

League All-Star Team In Friday Gathering

OLIAN Sports Writer
The Little League All-Star team will meet Friday night at the Little League stadium.

The all-star team, in alphabetical order, is as follows: Bobby Adams, Orioles; Tommy Bramble, Red Sox; Dennis Floyd, Senators; Jack George, Orioles; Larry Godfrey, Red Sox; Mark Luther, White Sox; Tommy Ledbetter, White Sox; Billy Mac Miller, Orioles; Joel Mills, White Sox; Joe Olian, Senators; Condy Pugh, White Sox; Donald Thomas, Orioles; Russell Welch, Red Sox; and Johnny Williams, Senators. The alternate is Freddy Wright of the Red Sox.

Of the 12-year-olds, Bramble is the only one hitting higher than .400, but Thomas and Godfrey are slugging better than .300. Mills, Miller, and Floyd are hitting in the .200's.

Luther is the lone 11-year-old sailing along at a faster than .400 pace. However, Wright and Pugh are belting the ball for a better-than-.300 average, while George, Ledbetter, and Adams are hitting .200 or higher.

In the 10-year-old group, Olian is batting in the .300's and Williams and Welch have marks in the .200's.

These 15 boys will represent College Station in the district Little League tournament. It has not yet been decided which teams will be in this tourney, or where it will be held.

Little League tournaments following the district meet are area, regional, and national. One loss, however, eliminates a team from further competition.

New Records Set In Swim Meet Held Here Over Weekend

By MRS. ALBERT STEVENS

At the close of the three-day College Station Invitational Swimming meet Sunday night an impressive list of new meet records was found on the books.

At Saturday's intermediate division, and again last night when the senior division was run off, competition was the greatest ever, and most exciting races were enjoyed by the large crowds on hand to view the meets. With over 200 entries in the junior division on Friday, 250 entries in the intermediate division Saturday, and over 100 entries in the senior division Sunday night, the Sixth Annual Invitational retained its position as one of the big favorites in competitive Texas summertime aquatics.

Jose Merino, swimming with the local club, starred in the meet with three wins in the Senior division in men's 100 yd. freestyle, the 220 yd. freestyle, and the 440 yd. freestyle.

Other outstanding performances turned in by College Station swimmers were Albert Stevens' win in the 200 yd. breaststroke, 2nd place in the 200 yd. individual medley, 2nd place in the men's 300 yd. individual medley. John Harrington took 2nd place in the intermediate division 100 yd. backstroke, 3rd place in the 200 yd. individual medley, and 3rd place in the men's 300 yd. individual medley.

Kay Parnell took 2nd in the women's 100 yd. freestyle. Gail Schlesselman of College Station won both the butterfly breaststroke, setting a new meet record, and the standard breaststroke. She also swam on the College Station club's medley relay team that placed 2nd.

Five new records were set in the junior division meet on Friday, six new records in the intermediate division Saturday night, and nine new records in the senior division on Sunday night.

Austin Aquatic club won the Junior division trophy, Cork Club the Intermediate division trophy, and San Antonio the Senior division trophy. San Antonio scored the most points in the three-day meet to win the overall team trophy.

Results of places won by local boys and girls follow:

All games began at 5:45 on Tuesdays and Thursdays on scheduled fields.

Any resident of College Station or anyone connected with the college can play if he desires.

Any new residents who wish to play should contact A. E. Denton at 4-1218 or 4-4674.

Weston Wins High Bowling Score Wednesday Night

F. E. Weston of Field Maintenance Squadron bowled a 211 for high individual game at last Wednesday's meeting of the All-Star League at the Memorial Student Center Bowling Alleys.

Weston also received high series honors for his 576.

The second week of the final half of the league's summer session ended with Faulk Auto Supply in the league lead. During the night's session, Field Maint. Sqdn. won four points from Student Co-Op, Faulk Auto Supply won four points from Ottea Dusting Co. and Conway & Co. split a four point series with Bryan Air Force Base Jets. This resulted in a three way tie for second place between Conway & Co., Field Maint. Sqdn. and BAFB Jets.

Over 100 Cotton Men Attend Week-Long Short Course

Over 100 cottonseed oil mill operators from Texas and a dozen other southern states attended the 22nd annual short course this week conducted by the Institute of Oilseed Technology at Texas A&M College.

They heard reports on the latest developments in the technique of seed and lint cleaning, expeller and screw press operations, plant safety and foreman training. Dr. J. D. Lindsay, head of the chemical engineering department of the college, presided as chairman.

The oil millers also heard Dr. David H. Morgan, president of the college, outline in his welcome address the role A&M plays in the fields of education, research and military training. He said the school is proud to play host to many such meetings each year, which altogether attract about 6,000 visitors to the campus.

One of them, Charles W. Rankin of Brenham, has missed only one of the annual meetings; last year he was in a hospital.

Speakers who discussed seed cleaning were Charles Hay, Lubbock; V. E. Allison, Loving; N. M. J. P. Reed, Harlingen; T. S. Pryor, Corpus Christi; Mike Dimpfl, Chickasha, Okla.; W. C. Cantrell, Fort Worth, and W. F. Phillips, Houston.

A. Cecil Wamble, head of the Cottonseed Products Research laboratory at A&M, made a progress report on cleaning of cottonseed. Another speaker on this topic was Leo Holzenthal, Southern Regional Research laboratory at New Orleans.

Those making talks at the session on lint cleaning were L. U. Cole and L. B. Temple, Fort Worth; H. T. Beard, Dallas; Dick Taylor, Waxahachie; and M. E. Harbour, Harlingen.

On the panel discussing press operations were O. J. Jones, Lubbock; Bill Rogers, Quanah; H. B. Glazner, Swift and Company, Chicago; Charles Sissons, Jackson, Miss.; Pryor and Dimpfl.

L. K. Jonas, chief of supervisor training for the Texas Engineering Extension Service, addressed the assembly on foreman training. F. L. Brooks, Dallas insurance executive, spoke on safety in oil mills.

A round table discussion on plant safety was directed by E. B. Free of Abilene and Brooks.

Others with Dr. Lindsay on the program committee were M. C. Verdery, Houston; C. W. Rankin, Brenham; and H. D. Reeves of Sweetwater, all of the National Oil Mill Superintendents' Association. Representing the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' Association on the governing panel are H. E. Wilson, Wharton; C. C. Harlan, Paris; and J. W. Howell, Bryan.
