Investigators Get Evidence On 3 Of 5 McCarthy Charges

Biggest in History

County Adopts New Budget

The county commissioners adopted Brazos county's biggest budget in history Tuesday, but even at that $3,700 had to be added before it was passed.

The proposed budget was $1,290,100, submitted by County Judge A. S. Ware in July. The complete budget is now $1,293,800.

Marjorie Burkhalter was appointed to fill the unexpired term of her late husband, Norton Burkhalter, as tax assessor-collector. She reopened the tax office at 10 a.m. Tuesday. The term will expire Dec. 31, 1955.

In the new budget, the estimated amount of spending is balanced by the estimated amount of money coming in.

It provides $885,000 for construction and other expenses on the new county courthouse and jail. This was the highest single figure in the budget.

Taxes Lowered

The tax levy was not raised; it will remain at 80 cents. All-over county and state taxes will be reduced 30 cents, from $1.52 to $1.22.

The reduction was made possible because the farm-to-market road tax will not be levied by the state this year.

Ware said that the farm-to-market road tax could be levied by the county, if approved by an election, but he said he did not see "any immediate need for it."

The operating precinct budget, the largest single fund, next to the courthouse fund, will be $120,000. This is the same as last year.

Assistant hired A plan for hiring an assistant county attorney for $3,000 a year was the biggest change in this year's budget.

County Attorney-elect John Barron proposed the change, on the grounds that Brazos county's county attorney is also the district attorney, and "the needs of the county are growing so large that one man cannot handle it all."

Davis Grant, the present county attorney, agreed with Barron.

Juvenile Court Planned

Barron said that he and District Judge-elect W. T. McDonald plan to start a juvenile and domestic relations court every Monday after they assume office Jan. 1.

He said that the 300 misdemeanors and 70 to 80 felonies a year make it "necessary to have legal assistance," in these cases.

He said he believed that the arrangement would pay for itself by the second year in increased fines and fees.

Barron said Bryan air force base personnel had increased the number of juvenile cases in the county, and "it is getting to be a problem to handle 15 to 20 cases in one day."

"The juvenile problem is getting to be serious," he said.

A new item on the budget was $180 for expenses to send tubercular patients to Sanatoria. Clothing and transportation are included in the sum.

The commissioners also decided to take action Jan. 1 to fix a salary for the newly-created justice of the peace position in precinct 4.

Moving With 'Unheard Of' Speed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senate investigators completed taking evidence on three of the five censure charges against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., Wednesday, moving with a speed and orderliness previously unheard of in a proceeding of this kind.

With McCarthy away from the hearing room most of the time—and sitting silent when he did attend the sessions—the six-member select committee moved to consider evidence on the remaining two charges Thursday. All indications pointed to a speedy windup of the 48-hour-old inquiry.

The committee called two witnesses, both newspapermen, and otherwise confined itself to reading documents of public record, in taking evidence on charges that:

1) McCarthy committed contempt of the Senate in failing to testify before a 1952 subcommittee which investigated his financial and other affairs. McCarthy's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, argued that this count should be thrown out on the ground that the '52 committee was improperly set up and went beyond its authority. Chairman Arthur Watkins, R-Utah, refused, however, to strike out the contempt charge at this time.

2) McCarthy "vulgar, base language." The committee subpoenaed two Associated Press reporters who testified the senator did make remarks attributed to him about Sens. Ralph Flanders, R-Vt., and Hendrickson, R-N.J. McCarthy's lawyer indicated he would argue that the lawmakers attacked by McCarthy had said just as sharp things about the Wisconsin senator.

3) McCarthy "impugned the loyalty, patriotism and character" of Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker.

Two pieces of evidence were submitted on this point. One was the transcript of a hearing at which McCarthy told the general he was unfit to command. The other was Zwicker's service record, showing decorations for combat heroism in World War II.

This left for the committee only two other groups of charges which it has winnowed from some 40 allegations submitted by Flanders, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., and Sen. Wayne Morse, Ind-Ore., in seeking a Senate vote of censure against McCarthy.

One remaining charge is based on McCarthy's call, during the hearings on his row with Army officials, for government employees to give him evidence of subversion or other wrongdoing even if they disregard security regulations in doing so.

Dad's Day will honor the fathers of players on the Aggie squad. The dads will be invited to sit on the bench and each dad will wear a number corresponding with the jersey of his son.

The former students of A&M who graduated with the classes of 1929, 1934, 1939 and 1944 will be honored at the TCU game. These classes will sit together.

Inspection Begins September 15 for Cars

Texas motorists must get their car inspected between Sept. 15th, 1954, and April 15th, 1955.

Homer Garrison, jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said that the Public Safety commission has officially set the dates for the new inspection period for autos under the provision of the State's Motor Vehicle Inspection act.

At the same time George Busby, Chief of the DPS Motor Vehicle Inspection division, said that the inspectors from his office have filed 106 cases against car owners who failed to have their cars checked during the current inspection period.

These, he said, are in addition to those cases filed by members of the Texas Highway Patrol and by various local police departments throughout the state.

Unable to give an estimation of the actual number of violations for which arrests have been made during the 1953-'54 period, Busby said that he "believes" the figure to be comparatively low "because frequent spot checks indicate that Texans have conformed with the law "almost 100 percent."
