Battalion Policy Unchanged

Published in The Battalion below is a statement representative of the views of the present appointees to the newly created and still incomplete Student Publications Board. Particularly pleasing is the statement that the SPB subscribes to President David H. Morgan's statement that The Battalion and the other student publications "have freedom of the press, accompanied by the responsibilities that such freedom entails."

The Battalion editors plan to continue the policy of being guided by the truth, with all sides of each news story presented as accurately and as fairly as possible. All the news the editors consider fit to print will be printed, without yielding to any "pressure groups" or without representing them.

Editorials will be the opinions of the student editors and may or may not concur with the opinions of the student body, the administration or any other group. Those who agree or disagree with Battalion news items or editorials are invited to express their views in the Letters to the Editor column.

Publications

The present board is the result of five months work, starting last March when The Battalion staff resigned.

The committee they resigned in protest of was not put into effect, and a committee of the Academic Council was assigned to study the entire student publications organization.

This committee's report was accepted by the Academic Council, and is essentially the same as the present board organization.

Student publications is no longer a part of the student activities organization, and this board will serve as the "publisher" of The Battalion, according to Elmqvist.

Hundreds Attend White Coliseum Dedication

The G. Rollie White coliseum was dedicated Saturday in ceremonies attended by several hundred persons.

Dr. M. T. Harrington, chancellor, presided. Speakers were Tyree L. Bell, chairman of the building committee and A. E. Cudlipp, a member of the present board.

A bronze plaque was unveiled, dedicating the coliseum to the present chairman of the board of directors, G. Rollie White of Brady. He received his degree in civil engineering from A&M in 1895 and later went into the cattle business. He has been a member of the college governing board for 29 years and chairman the past 10 years.

The G. Rollie White coliseum has a total floor space of 154,000 square feet on its three floors and includes facilities for practically all indoor sports. Cost of the original building ran over $1,500,000.

The use of folding bleachers and chairs on the floor provide a total of 8,500 seats for staged events such as graduation exercises, entertainments and ceremonies. Maximum seating capacity for sports events is 7,247.

An addition now under construction, scheduled for completion in 1955, will extend the coliseum 80 feet to the south for its full width.
