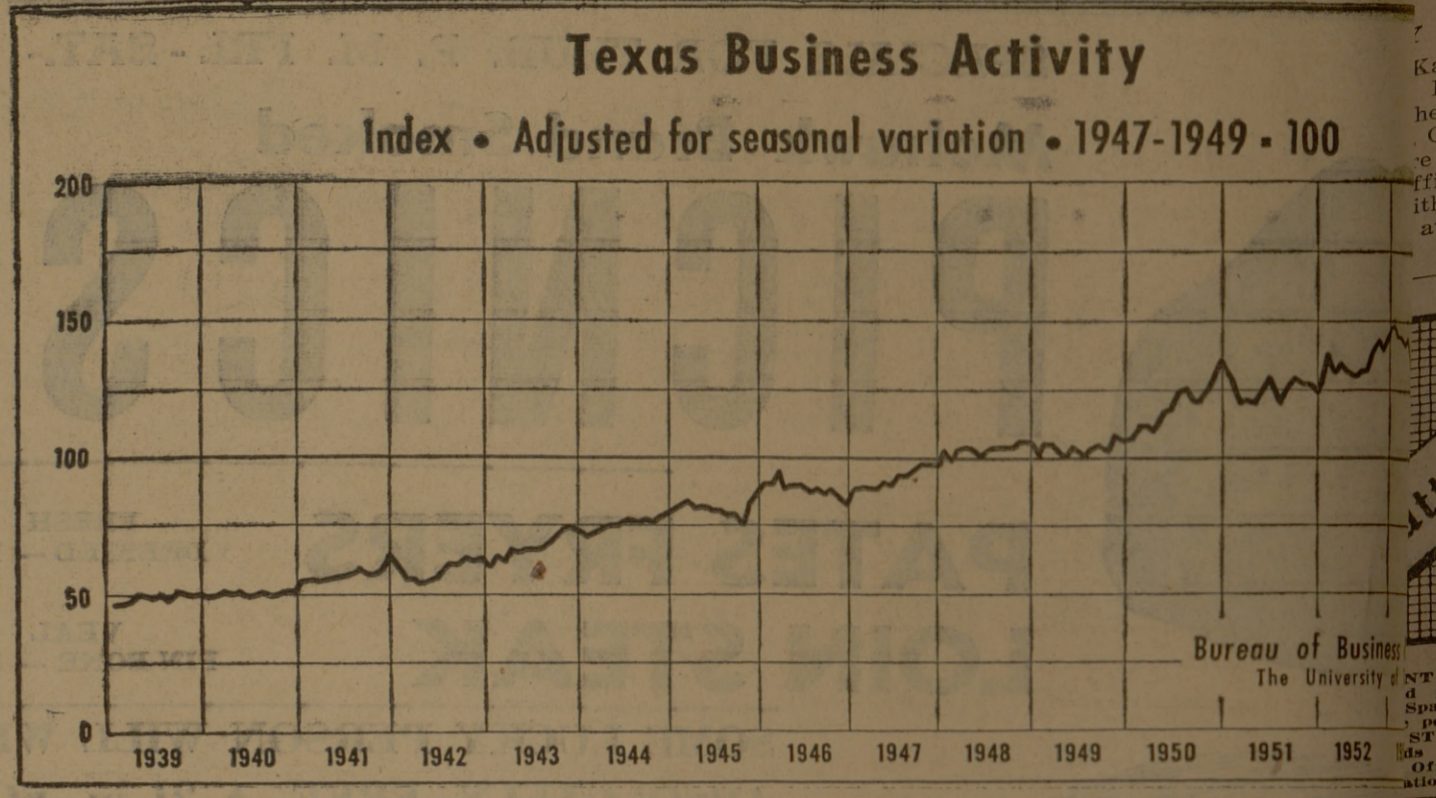

Stranger Makes A Big Hit

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Joe Carolan of Detroit paid his way into the ball park at Columbus, Ga., to watch the Sally League Red Birds play. The 21-year-old sought the business manager and asked for a try-out with the club.

Carolan got his tryout under the eye of manager George Kissell who watched the kid run, throw and hit. When the 6 feet 4 youngster slammed three balls out of the park, Kissell recommended a contract.

This night Carolan made his professional debut. His first appearance came in the second inning with the bases loaded. He smacked a grand slam homer. But the Birds lost in the 20th inning, 5-4.

The Red Birds are a farm team of the St. Louis Cardinals.

TEXAS BUSINESS—Business activity in Texas rose a full 2 per cent over the level for March as measured by the above index. This brings the index to 142, only one point below the April, 1953, figure. It all seems to indicate that the decline in business, underway since the spring of 1953, is approaching an end. Dr. John R. Stockton, director of Texas Bureau of Business Research, who prepared the index and its compilation.

US Returns Indochina Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has started to withdraw some 200 Air Force technicians rushed to Indochina to help maintain French warplanes nearly three months ago.

The Defense Department, however, is reported considering allowing some American servicemen to volunteer to assist French ground crews in servicing planes blasted gaway at Communist-led rebel forces near Hanoi.

The withdrawal, they emphasized this today said the evacuation of American Air Force personnel in no way should be regarded as a lessening of American interest in the future of Red-threatened Indochina.

Plane Flies Straight Up

MOFFETT FIELD, Calif.—(AP)—An airplane took off vertically from the floor of a huge dirigible hangar and flew straight up Wednesday in the first public demonstration of a strange new aircraft fostered by the Navy.

The others have been made privately. The great hangar, which used to house Navy dirigibles, was chosen for the historic showing because of its enormous size, which gave the plane enough room to maneuver as well as facilities for anchoring safety leashes.

freed from its leashes until horizontal takeoff and level flight are achieved. Many of the plane's specifications are secret. Its rated speed is 500 MPH. It has two 16-foot propellers which revolve in opposite directions. The counter-rotation prevents the plane from spinning. It has no landing gear; only castor-like wheels at the rear of its wing-tips and rudder assembly. Its normal position aground is nose-up.

With a veteran test pilot at the controls and lying on his back, the powerful craft swayed and maneuvered in the canyon-like building for about 12 minutes.

The XFV-1 was designed for vertical takeoff and horizontal flying. Thus far it has not been put into horizontal position during flight. Gradually it will be
